MUD OF FLANDERS STOPS THE BRITISH AND NOT GERMANS

Weather Forces General Haig to Cease Operation Friday Before Achieving All Objectives.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS AT NUMEROUS POINTS

But Heavy Rain Falls, Turning Region Into Quagmire, and Fighting Ceases—The British Captured About 600 Prisoners.

New York, October 12.—(By Associated Press, From European Cables of the Day.)—For the first time since he started his series of attacks against the German positions in Flanders, Field Marshal Haig had to cease operation before all the objectives were obtained. It was not the German guns, however, that stopped the British. It was a more than usually heavy rainfall, which started during the battle and turned the already swampy region over which the men were supposed to pass into a terrible quagmire, from which they could not extricate themselves for a forward move.

The drive, as has been customary in Haig's strategy, was started in the early hours of Friday morning, and extended from near the Houtholst wood to below the Ypres-Menin road. At several points the British troops succeeded in gaining ground over fronts ranging up to a thousand yards, but here the rain intervened, and the fighting ceased for the day. During the forward movement over the six-mile front the British captured in the aggregate about six hundred prisoners.

STRUGGLE VERY BITTER.

The struggle was particularly bitter to the north of Poelcapelle and around Passchendaele. In the latter region the Germans apparently have massed their strongest array of troops, hopeful of being able to stay a further press forward by the British toward the Ostend-Lille railroad.

The Germans were expecting the battle for several hours prior to the signal for the British to attack, for they laid down a heavy barrage fire all along the line, interspersing the rain of steel and explosive shells with asphyxiating gas bombs.

Considerable artillery activity still prevails between the French and the Germans along the Chemin-des-Dames, in Champagne, and on the Ypres sector, but no important infantry engagements have taken place.

Likewise, in the Austro-Italian theater and in Macedonia the big guns are doing all the work except for reconnoitering and outpost encounters in the latter region.

Along the Pakoft road, in the Riga sector, on the Russian front, the Russians again have been forced to give ground to the Germans under a heavy artillery fire. Farther south, however, the Russians, in counter attacks, have recaptured trenches which the Germans took from them Wednesday.

ON 6-MILE FRONT BRITISH STRUCK AT THE GERMANS

British Front in France and Belgium, October 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Today's dawn saw the great British war machine set in action across the Flanders mud fields against the German positions northeast of Ypres. At an early hour the attacking forces had penetrated several hundred yards into the enemy's territory along a six-mile front, extending from a plane near Houlholst forest down below the Ypres-Roulers railway and were battling along the Passachendaele ridge within a thousand yards of the center of Passchendaele village.

The offensive started at 5:25 o'clock in the morning. The condition of the ground was appalling, but at 7:45 the report came back that everything was going well and the troops over a wide section of the front had pushed forward to a depth averaging 800 yards or more.

Prisoners already were beginning to come in, although slowly, owing to the condition of the ground.

The enemy's artillery barrage was slow in response at the hour of attack and the fire was not severe, but the Germans were putting a heavy machine gun barrage all along the line. The enemy's guns were very active during the night against the central and southern portions of the battle front, especially about Broodseinde ridge and the Ypres-Roulers railway.

Between 4 and 4:30 o'clock this morning a large number of gas shells were thrown along the British line, probably indicating that the Germans were aware there was trouble ahead.

Mud Chief Enemy.

The chief enemy of the British today was not the Germans, but mud. No worse conditions under foot could be imagined than those that impeded the assaulting infantry this morning. The recent rains already had turned this whole section into a vast morass in which men sank to their knees or to their waists and even were engulfed to their necks as they made their arduous way forward. Last night rain again fell to add to the difficulties of the situation, but this morning the sun was struggling through the clouds to cast some measure of warmth over this bleak and dreary waste.

So far as the Germans themselves were concerned there was no doubt in the minds of the British but that they could handle them. The emperor's

Gates of Southeastern Fair Open Today to Great Throngs; Splendid Attractions Secured

Racing, Vaudeville, Fireworks, Midway Shows, Big Auto Exhibition and Prize-Winning Live Stock Will Keep Thousands of Visitors Deeply Interested.

OPENING DAY PROGRAM.

8 A. M.—Southeastern fair opens for season of 1917. Saturday is Preparation day.

10:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M.—Band concerts in bandstand in front of grandstand by Wedemeyer's band.

1:30 to 5:30 P. M.—Band concerts in front of grandstand.

8 A. M. to 12 P. M.—Larkland open. Shows and concessions all going full tilt.

Barber's band will furnish music at other points on the grounds.

The fair closes at midnight.

The fair will not be open on Sunday.

All aboard for Lakewood!

The gates of the big Southeastern fair will swing open for the 1917 fair this morning at 8 o'clock. Gay "Larkland," the big midway of the fair, will be running full blast, bands will be playing and there will be fun and frivolity for everybody. The exhibits will practically all be in place and everything will be shipshape.

The interest of everybody in town will be centered on Lakewood this afternoon and tonight and great crowds are sure to turn out for the opening.

Of attractions, there will be an unending succession at the fair this year.

While Saturday will offer entertainment and interest galore, Monday will be even more exciting.

On Monday the racing and the vaudeville and the fireworks will begin.

Races at Lakewood.

Seventy-five or more horses of the Grand Circuit races will leave Lexington, Ky., this afternoon for Atlanta, and they will run their first races on the Lakewood track Monday afternoon. The Lakewood races will close the season of the Grand Circuit, and some of the most famous racing blood in the world will fight for supremacy over the Lakewood track. Mabel Trask, the sensation of last year, and St. Frisco will meet in several races, and a great contest is certain. William, the champion pacer, will also be among the horses to run in the Grand Circuit races.

In addition to the Grand Circuit races there will be a series of running races in the afternoon, after the pacing and trotting eevnt sare over. For these races the fastest horses of the country are being brought to Atlanta. From Richmond, Va., alone fifty horses for the running races are coming to Atlanta.

Every afternoon at night, on the big platform opposite the grandstand, there will be eight big free vaudeville acts of exceptional merit and interest.

Every night, beginning Monday night, the big fireworks displays, across the lake from the grandstand, will close the day's features. The fireworks displays this year will be characterized by more marvelous brilliance and grandeur than ever before. Charges upon trenches, submarine battles and other patriotic subjects will be shown in figures of fire, which will be gloriously reflected in the lake.

Two big bands—Wedemeyer's and Barber's—have been engaged to play at the fair every day. One of these will play at the grandstand every afternoon and night, and the other will play at various points over the fair grounds. In addition to these there will be several smaller bands playing in "Larkland."

"Larkland" Bigger, Better.

"Larkland" this year is being staged by the Parker Greater shows and will be bigger and better than ever. There will be shows of entertainment and instruction and wonders of every character imaginable. And as for fun, the Parker Greater shows carry with them more contrivances for having a good time than probably any other concern of the sort that ever visited Dixie.

Howard F. Baldwin, special representative of the shows, has been about the busiest man in the vicinity of Atlanta this week, getting everything in shape. There is apparently no end to the number of attractions. There is the great Gebhardt astronomical clock, a big affair 10 feet high, 10 feet widt and 10 feet deep, demonstrating the system of the change of time in all parts of the country. People who saw Kemp Bros.' wonderful Model City, at the Harvest Festival carnival several years ago, will not miss the opportunity to see their Swiss Village at Larkland, an even more wonderful creation than the Model City.

Another interesting feature will be "Chinatown," a great show from the San Francisco exposition, exposing the Orient and "the underground opium smoker." Then there are the Eskimo dogs and curios in "The Frozen North;" the "Monkey Speedway;" [illegible] Honeymoon Trail," the limi[illegible]making; the "Crazy House," an[illegible]core of other attractions.

The great number and large variety of exhibits at the fair this year are a surprise even to the officials of the fair, who have expected great things.

Cattle and Hog Exhibits.

The cattle and hog exhibits surpass anything of the sort ever before shown in the south. Prize-winning live stock has come in by the trainload and is waiting in the big barns at Lakewood for the inspection of the southern

Women to Bring Christmas Cheer To Men at Front

3,000 Kits Are Now Being Prepared in Atlanta, and Every Man, Woman and Child Is Urged to Do Part in Work.

There will be no Christmas trees and mighty little of holiday cheer for the American boys in the trenches in France on December 25, but every wearer of the uniform of the United States will know that he is not forgotten by the people of his own country, if the plans of the women of Atlanta and of other cities are realized.

Under the direction of the Red Cross, Mrs. George Forrester and Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin are conducting a campaign in this city to furnish three thousand Christmas kits, and very little time remains for them to complete this work.

One dollar will be sufficient to purchase all the articles needed to fill the kits, and every man, woman and child in the city is urged to help.

Baskets Placed in Stores.

In order to make it easy to contribute baskets have been placed at Cone's drug store on Peachtree street, and the Stirling Pharmacy in the Empire building, and Red Cross workers have been stationed at Keely's store, on Whitehall street. In the windows of this store have been placed a most attractive exhibit of kits, just to show the people of Atlanta what the soldiers will receive if they do their part.

Incidentally, patriotism will pay in this instance, since the Red Cross has received a carload of coal which will be given away to some one of the contributors of one dollar to this worthy cause. With each subscription a ticket will be given away. The winner will be announced Monday night at the Atlanta theater. The coal will be worth at least $200 to the lucky person, as an offer of that amount has already been made for it. Those who are not able to contribute one dollar are urged to give what they can. Every cent will help.

Two hundred packages have been filled and packed by a group of girls under the direction of Dorothy Arkwrifht and Mrs. Lee Jordan. They have for days been at work in the old parlor of the Bell house—the Red Cross headquarters—and will finish their work Monday.

Articles in the Kits.

This is what the boys will receive from Atlanta women: Tobacco and papers for cigarettes, chocolate, candy, mints, chewing gum, playing cards, talc powder, soap, toothbrush, dental cream, comb, handkerchief, linen bag, Testament, and a note from some Atlanta woman or girl wishing the best of cheer and a safe return to loved ones across the sea, will be sent with each package.

The above list is merely what is "stock" in the Christmas kit. Many kits have been received from Atlantans including razors, trench mirrors and other needed articles. And the articles included in that list can be purchased by the Red Cross workers, through the assistance and co-operation of Atlanta merchants, for the sum of one dollar—your dollar will buy a kit for some boy in the renches.

Packages for the boys in France cannot be addressed to any person in particular—they will be assembled and distributed by the Red Cross workers in France without partiality.

Postmaster Bolling H. Jones has announced that the postmaster general has stressed the fact that all Christmas packages should be in the postoffice as early as possible, and none later than November 15, if they are to be delivered by Christmas. No packages for the Soldiers' Christmas will be received by the Red Cross for the present consignment later than Monday. Kits donated for this purpose, or money with which to buy the Christmas articles, should be sent to Mrs. George W. Forrester at Red Cross Headquarters, 279 Peachtreet Street.

Mrs. Forrester said Friday that she wanted to express her gratitude to the children of the Atlanta Sunday schools for their contributions and wanted to express her appreciation for the assistance the Red Cross has received from Atlanta merchants. "But," she added, "I am afraid that it might elicit a remark similar to that of a certain Atlanta lady when I started to thank her for a $5 donation."

"She said to me, 'Now, don't take it upon yourself to thank me for the check. Those boys in France are as much mine as they are yours.'"

He's Sent to Atlanta Pen For Robbing the Women To Whom He Made Love

Utica, N. Y., October 12.—John Francis Beckwith, whose love letters have cost various women in the United States $21,000 and who has four wives in various parts of the country, has been sentenced by Federal Judge Ray to fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, and to pay a total fine of $15,000. Beckwith has been in jail here ever since his arrest in Cleveland, Ohio, in August, for misuse of the mails. He pleaded guilty before Judge Ray at Auburn yesterday.

ISSUE OF $475,000 IN BONDS FAVORED FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Finance Committee Will Ask Council at Meeting on Monday to Set Date for Election on December 17.

$250,000 TO BE USED TO BUY WATER PUMPS

Finance Committee Also Favors $100,000 for New Cyclorama Building and $125,000 to Motorize Fire Department.

An emergency bond election to authorize the expenditure of $475,000 for civic improvements was unanimously approved by the finance committee of council Friday afternoon, and Monday, December 17, was set as the day for holding the election.

In addition to the issue of $250,000 recommended by the special committee for purchase of water pumps, the finance committee added $100,000 for erection of a new cyclorama building at Grant park and $125,000 for motorization of the fire department.

Council will be asked Monday to pass the ordinance calling the bond issue election. The finance committee decided it was best not to hold the proposed election until after the forthcoming general election on Wednesday, December 5. It was considered more favorable to the chances of the proposed bond issue to use the present small registration list than to hold a bond election now and have to use the large registration list of the last general election, which was last December, because the law requires two-thirds of the registered voters at the last general election to favor the issue.

Candler Assails Critics.

Mayor Candler, in a short speech to the committee, took occasion to "rake over the coals" certain members of the committee, who, he said, had "prated over the mayor's favoring the special tax levy, when they themselves had favored it, and would not now say that it was not a good business proposition to have levied the special assessment in order to secure the army cantonment for Atlanta."

The mayor's remarks were incidental to a speech in which he opposed the expenditure of $15,000 for erection of a public comfort station. He said that if the "people of Atlanta would not give the members of council more money for necessary improvements the representatives in council had no right to authorize improvements when there was not sufficient money to pay for them."

The proposition to erect a $15,000 public comfort station to take care of the thousands of soldiers who will visit Atlanta from the camp was then rejected by the finance committee.

The October finance sheet, which was rejected at the last meeting of council, was redrawn and passed favorably upon by the finance committee. It will be submitted to council on Monday with only three changes.

Changes In Money Sheet.

The changes in the sheet are:

Employment for one week of forty-six extra policemen, at a cost of $1,000, was authorized to take care of the Southeastern fair and big crowds that will come to Atlanta;

For painting wood block pavement on downtown streets, $1,000 was authorized (it is stated that an asphalt paint will prevent the wood blocks from buckling this winter during the hard rains); and,

One hundred dollars was authorized to pay for the meals and lodging at the fair grounds of eleven firemen who will be stationed there.

Following the adoption of the sheet Chairman C. H. Kelley informed the commttee that the water board had increased the salaries of all but three employees of the water department. W. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks, was called before the finance committee for an explanation of the water board's action. Mr. Smith told what had been done.

Salary Increases Barred.

The finance committee then passed a resolution ordering Graham West, chief clerk of the city comptroller's office, not to allow any salary increases of employees of this department who already made $90 or more a month, and to take all the surplus in the pay rolls for the balance of the year in this department, brought about by not allowing the proposed increases, and put the money back into the finance sheet.

It was stated that the board of health has likewise raised the salaries of all employees of the sanitary department. A special meeting of the fnance committee will be held at noon Monday to investigate the salary increases of the sanitary department.

Upon the insistence of the street committee, the members of which appeared before the finance committee, that $7,500 be appropriated in the October sheet for a "street emergency fund," the fnance committee compromised by passing a blanket resolution, introduced by Councilman J. R. Nutting, to the effect that the finance committee would take cae of any emergency street repair work during the balance of the year, provided the superintendent of construction declared the repair work to be an emergency.

Chief of Construction Collier informed the commttee that already the big water main to Camp Gordon had broken three times since its installation. It broke the last time Thursday night near the corner of Simpson and Ashby streets and washed a hole in the street 12 by 9 feet. This work had to be repaired at once.

Without the blanket resolution or funds for such a purpose the construction department, it was stated, could not repair washouts in streets without special authority of council, provided the cost was more than $100.

$358,000,000 Needed Every Day for 13 Days To Float Liberty Loan

Total for Entire Campaign as Officially Announced Still Less Than 7 Per Cent of $5,000,000,000 Desired.

TOTAL OF $344,195,550 REPORTED FOR 11 DAYS

Appeals Sent to the Local Chairmen to Make Today a Record-Breaker in Matter of Subscriptions—More Interest Shown in South.

Washington, October 12.—The Liberty Loan has moved only $18,730,550 nearer its $5,000,000,000 goal, or approximately one-third of 1 per cent.

The total for the entire campaign thus far, as officially announced, stands still at less than 7 per cent on the basis of returns received today and including subscriptions reported to all reserve banks, except Minneapolis, up to the close of business yesterday. At the rate of subscriptions reported today it would take from eight to nine months to obtain the $5,000,000,000 desired.

"At the end of eleven days' sale of Liberty Loan Bonds," the treasury department's announcement reads, "total subscriptions of $344,195,550 had been reported to eleven of the twelve reserve banks in the United States. This is less than 7 per cent of the maximum amount of subscriptions expected by Secretary McAdoo before the close of the drive for $5,000,000,000 on October 27.

Official Returns Up to October 11.

"Official returns, which are up to the close of business October 11, follow: Boston, $48,600,000; New York, $228,527,000; Philadelphia, $14,712,850; Cleveland, $1,971,000; Richmond, $14,360,450; Atlanta, $1,703,000; Chicago, $5,671,000; St. Louis, $3,113,050; Kansas City, $1,237,600; Dallas, $2,208,400; San Francisco, $22,091,200; Minneapolis, no report.

"As a result of the low totals shown by the official statements appeals are going out tonight from various local chairmen to their workers to make tomorrow one of the biggest days recorded. Vigorous methods for increasing sales also will be resorted to throughout the country next week.

"While the unofficial figures received from different sections indicate that subscriptions are much larger than those shown by the official returns, progress made thus far is causing no optimism.

"The particular need of the campaign, workers report, is an increased number of small subscribers to spread the message of the loan, and with this end in view the rallying cry of 'Ten million Liberty bond buyers' will be sounded throughout the land in the coming days of the drive."

Analysis of the Figures.

Analysis of the official figures announced tonight indicates that no reports were in time for inclusion in the tabulation from New York and Atlanta, the total announced from these districts standing just where it was last night. The report is therefore far from complete. There is no showing for Minneapolis, and Kansas City shows a change of only $600 for the day for the entire district—a situation which officials admit is almost inconceivable.

Chicago is credited with an increase of only $855,000 for the day, and Cleveland is given only $76,000 more than reported yesterday, both reports indicating that only a small percentage of subscriptions actually made was reported to the reserve banks.

"Cleveland reported tonight," the statement continues, "that its district shows an unofficial total of $60,000,000, of which about $18,000,000 came from the city of Cleveland itself."

Although reported subscriptions at Chicago were only $855,000 for the entire district, the announcement adds that "Chicago continued a steady drive, and reports good sales in the various Illinois districts. Four thousand five hundred subscriptions were obtained by the Chicago flying squadron yesterday."

New England, with an increase for the day of $6,800,000, showed the biggest advance, its total of $48,600,000 being approximately the figure reported from Boston. San Francisco, according to the official report, added $6,044,200 to its previous subscription. Other additions were Philadelphia, $1,129,850; Richmond, $2,131,450; St. Louis, $1,384,050, and Dallas, $309,000.

Banks Must Push Loan.

"A report from Minneapolis," the statement says, "where the campaign has not gotten well under way, said the state deposit board had adopted a resolution directing that state funds be withdrawn from all banks failing to push the loan and subscribe for bonds with their own funds, if their reserves warrant it. This action is expected to stimulate the sale greatly.

"Iowa, another state in which the work has been slow in getting under way, was reported tonight to be showing new enthusiasm. The state's quota, it was said, would be met by 'hard and persistent efforts.' Country banks, farmers and wage-earners particularly are lining up for the loan throughout the state.

"Quickened interest was displayed in the south today, Atlanta reporting tonight that subscriptions were coming in steadily. Nashville got $2,500,000 in subscriptions today and two Atlanta banks subscribed $1,500,000 each."

As the situation stands tonight there remain thirteen working days in which to raise $4,654,814,400. To accomplish this huge task it will be necessary to strike a daily average of

$7,000,000 MARK PASSED IN SALES OF LIBERTY BONDS

Five Local Banks Apply for $3,000,000, and Other Financial Institutions Are Expected to Swell Total.

M'CLELLAN LEADS WAY.

In a whirlwind Liberty Loan campaign at Camp McClellan, at Anniston, Ala., Friday the soldiers of that camp subscribed a total of $478,000 for Liberty Bonds, and issued a challenge to all other camps in the south to beat it. This was announced in a telegram to St. Elmo Massengale, chairman of the Liberty Loan publicity committee, last night.

Chairman M. B. Wellborn, of the Liberty Loan committee of the sixth federal reserve district, Friday afternoon announced the receipt of a subscription of $2,500,000 for Liberty bonds from one bank alone.

This bank is the Fourth and First National Bank of Nashville, Tenn.

Chairman Wellborn estimates that the total subscriptions for the sixth federal reserve district are now between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000, and he expects subscriptions to increase immediately.

Subscriptions from Athens, Ga., have passed the $250,000 mark.

Atlanta Banks Help.

Five banks of Atlanta Friday applied for bonds to the total value of $3,100,000, and the committee expects that when subscriptions from other banks of Atlanta have been received, the total will run to $4,000,000. The subscriptions announced Friday are as follows:

Third National, $1,00,000.

Lowry National, $500,000.

Fourth National, $500,000.

Central Bank and Trust Corporation, $500,000.

Atlanta National, $500,000.

Chairman W. C. Wardlaw, of the Central Liberty Loan committee, expects that the subscriptions will begin at once to come in more rapidly and in good-sized figures.

Just Getting Under Way.

"The campaign in this district is just getting under way," said Chairman Wardlaw. "We were late in getting our publicity material from Washington, and this, in turn, threw us late in getting it out over the sixth district. All the publicity has been placed now, however, and committees are hard at work all over the district. We are now for the first time in position for results to begin to appear."

Chairman Wardlaw has telegraphed out over the district for reports on the progress of the campaign and the attitude of the people toward the Liberty bonds, and he expects responses to these telegrams by Saturday afternoon showing exactly what the status is in this district.

Four-minute speakers are now busy in Atlanta and other speakers are at work over the district stirring up interest, but more speakers are still needed. Volunteer speakers should telephone Ivy 4295, or call at room 418 Hurt building.

Labor Will Help.

Plans for organizing the employers of labor in Atlanta in the interest of Liberty bonds were made at a meeting held last night at the chamber of commerce hall under the auspices of the Atlanta Liberty Loan executive committee.

Present at the meeting were more than 125 representatives of the Retail Merchants' association, the Salesmanship club, the Advertising club, the Employing Printers' association, the Builders' exchange, the Atlanta Dental association, and other civic, commercial, professional and trades organizations.

The meeting was called by Chairman C. B. Howard, who pointed out that for the loan to be a success in Atlanta, it was necessary for the money to be pinched out of pay envelopes and salary checks. He pointed out that it was impossible to sell $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds in Atlanta to a few people, and that it was necessary for the people as a whole to invest in the bonds.

"The present loan," said Mr. Howard, "amounts to $30 for every man, woman and child in the country, or approximately $150 for every family. It cannot be taken up by the rich man, because there are not enough rich men. So to raise the amount allotted to Atlanta, it is necessary for practically every family in town to be represented."

Representatives of Mr. Howard's executive committee will call upon every employer of labor in Atlanta and discuss with him plans whereby employees may buy bonds and arrangements made for the payment in installments.

Chairman Howard appeals to the employers of the city to co-operate with his committee in every way possible. Employers who will volunteer their cooperation are asked to communicate with Mr. Howard by telephoning Main 708.

Scores of volunteer salesmen are needed, and those who will volunteer for this work are also asked to call Main 708.

HIS RESIGNATION COMES ON HEELS OF NAVY MUTINY

Von Capelle Succeeded Von Tirpitz as German Marine Minister and Has Frequently Boasted That U-Boats Were Winning War.

FATE OF MICHAELIS DEPENDS ON KAISER

Socialists Will Not Vote Credits Unless Chancellor Resigns--Reports Indicate Growing Disaffection in the German Navy and in the Army.

Amsterdam, October 12.—Vice Admiral von Capelle, the German minister of marine, has resigned, according to The Frankfurter Zeitung.

Vice Admiral Eduard von Capelle was one of the administrative directors in the ministry of marine before the war and had served as a captain at sea. In March, 1916, he succeeded Admiral von Tirpitz as imperial minister of the navy. Several times since then Admiral von Capelle has appeared before the reichstag with optimistic statements regarding the progress of the unrestricted submarine campaign, as late as August 26, 1917, defending the U-boat policy of his predecessor and himself at a meeting of the reichstag main committee.

Vice Admiral von Capelle announced in the reichstag last Wednesday that a plot had been discovered in the navy to paralyze the efficiency of the fleet and force the government to make peace. He said that the guilty parties had received their just deserts, and attempted to link socialists with the plot. The imperial German chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, also spoke of the existence of a conspiracy in the navy, and asserted that certain deputies were involved in the revolt.

The socialists and their newspapers have attacked both the chancellor and the vice admiral for their statements.

MICHAELIS IS STYLED ABSOLUTELY INCAPABLE.

Amsterdam, October 12.—A Berlin dispatch received here says that at the meeting of the reichstag Thursday Georg Ledebour, social democratic leader, was called to order for declaring that all must be convinced Chancellor Michaelis was absolutely incapable in his office, both as regards capacity and character.

Herr Stodthagen, independent socialist, disclosed that Frau Zietz, a German woman, had been arrested in connection with the recent mutiny in the fleet. Wilhelm Dittmann, socialist, said that Deputy Hecke was placed under arrest for one day after a meeting at Kiel, which had been dispersed.

London, October 12.—A dispatch to The Exchange Telegraph from Amsterdam says the Rhenish Westfalische Zeitung declares it understands that the German socialists have informed Chancellor Michaelis that they will not vote for the desired credits unless he resigns. The newspaper says the chancellor received the party leaders Wednesday and that they explained to him the feelings of the public with regard to his maintenance of power.

Many German newspapers received here expressed the belief that the future of Chancellor Michaelis will not be

GERMAN SEAMEN SHOT FOR SHUNNING U-BOATS.

London, October 12.—Reliable reports received here by way of Holland indicate the growth of a strong disinclination on the part of German seamen to serve on submarines. This news, the authority of which is not doubted, is to the effect that several seamen already have been shot for refusing to perform U-boat duty. The shootings are said to have occurred prior to the mutiny in Wilhelmshaven.

The inactivity of the German fleet in the Baltic sea recently when there were obvious opportunities for attacking Russia, according to a dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Amsterdam, was due to the mutinous outbreak in the German navy. The outbreak affected at least six important units of the fleet, putting them out of action and causing the authorities to doubt the discipline and loyalty of the crews of other large ships. It was impossible, the dispatch says, to take stern measures on a large scale against the offenders, because that would have increased the evil.

The first evidence of the recent mutiny in the German fleet was an act of insubordination aboard a battleship whose captain was notorious as a bully, according to information received here by the Associated Press. A sick sailor, refusing to obey the orders of his superior officer, was brought before the captain, who placed him under arrest. On the following day a deputation of sailors demanded the release of the delinquent, who was an elderly reservist. When the captain asked the meaning of this deputation, he received the answer that the sailors had formed a council on the Russian model, and this led to an investigation which resutled in arrests and the seizing of pamphlets.

GERMAN SOLDIERS HOOT COMMANDER.

London, October 12.—A dispatch from the British headquarters to Reuter's Limited, says that a prisoner from the 72d German infantry reserve, in describing the discipline of his corps, declared that before the last battle a regimental commander addressed his troops with the warning that any who held back would be shot. The only answer was a general groaning, swelling into derisive laughter, upon which the commander rode away.

MUD IN FLANDERS STOPS THE BRITISH

troops in this section now are far less formidable than they were, owing to the disorganization caused in their ranks by the recent terrific blows dealt to them. This is not an individual opinion. It is generally recognized along the front by the British and the Germans, too, that a change has come over the morale of the invaders. Almost any prisoner would admit this fact.

The spirit of the British troops, however, has been wonderful throughout, notwithstanding the terrible hardships they endured in the recent operations.

Even the wounded who returned from the forward lines were cheerful and full of grit, even though suffering from pain, dog tired and caked from head to foot with pastry mud. It was a revelation to see the smiles on their faces as they waited their turn in the dressing station.

A striking instance of the determination with which the men understood today's work was seen on one section of the front. The men from overseas were advancing over ground that could be swept by machine-gun fire from various points. As they struggled along behind the artillery barrage the combination of mud and bullets several times became more than flesh and blood could endure, and with the cry of "Let's get on at the boches and end it!" they deliberately charged through their own barrage and hurled themselves on the enemy with rifles and bayonets.

British Capture Stronghold.

London, Octber 12.—A Reuter's Limited dispatch from British headquarters reports progress in the Poelcapelle and Passchendaele regions of the Flanders front. The dispatch follows:

"The rain is reported to have brought operations temporarily to a standstill, but we have gained possession of the brewery east of Poelcapelle, which had been the center of strong German resistance. At noon today our troops were said to have occupied the crest of a farm on the left of the Passchendaele road and to be within about five hundred yards of the Passchendaele church."

Progress on Entire Front.

London, October 12.—Progress was made along the entire front in Flanders, where Field Marshal Haig began another offensive Friday morning. Rain intervened, however, and it was decided not to make further efforts to reach the final objectives which it had been planned to take. These statements are contained in the official communication issued tonight.

The communication adds that the prisoners taken during the day approximate 500.

GERMANS REPORT FRESH ATTACKS.

Berlin, October 12.—(Via London.)—Fresh attacks were begun on a wide front in Flanders today by entente forces after drumfire had been directed on the area from the Lys to the Ypres-Menin road, army headquarters announces.

The text of the communication follows:

"Western Theater—Front of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria: The artillery activity yesterday in Flanders was restricted to an intense firing duel in the coastel sector and at Houtholst wood. At night the strong firing, which inceased suddenly this morning to drumfire, was directed on the fighting area from Lys to the Ypres-Menin road. New enemy attacks were then commenced on wide sectors.

"Front of the German Crown Prince: Northeast of Soissons and east of the Meuse fighting activity of the artillery increased to great intensity. Near Vauxaillon strong French reconnoitering troops advanced, but were repulsed. East of Samogneux there were local trench engagements on the eastern slope of Hill 344."

The supplementary report issued this evening from general headquarters follows:

"On the Langemarck-Zonnebeke front in Flanders the battle is still in full swing. To the north of Poelcapelle and to the southwest of Passchendaele the fighting still goes on at some places where the English penetrated our lines."

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON FRENCH FRONT.

Paris, October 12.—"The night was marked by great activity of the artillery and by a series of German efforts at various points on the front," says today's official statement. "West of Cerny we repulsed an enemy attack, while a detail operation carried out by us north of Noisy farm enabled us to bring back prisoners. An enemy surprise attack west of Maisons de Champagne and three German efforts in the region of Auberive and Souain came to nothing.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) artillery fighting continues in the region of Bezonvaux."

TRENCHES TAKEN BY THE RUSSIANS IN THE RIGA REGION

Petrograd, October 12.—By a counter attack yesterday Russian troops recaptured the trenches lost Wednesday south of the Pskoff road in the Riga region, the war office announced today. North of the road Russian advance posts were drawn in where they were exposed to a violent artillery fire by the Germans. The statement regarding these operations reads:

"Northern Front: We counter attacked and recaptured after sharp fighting the trenches we lost on Wednesday. The position was restored.

"In the Skuli sector north of the Pskoff high road, the enemy's violent artillery fire forced our advanced posts to retire.

"Western and Southwestern Fronts: There were fusillades.

"Rumanian Front: On Tuesday the enemy, after artillery fire, attacked in the Buczacz region and took several trenches which were restored by counter attacks.

"The enemy yesterday several times bombarded Galatz.

"Caucasus Front: In the Revanduz region we occupied a height fifty miles south of Urmia, driving out the Turks.

"Aviation: In the Zbrocz sector two enemy airplanes attacked a Russian captive balloon which began to descend. The observer was mortally injured because of his parachute failing to open. The balloon was undamaged."

GERMAN REPORT ON OPERATIONS.

Berlin, October 12.—(Via London.)—The German war office today stated the following in regard to operations in the east:

"Eastern Theater: Northeast of Riga and on the Zebrocz the fighting activity was more lively. There were encounters between raiding detachments and numerous prisoners fell into our hands.

"Macedonian Front: In the Monastir basin and at the Cerna bent the batteries on both sides displayed great intensity at times. On the right bank of the Vardar an attack by an English company broke down before the Bulgarian lines."

Snow in Cleveland.

Cleveland, October 12.—The first snowfall of the season struck Cleveland today in the form of a small blizzard. Heavy snowfalls are reported from adjoining counties.

LOYALTY PLEA MADE BY CARDINAL GIBBONS

He Urges All Americans to Cheerful Performance of Duty.

Washington, October 12.—Cardinal Gibbons wrote President Wilson in a letter made public here today that he is trying "to persuade all Americans that they can do the greatest good to themselves and their country by a cheerful and generous performance of their duty, as it is pointed out to them by lawfully constituted authority." The letter was written on the occasion of the recent formation of the league for national unity of which Cardinal Gibbons is honorary chairman.

President Wilson in reply thanked the cardinal for accepting the chairmanship of the league.

"In these days of the gravest problems which have ever weighed upon our American government," wrote the cardinal, "our thoughts go out to the chief executive, warmed by a heartfelt sympathy for the heavy burdens of office which he must bear, and freighted with the unwavering determination of loyal citizens to stand by him in every effort to bring success to our arms, and to achieve those ideals of justice and humanity which compelled our entrance into the war.

No Course But Obedience.

"Guided, as we are, by the sublime teachings of Christianity, we have no other course open to us but that of obedience and devotion to our country. Our Divine Lord tells us, 'render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's.' and St. Paul, following the steps of his Master, says: 'Let every soul be subject to the higher powers, for there is no authority but from God, and those that are, are ordained by God. Therefore he who resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God, and they who resist purchase to themselves condemnation.'

"We wish our people to see, and we are striving to help them to realize, that they owe unswerving loyalty to the rulers whom they have elected to office, and that in doing so they are not acting in a slavish manner, for obedience is not an act of servility we pay to man, but an act of homage we pay to God.

"We are working to the end that our countrymen may see the folly and grave disobedience of unjust and ill-tempered criticism of national policies. We are bending our efforts to point out to our fellow men that they in all probability see the present situation from only one angle, whereas the government sees it from every viewpoint and is therefore alone in the position to judge of the expediency of national affairs.

"In a word we have been exerting our every effort and will continue to do so, to persuade all Americans that they can do the greatest good to themselves and their country by a cheerful and generous performance of their duty, as it is pointed out to them by lawfully constituted authority."

President Wilson's Reply.

The president wrote to the cardinal in reply:

"May I not express my deep and sincere appreciation of your letter of October 6? It has brought me cheer and reassurance, and I want you to know how much I appreciate your own action consenting to preside over the important and influetial group of men and women who have so generously undertaken to support the administration in its efforts to make the whole character and purpose of this war, and of the government of the United States in the prosecution of it, clear to the whole people."

BARGE FLEET URGED FOR THE MISSISSIPPI

Winona, Minn., October 12.—An appeal to the federal shipping board to build, sell or lease on an installment plan a large fleet of barges to enable the Mississippi river to relieve the railroads, all overtaxed, was voiced at the closing session of the sixteenth annual convention of the Upper Mississippi Improvement association here today. The establishment of a line of light-draft barges, provided with powerful towboats, such as operate on the Rhine, was urged as a necessity to enable the Mississippi river to share in the transportation burden of the nation during the war and be of aid to inland manufacturers and shippers after the war.

President Wilkinson, of Burlington, declared recent trips of heavy barges over the river with coal for St. Paul, returning with iron ore for St. Louis, showed the plan to be practicable.

JOHN HOWARD HALE SUMMONED BY DEATH

He Was Manager of the Hale Orchards at Fort Valley.

Hartford, Conn., October 12.—John Howard Hale, member of the Connecticut public utilities commission, one of the foremost horticulturalists and peach growers in the United States, and former president of the American Pomological society, died at his home in Glastonbury today.

Mr. Hale, who was born in Glastonbury, November 25, 1853, was manager of the J. H. Hale company, of Glastonbury, and of the Hale Orchard Companies of Seymour and of Fort Valley, Ga. He was one of the first to ship peaches to Europe, where before the war the market had developed rapidly.

In addition to having served as head of the American Pomological society, he also was a former president of the American Nurserymen's association.

VON LUXBURG IS SENT TO A DETENTION CAMP

Buenos Aires, October 12.—Count Karl von Luxburg, the former German minister to Argentina, arrived today at the detention camp on the island of Martin Garcia.

Count von Luxburg, after having been handed his passports, disappeared from Buenos Aires, but was found early in the week in the southern part of the province of Buenos Aires and arrested.

NEGRO TROOPS FORCED FROM CAMP ORDWAY

Negro Guard Killed Workman and 700 Laborers Went on Strike.

Washington, October 12.—Negro soldiers on guard duty at Camp Ordway here were ordered withdrawn tonight after the killing of Andrew J. Cooper, an aged carpenter, by Private Jerry Ward and a resulting strike of about 700 workmen. In announcing the order, Secretary Baker said no decision had been reached as to who would replace the negroes, members of the first separate battalion, District National guard, but that civilian watchmen probably would be employed until the camp is completed.

Cooper was shot while going into the camp on his way to work. Ward, who immediately was arrested by the military, said the carpenter, who was not using the proper entrance, failed to obey his command to "halt." Friends of the dead man said he was slightly deaf and probably did not hear the sentry.

Ward is held for trial by court-martial, the military having refused demands of the district civilian authorities that he be turned over to them. After the shooting several hundred carpenter and other employees at the camp refused to go to work until the negro guard was withdrawn, and the entire force was idle all day.

Camp Ordway is not strictly a military camp, beng designed for the training of mechanics for the automobile transport service of the quartermaster department.

SUFFRAGE IS FAVORED BY CONGREGATIONALISTS

Columbus, Ohio, October 12.—The National Council of Congregational Churches, in session here today, adopted by a large majority a resolution favoring woman suffrage. The suffrage question was unlooked for, and developed hot debate.

Objection to adoption of the resolution was made by several delegates on the ground that suffrage is not a moral issue, and therefore does not concern church bodies. The resolution was offered at the suggestion of Ohio Congregationalists.

Active participation in prohibition work and support to the Anti-Saloon league also was pledged by the council today. The resolution urged President Wilson to forbid during the period of the war the use of food values in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors and the sale of such liquors.

GERMANY BREAKING DECLARES STOVALL

Georgian, Back From Switzerland, Says Situation Is Acute—German People Want Immediate Peace.

An Atlantic Port, October 12.—After four years spent in the center of Europe's colossal struggle, Pleasant A. Stovall, United States minister to Switzerland, declared on his arrival here today that the economic situation in Germany is acute and that he believed the backbone of German resistance had been broken. Since the publication of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, in which the president stated that the United States is warring upon the German government and not upon the German people, the revulsion against the war, Mr. Stovall said, has been spreading rapidly through Germany.

Peace Forces Work in Germany.

"The effect of this statement was for a long time not noticeable," he asserted, "but slowly it is sinking deeper and deeper into the German heart. If left to themselves, the German people would make peace tomorrow. As it is, forces are at work in Germany which will eventually—no man can safely predict how soon—compel the German government to make peace with the world.

"There is no doubt about the economic straits in which Germany now finds itself. The situation is acute."

In spite of German, French and Italian influences, Minister Stovall said, Swiss neutrality has been preserved, and a force of 250,000 men watches the borders constantly to prevent the passage of contraband. He added that Switzerland's exercise of broad sympathies for the wounded brought in from three fronts was a notable chapter of history. In Swiss hospitals there are, he said, about 25,000 prisoners, mostly French, but English and Germans also. The Swiss people give entertainments constantly for them and extend aid wherever it is needed.

They Whisper in Switzerland.

Mr. Stovall, who will go direct to Washington and later to his home in Savannah, described Switzerland as "a nation of whispers."

"There is no news and everybody is discreet to the point of extreme taciturnity," he said. "The Swiss play their part of neutrality well. There could be no criticism of them on that score."

The vessel on which Mr. Stovall arrived was so completely camouflaged, hull, decks, cabins and masts, in colors of pink, pale green, horizon blue and gray as to cause mariners here to comment. The camouflage was declared to be the most efficacious used by any ship which has arrived here.

TWO HELENA MEN HURT IN COLLISION AT PITTS

Cordele, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—J. W. Phillips and W. H. Brown, well-known citizens of Helena, who were dangerously injured yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, when their automobile collided with a train on the Hawkinsville and Florida Southern at Pitts, are now in the Cordele sanitarium for treatment. Phillips is suffering from concussion of the brain. He was slightly better today. In addition he sustained several cuts and bruises. Brown had a wrenched back and was badly gashed about the head and body.

Their automobile was thrown from the track and badly demolished. The accident happened at a crossing in Pitts.

ATHENS TO TAKE HALF MILLION OF BONDS

Athens, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—Athens, city district alone, has reached a quarter of a million in subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan. Of the first loan, Athens took $320,000. This round the committees aer confident of placing half a million.

Pillar-of-Salt Citizenship Scored by Col. Roosevelt

He Asserts That Men From Old World in America Who Imitate Lot's Wife Are Mischievous Members of Commonwealth.

Kansas City, Mo., October 12.—(Special.)—Under the caption "Pillar of Salt Citizenship," Theodore Roosevelt writes as follows in The Kansas City Star:

"When Lot's wife was journeying to safety she could not resist looking back to the land she had left and was thereupon turned into a pillar of salt. The men from the old world who, instead of adopting an attitude of hearty and exclusive loyalty to their land, try also to look backward to their old countries and become pillar of salt citizens, who are not merely useless but mischievous members of our commonwealth.

"The dispatches of the German government, just published by the state department, give us an illuminating glimpse, not only of German methods and of German conduct toward this country, but also of certain phases of our own citizenship.

What Germany Proposed.

"The German government proposed to use this country as a basis of operations for wrecking the Canadian railways. It also proposed to use and pay its agents and certain of our citizens for 'sabotage in every kind of American factory for supplying munitions of war,' and for 'a vigorous campaign to secure a majority in both houses favorable to Germany. The German staff in issuing these directions and in naming certain American citizens as tools for the treacherous work, insisted that the embassy should not be compromised and that 'similar precautions must be taken in regard to Irish pro-German propaganda.'

"Good citizens who have been misled by false counsel must now clearly see that the campaign of dynamite against our industries, with the attendant wreckage and murder, was a deliberate act of secret war by the German government; that the attempt by Americans to secure an embargo on sending munitions to the allies was an effort to aid Germany in thus making war on the United States; that the Irish pro-German movement in this country was financed and guided from Germany and that our citizens, whether of foreign or native birth, whether of natve American or German or Irish origin, who took part in pushing these movements were doing substantially the same kind of work that Benedict Arnold once tried to do.

Serving Germany Against America.

"Some of them were doubtless paid, others were doubtless not paid, but the paid and unpaid were serving Germany against the United States. These matters are now all of public record. The excuse of ignorance can no longer avail anyone. Henceforth the citizens of German or Irish birth who take part in such activities as those of most of the German-American alliances and the like are at best standing in the position of pillar of salt citizenship; at worst, they and, above all, their native American associates who now indulge in pacifist movements or demand a peace without overwhelming victory or ask for a referendum on the war, or in any other way serve the brutal and conscienceless ambition of Germany, stand unpleasantly near the lonely eminence occupied by Benedict Arnold."

HOWARD TO ADDRESS DEKALB FAIR TODAY

Thousands Expected to Hear Congressman's Account of National Affairs.

William Schley Howard was on the grounds of the DeKalb County fair inspecting the exhibits and shaking hands with old friends yesterday, all of whom assured him that they would be out today at 2 o'clock to hear him speak.

The DeKalb County fair has erected a special stand for the use of Mr. Howard and the large reception committee, composed of the mayors and councils of the various towns of DeKalb county and all of the county officials. Under the direction of W. J. Sayward, the speakers' stand was located near a natural bowl, under tall and imposing oaks, where shade and quiet will prevail, except for the sonorous voice of Mr. Howard and the gentleman who welcomes him back to his home county.

DeKalb county is impatiently awaiting the message Congressman Howard brings back from the national administration, officials said Friday. The fair officials expect a very large delegation from the Atlanta business men to come to Decatur to hear Mr. Howard.

L. A. Shelver, of Atlanta, was out to the fair Friday and judged the entries at the bench show. His awards were as follows:

Bench Show Awards.

American Fox Hounds (Males)—First, C. C. Parker; second, W. S. McCurdy, Stone Mountain; third, W. S. McCurdy, Stone Mountain.

American Fox Hounds (Females)—First, C. C. Parker; second, W. S. McCurdy, Stone Mountain. Mr. Parker also took special prize for best of the breed.

Pointer (Male)—First, J. P. Anderson, who also took a special prize.

Setter (Female Puppy)—Won by E. C. Hicks, Decatur; also special prize.

Setter (Female)—Won by J. A. McCurdy, Decatur; also special prize.

Collie (Male)—Mrs. C. M. Allison, first; Mrs. S. R. Bottenfield, second.

Collie (Female)—G. A. Kellogg, first; G. C. Akins, second.

Mrs. Allison took special for best male Collie in show and G. A. Kellogg special for best female Collie.

Airedales (Male)—Won by Miss N. S. Candler; also special for best Airedale.

Boston Terriers (Male)—Won by Mrs. George Drum, first; Mrs. W. A. Somerville, second.

Boston Terriers (Female Puppies)—Won by Mrs. George Drum, first; Mrs. L. O'Neal, second. Mrs. Drum also took two specials.

Fox Terriers (Males)—Won by Mrs. W. A. Somerville, first; Tom Alexander, second; Miss Meta Cox, third.

Fox Terriers (Females)—Won by Eugenia Dodd, first. Mrs. Somerville also took special for best of the breed.

Back and Tan Terrier (Male)—Miss Elsa Denk, first; J. A. McCurdy, second.

Mrs. George Drum, of Kirkwood, took special for best puppy in the show of any breed and C. C. Parker took special for best brace of sporting dogs.

Tractor Demonstration.

Many farmers of the county were in the grounds early to witness the tractor demonstration of the Cleveland crawler tractor, put on by the Dabney implement Company of Atlanta. A large field was plowed and harrowed, and the universal opinion seemed to be that the Cleveland was the tractor for the hillsides of Georgia.

The exhibit buildings were well filled during the day. Thursday night a large crowd enjoyed the Midway features and remained on the grounds for the free acts.

"With the crowds that have attended the fair, there has not been one single case of disorder reported to the office," President G. R. Jones said Friday afternoon. "Occasionally a little boy is brought into the office for crawling under the fence, but nothing else has occurred to mar the pleasure of the four days of the fair."

A strong wind was blowing Friday afternoon, preventing the balloon ascension. Another free act was staged in its stead.

The Atlanta Milling company's demonstration with hot biscuits was popular during the day Friday.

MRS. JULIAN URQUHART, BRIDE, SEEKS FREEDOM

Macon, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Clo E. Urquhart, who, during the past summer, became the bride of Julian F. Urquhart, a well-known Macon attorney, today entered suit for divorce. In her bill Mrs. Urquhart states that she and her husband separated in August, when the attorney refused to live with her longer.

She says her husband threatened her and accused her of improper conduct with their guests and others. She says she is innocent of her husband's charges. Mrs. Urquhart further states that in three months of her married life her weight was reduced twenty-five pounds and that her nerves are now in a wretched state.

She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Clo Emily Freeman.

NEGRO SHOT DEAD BY WHITE MAN ON TRAIN

Jesup, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—Gabe McCollough, colored, was shot and killed last night by an unknown white man while sitting in the coach on a Southern train at the station at 10:30 o'clock. McCullough was a flagman on the Carolina and Northwestern railroad. He aid his wife had been on a trip to Jacksonville, Fla., and were returning home. The white man was passing through the train, and had just lit a cigarette and thrown the lighted match on the negro, who was asleep. The negro's wife was awake and, in making an effort to brush the lighted match off, awoke her husband, who exclaimed, "Don't try to burn me up, mister." The white man is said to have cursed him, drawn his revolver and shot five times. After the shooting the slayer made his escape through the crowded train.

THOUSANDS OF TROOPS HELP IN FLAG-RAISING

Augusta, Ga., October 12.—Three thousand troops, representing every arm of the service of the Twenty-eighth army division, at Camp Hancock, today assisted in flag-raising exercises in the heart of Augusta. They were reviewed by General William P. Duvall, commander of the department of the southeast, who arrived from Charleston this morning.

TENNESSEE METHODISTS SUPPORTING WILSON

Gallatin, Tenn., October 12.—The Tennessee conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in session here today, passed resolutions indorsing President Wilson and his course. Concluding the resolutions say: "We stand for all that is behind the president and his government and pray for him daily in this great crisis."

The resolution was introduced by former United States Senator W. R. Webb, of Bellbuckle, Tenn.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION MEETS AT WEST POINT

West Point, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—The Western Baptist association, composed of fifty-four Baptist churches in Troup, Meriwether, Coweta and Heard counties, held its eighty-ninth session with the West Point Baptist church Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Rev. E. W. Stone, pastor of the First Baptist church of Newnan, was elected moderator, and H. T. Woodyard, of LaGrange, was re-elected clerk.

The association sermon was preached by Dr. A. B. Vaughn, pastor of the First Baptist church of LaGrange.

CHANCE IS CONVICTED; GETS SIXTEEN YEARS

Before Receiving Verdict the Judge Warns the Courtroom Against Demonstration.

Moultrie, Ga., October 12.—(Special.) Rev. Charlie Chance, a country preacher, was convicted today by a jury in Colquitt superior court for attempted assault as the result of an alleged attack he made upon a 14-year-old girl. Chance was immediately sentenced to sixteen years in the penitentiary. Before receiving the verdict, Judge Thomas warned the crowd that filled the courtroom against any kind of demonstration. Chance was greatly moved by the verdict and was hardly able to stand while the judge was pronouncing sentence.

A motion for a new trial will be filed, attorneys for the defense announced this afternoon. Chance will try to secure bail while the motion is pending.

Mother of Sen. James Dead.

Marion, Ky., October 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth James, mother of United States Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, died after a brief illness at her home here today while her son was speeding to her bedside from Washington. Mrs. James was 72 years old.

OHIO MAYORS PREPARE TO CONFISCATE COAL

In Order to Stop Suffering, Which Is Becoming Widespread.

Columbus, Ohio, October 12.—Mayors throughout Ohio were preparing today to seize coal to prevent suffering, which is becoming widespread, in their communities. Some already have done so. With a big drop in temperature and the falling of snow in many towns today came indications that such a drastic course on the part of other mayors is imminent.

A number of mayors today called state officials by telephone to ask if it would be legal for them to confiscate coal from railroads. They were told no. Demands for coal poured in on the governor, public utilities commission and the state coal clearing house—all telling a story of suffering.

Ohio State University officials reported that unless [illegible] for the university [illegible] this afternoon that institution probably would be forced to close. With seventy patients in the university hospital, which would be affected by the fuel shortage, it was pointed out that the situation is serious.

In a number of small communities light plants have been closed for several days because of lack of coal. Many Ohio schools have been dismissed and [illegible] and [illegible] a few [illegible] gover[illegible]

Coat Day

In the Junior Department (Third Floor)

100 Coats (In Sizes for Juniors)

365 Coats (In Sizes 2 to 6 and 7 to 16 Years)

And They Are All Selected Styles

The way they have been piling in these last few days; coats, coats, coats, and in such styles! Our buyer, now in New York, has been picking them out, a few here, a few there, wherever a new and pretty style or exceptional value showed itself.

Ready, READY!

Ready for as many of the younger folk as will visit the Junior Department today.

We have managed to get the quantity and the sort of coats that the young folk will want.

Variety? Well, let the price range tell that.

Sizes 2 to 6 Years, $5.75 to $35
Sizes 7 to 16 Years, $6.75 to $50
Junior Sizes, $13.50 to $75

We could hardly list the different styles young women may choose from. See them!

We Might Well Emphasize the Display of

Sweaters for Children and Girls

Just As We Have the Coats--Conditions Justify It

For today's display will be our season's best. Late arrivals have made it so.

And may we give a word of advice—sweaters are becoming harder and harder to get—as Uncle Remus would say: "Dey's pow'ful scace." Such being the case, we can urge selection now, while the variety is so fine and the size ranges complete.

Sweaters for Babies at $1.75 to $3.75
Sweaters for Girls of 2 to 6 years $2.50 to $6.50
Sweaters for Girls of 6 to 16 years $4.00 to $12.50

Rules and Regulations to Govern Administration of U. S. Warehouse Act Will Be Considered.

Mr. Brand, chief of the bureau of markets at Washington, D. C., announced Friday that public hearings upon the rules and regulations to govern the administration of the United States warehouse act as it relates to cotton will be held in Atlanta, at the Ansley hotel, next Tuesday, October 16.

The administration of the federal statute as it will affect cotton is a matter of vital importance not only to the farmer, but to everybody in the south, since cotton forms such an important part of the wealth of the south, and it is expected that the meeting will be very largely attended.

Mr. Brand has requested that bankers, underwriters, warehousemen, farmers and all persons interested in the question attend the hearings and give the representatives of the government the full benefit of their views upon the subject.

The hearing will begin at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Advices from Washington do not in- was known as the Stag[illegible] hearing will be [illegible] the bu[illegible]

Neither is it [illegible] need as to whether cotton seed will be considered at this meeting, but inasmuch as the government is considering the advisability of fixing a price for cotton seed and in view of the further fact that cotton seed producers feel that to do so would be detrimental to them, it is regarded as not improbable that the subject of cotton seed price regulation may be taken up at this meeting also.

DILLARD MAN SAVES MUCH ON DENTAL BILL

Experience of Hundreds Show That the Place to Visit Is the One-Price Dental Office for Teeth Treatment.

The One-Price Dental Office, 104½ Whitehall street, corner Mitchell, Atlanta, has a well-deserved reputation for doing any class of dental work at considerably lower prices than are charged in most other such establishments. People from all over the state find that they can save money by paying their expense to Atlanta and going to this dental office for treatment. On this subject A. P. Foster, of Dillard, Ga., writes: "The dental work you did for me last October consisted of tooth extraction and bridge work. Please allow me to say that this job has given and is giving entire satisfaction. I paid you $30 for this work and am satisfied that I saved $20 by giving you my patronage. Moreover, I secured a better grade of work than I could have gotten elsewhere. When in need of any further dental work you may be sure I shall call on you." The One-Price Dental Office pricelist is: Best gold crown, $3; bridge work, $3 per tooth; best set of teeth money can buy, $5. All work guaranteed ten years. Write for appointment. Office hours Sunday, 9 to 1.—(adv.)

$1,000,000 IN BONDS READY FOR DELIVERY

Third National Bank Makes Big Subscription to Second Liberty Loan Issue.

The Third National bank has subscribed to $1,000,000 worth of the second issue of Liberty bonds, and now has the actual bonds in its vaults ready for delivery to purchasers on Monday, October 15, the release date named by the government.

PRESIDENT FRANK HAWKINS,
Of the Third National Bank.

There was considerable delay on the part of the government in issuing the first Liberty Loan bonds, and many of the purchasers of these have not yet received them. As a result, some prospective purchasers of the second issue have been inquiring as to when these bonds would be ready for delivery. It has been the effort of the government to get them ready for distribution and delivery to purchasers by October 15.

President Frank Hawkins, of the Third National, realizing the desirability of having these bonds actually in hand for those wishing to buy them, arranged to secure $1,000,000 worth of them at the earliest possible moment. These are said to be the first of the new issue of 4 per cent Liberty Loan bonds received in Atlanta, and the Third National will be ready Monday to pass them across its counter to purchasers in exchange for cash at their face value.

The bonds received by the Third National are in all denominations from $50, which is the smallest, up to $5,000. The purchaser may secure bonds of any denomination he desires direct from the Third National bank, and the transaction is complete when the money is paid and the bond passed across the counter.

This will be a far more satisfactory plan than was followed in connection with the first Liberty Loan, where applications were filed, and in many instances full payment made long in advance of the receipt of the bond.

President Hawkins' friends were congratulating him Friday upon being the first to secure the actual bonds for the second Liberty Loan ready for distribution to purchasers in Atlanta and surrounding territory.

NEGRO IS ELECTROCUTED.

Ice Hooks Come in Contact With Electric Wires.

PYTHIANS OF GEORGIA RAISING RELIEF FUND

Ten thousand dollars is the amount specified for Georgia Pythians to contribute to the half million dollar war relief fund to be raised by the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias. The call for this fund was issued this week. Each lodge will be expected to contribute an amout equal to $1 per member.

This fund is to provide for the comfort and needs of Americans in military and naval service at the front, in training camps or wherever they may be stationed. Capital City lodge No. 33, of Atlanta, subscribed $100 for the relief fund Thursday night.

CARROLLTON MAN SHIES HAT IN CONGRESS RING

Carrollton, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—At the earnest solicitation of many friends from all over the district Sidney Holderness, of Carrollton, has yielded to the wishes of friends and consented to make the race for congress. At an enthusiastic meeting held in this city last night Mr. Holderness decided to throw his hat into the ring and make the fight. He has a long and successful legal career to his credit and has been eminently successful in business affairs.

MISTRIAL DECLARED IN TRIAL OF SEWELL

A mistrial in the prosecution of M. H. Sewell, a street car conductor, alleged to have aided and abetted W. M. Sewell, another street car conductor, in persuading Willie May Dillard, a young white girl of 72 Kennedy street, to make a trip to Chattanooga with W. M. Sewell, was declared Friday by the jury in the United States district court. W. M. Sewell is now serving a sentence for a violation of the Mann act. The vote was ten for acquittal and two for conviction.

Willie May Dillard took the stand and testified that Sewell approached her on the subject, at which time she asked if the man supposed to be his brother was married. Sewell answered that he was not, she declared, and advised her to marry him. The pair went to Chattanooga, where, she says, she was made to believe that she was legally married to Sewell who, at the time had a wife in Atlanta. M. H. Sewell is under bond, and will again face trial at the next term of court. The men are said to be of no relation, although, it is stated, often passed as brothers because of the similarity of names.

WILL ESTABLISH CASH MARKET FOR TOCCOA

Toccoa, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—A conference in Toccoa today between Dr. A. E. Keese, field representative of the state bureau of markets and prominent citizens of the city, will result in the early establishment in this city of a cash market for corn, beans, wheat, rye, oats, sweet potatoes and other farm products. C. H. Dance, capitalist, and E. T. Teasley, banker, are especially interested, and at once entered into a plan to organize a corporation with a capital stock of $10,000 for the purposes stated.

This company will erect on the railroad a brick storage warehouse, put in a feed mill, a new Racine corn husker and sheller, a meal and flour mill and a sweet potato curing house.

WHITE MAN GETS LIFE FOR KILLING A NEGRO

Carrollton, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—In Carroll superior court, Jim Brown, white, was Thursday morning convicted of murder, and given a life sentence. Some weeks ago, while drunk, it was charged that he had killed a negro child and committed other depredations about the home of an old negro near Lowell, in this county.

By Midnight Wednesday Sept. 12th

Up to midnight September 12th, during a period of 8½ months, we sold and delivered to tire dealers more United States Tires than we sold to dealers during the entire 12 months of 1916.

This phenomenal sales increase was made notwithstanding our epoch-making sales increases of 1916 over 1915.

These record-breaking sales increases of 1917 over 1916 and our record-breaking sales increases of 1916 over 1915 definitely and finally prove three facts:

1. The supremacy of United States Tires.
2. The fact that the vast army of automomobile owners who used United States Tires in 1916 are using them in 1917 on the sheer merit of their experience.
3. The fact that another vast army of automobile owners have been won over to the use of United States Tires in 1917 on the sheer superiority of our tires over other tires that they have tried.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR LOCAL REALTY

Mayor Asa G. Candler Buys Hunnicutt Property, Giving $10,000 Per Front Foot, or Total of $420,000.

Despite three and one-half years of war, despite a necessary commercial and financial readjustment incident to the war, and despite the opinions of pessimists that the local real estate market is "shot to pieces because of the war, and would remain that way until six months after the conflict," Atlanta real estate sold Friday at its highest front-foot price in the history of the city.

The price per front foot was $10,000. The previous high price was $8,200 a front foot, set about three years ago.

Asa G. Candler, Atlanta's capitalist and mayor of Atlanta, was the purchaser, buying what is known as the Hunnicutt property, on the northwest corner of Peachtree and Walton streets, for the lump sum of $420,000. This price is at the rate of $10,000 a front foot, as the property fronts 42 feet on Peachtree street.

Forrest & George Adair, local renting and real estate agents, handled the sale.

The property was until recently owned by the Calvin W. Hunnicutt estate. Since Mr. Hunnicutt's death and up to the time of the sale of the property it was owned by his five heirs, who are J. E. Hunnicutt, a son; Mrs. W. R. Prescott, Mrs. J. A. Greene and Mrs. William Drake, daughters, and L. Hunnicutt, a grandson.

For a number of years the property was known as the Stag hotel. The upper floors of the building are now leased to the Wilson Hotel company, and a number of stores occupy quarters on the ground floor, which fronts on three streets—Peachtree street, Walton street and North Broad street.

In 1862 the property sold for $2,000. In 1872 it sold for $16,000, the late C. W. Hunnicutt buying it at this figure from Richard Peters and the late George W. Adair.

Mr. Candler, who bought the parcel in the name of the Asa G. Candler, Inc., does not plan any immediate development of it, but at some time in the future probably will erect a modern skyscraper on it.

CAMP COMMANDERS MAY BE AUTHORIZED TO REOPEN CLAIMS

Advices from the provost marshal general to the adjutant general's office indicate that commanders of training camps will be given power to authorize district boards to re-open exemption claim cases, where it seems to the commander that an injustice has been done. The condition under which this authority may be given are not yet clear, but the camp commanders will probably have no authority where a point of fact is involved.

The first Georgian to be discharged from military service by President Wilson is Greene Byrd Perry, a farmer, of Bleckley county, according to advices to the office of the adjutant general to the effect that the decision of South Georgia District Board, No. 1, in certifying Mr. Perry for service, has been reversed. Major Joel B. Mallet, wired to Bleckley county to ascertain whether Mr. Perry has been sent to camp, and if he had, it is expected that his release will be forthcoming without delay.

Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' union, has just returned from Washington, and makes the announcement that while in Washington he conferred with Provost Marshal General Crowder and received assurance that Georgians whose presence upon the farms is absolutely essential will not be sent to camp.

"Red Thunder" Preserves Peace Among Jess Willard's Indians

One of Indian braves with Jess Willard's Wild West show.

When the management of the Jess Willard-Buffalo Bill Wild West show, which is an Oklahoma product, called upon Flying Hawk, the old Sioux Chief, to appoint a "policeman" to preserve the peace among the many Indians with the show, his choice fell upon Red Thunder, a Sioux brave from the Pine Ridge reservation, South Dakota.

In the Jess Willard-Buffalo Bill show Red Thunder's duties as "policeman" are not very strenuous. When jealousy is aroused among the young braves over the pretty Indian girls, Red Thunder acts as peacemaker; when an Indian actor shirks his work in the performance, the "policeman" admonishes him and makes him toe the mark; when a quarrel occurs between the Indians of the rival tribes comprising the Indian congress, Red Thunder separates the combatants and incarcerates them in the "calaboose" in the rear of the Indian village.

The Indian village and the peculiar open-air life of the red men provide and interesting study for the students of ethnology, just as Jess Willard, the cowboy champion of the world, who is announced to appear at both performances, compels interest on the part of the fans. Willard will be seen both as a cowboy and as a ring gladiator. The champion has a company of sparrers with him, and they assist him to illustrate how Jack Johnson was knocked out. Willard's boxing exhibition is given, it is announced, in the big show, and not in the concert. A lively wild west performance, a novel circus program and a picturesque preliminary street parade are promised. The parade takes place on the morning of the opening day, Monday, October 22.

TWO YEARS AND FINE GIVEN PAUL WIERSE

Charleston, S. C., October 12.—Paul Wierse, of Charleston, furnished bond in the sum of $10,000 today, pending an appeal in the case against him, tried at Aiken, S. C., this week, which charged conspiracy to sink the German vessel Liebenfels in Charleston harbor. Wierse was sentenced to serve two years in federal prison and to pay a fine of $1,000.

M'DONALD IS INDICTED FOR MURDER OF JUNG

Prominent Legal Talent Will Take Part in Trial of Prisoner.

J. M. McDonald was indicted by the Fulton county grand jury Friday afternoon for the murder of Joe Jung, Atlanta chop suey king, who died at Grady hospital Thursday night from injuries received in an altercation Wednesday night at Lakewood, when McDonald is alleged to have hit the Chinese on the head with a billie.

Jung died without having spoken since he was wounded, but witnesses stated that the trouble at the fair grounds arose when McDonald, who has charge of the concessions, ordered Jung to change the location of a stand which he was putting up. Jung is said to have remarked that there were "so many bosses at the fair that he did not know what to do," and it is then that witnesses state the death blow was inflicted.

Five eye-witnesses were summoned to appear before the grand jury, but only two were examined, and the grand jury deliberated for only a short while before returning the indictment.

McDonald is a native of Mississippi, and had charge of the state fair there for many years. He was in charge of the concessions at the Southeastern fair last year in Atlanta, and fair officials are at a loss to supply the vacancy left by his incarceration.

It is expected that the Jung case will be one of the most hotly-fought murder cases in Fulton county for a long time. Jung was considered the most prominent Chinaman in Atlanta, and his many friends are very much wrought over his death, while McDonald has influential friends and holds a responsible position. The trial will probably take place week after next.

Attorneys Harvey Hill and Reuben Arnold have been retained to assist Solicitor Boykin in the prosecution, and the defense will employ the best legal talent in the city. McDonald is being held in the Tower without bond.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED TO ELECT HOFFMAN IN THE EIGHTH WARD

W. D. Hoffman, candidate for council from the eighth ward, and his friends are planning a whirlwind campaign in the eighth to secure the nomination of Mr. Hoffman in the city white primary election on next Wednesday.

A large number of prominent residents of the eighth ward met in the Hoffman headquarters in the Rhodes building at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and organized the Eighth Ward Hoffman Political club.

Mr. Hoffman is manager of the Otis Elevator company. His friends are running his campaign on the grounds that he is the only business man making the race. Besides prominent business men, professional and laboring men were present at the Hoffman organization meeting Friday night.

Optimistic addresses were made, speakers expressing the utmost confidence in the success of Mr. Hoffman in the primary.

Exhibition of Knitted Articles for Sammies and Sailors at Southeastern Fair

How to knit sweaters, helmets, mufflers, wristlets and socks for the soldiers and the sailors will be fully demonstrated in a most interesting exhibit to be made in the woman's department of the Southeastern fair. This exhibit will be under the department of women's arts and crafts of which Mrs. Wilmer Moore is chairman.

Members of the committee will be present each day of the fair to give any information on the subject of any phase of the knitting. Each day the demand for these knitted articles for the soldiers becomes more urgent. Both for the men on the other side and from those in the cantonements is there need for sweaters, helmets, mufflers, wristlet and socks. They are not difficult to make, and the woman who has plenty of time on her hands, especially the one who is separated from the activities of the city or town, will find herself interested and occupied in a good cause during the fall and winter evenings, if she knows how to knit.

She will be given the opportunity to learn in the woman's department of the state fair.

Value of Dairy Products At Southeastern Fair.

How to make the dairy products, and make them right, is one of the most valuable exhibits at the Southeastern fair. This exhibit is in the department of agriculture, and at an hour to be stated in the daily program of the fair an expert in dairy products will discuss the subject, and give demonstrations. From the important incident of how to milk the cow, every process to the printing of the butter will be shown. The values of the milk, the cream, the buttermilk, cheese, etc., will be likewise demonstrated, and the present value of all the dairy products stressed.

The cutting down of meat and bread under the food conservation campaign puts an unprecedented value on milk, and its by-products, and the women of the farms especially will find in the daily exhibit in dairying one of the most helpful exhibits at the fair.

Atlanta Psychological Society.

The Atlanta Psychological society will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the convention hall of the Ansley hotel. The subject for discussion is "Power."

Mrs. Ashby will give a short talk on personalities in the new thought movement.

These meetings are interesting and instructive and the public is cordally invited.

At Piedmont Driving Club.

A number of dinner parties have been planned for this evening at the Piedmont Driving club.

Mr. Stanley Mathewson will be host at a party in compliment to his cousin, Miss Josephine Wilkins, of Athens, the guest of Mrs. J. O. Mathewson. The guests will include Miss Wilkins, Miss Dorothy Wyeth, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Carrie Blount, Mr. Russell Compton, Mr. Sam Carter, of Carters; Mr. Willard McBurney, Mr. Homer Hunt and Mr. Mathewson.

Mrs. Harris D'Antignac, of Augusta, the guest of Mrs. Ashby Jones, will be the central figure at a party entertained by a group of officers from Camp Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bagley will entertain a few young people in honor of their daughter, Miss Henrietta Davis, who will leave Monday for college.

Captain Inglehart will be host at a dinner party, the guests to include a group of young people.

Mr. James F. Alexander, Mr. Homer Hunt, Colonel and Mrs. W. L. Peel and Lieutenant R. B. Carter will be among those entertaining parties.

Lunch Room at Southeastern Fair.

A cordial invitation is extended every one visiting the great Southeastern fair to visit the lunch room in the agricultural building conducted by the ladies of Martha Brown Memorial Methodist church, the proceeds to be used for the building fund of their new church.

Breakfast, dinner and supper will be served each day. Delicious, old-fashioned cooking will be found. The lunch room opens this morning.

Sunday Music at Ponce de Leon Baptist.

The following program will be given Sunday at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church:

MORNING 11:00.

Organ Prelude—"Grand Choeur," Kinder.

Anthem—"To Deum, in B Minor," Buck.

Offertory—Anthem, "The Souls of the Righteous," Woodman.

Organ Postlude—"March, "Pittoresque," Kroeger.

EVENING 7:45.

Organ Prelude—"Canzone," Hall.

Anthem—"What Are These," Stainer.

Offertory—Anthem, "Oh! Thou Whose Power," Spicker—Miss Powell and quartet.

Organ Postlude—Finale (From "Sonata in D Minor"), West.

The Choir—Mrs. William E. Dow, soprano; Miss Rosa C. Powell, contralto; Howard Davis, tenor; John H. Mullin, bass.

Walter Peck Stanley, organist and choirmaster.

Dance at East Lake.

One of the events of the week-end will be the regular dinner-dance this evening at the East Lake Country club. A number of parties have been planned and the officers of the Reserve corps are expected. Dancing will be in the ballroom.

Joseph Habersham Chapter, D. A. R.

The Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will hold its regular meeting Monday, October 15, at Edison hall, corner Peachtree and Ellis streets, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, first vice chairman of Atlanta-Fulton county unit, National Council of Defense, will address the meeting and explain what the council represents and what the unit wishes to accomplish here in patriotic work. Mrs. Charles J. Haden, chairman of the unit, will be present if possible.

A large attendance of the members of the chapter is expected.

Executive Council of Oglethorpe Board Of Women.

The executive council of the Oglethorpe university board of women met yesterday morning with Mrs. Thornwell Jacobs at her home in Ansley Park and many interesting plans of work for the year were discussed.

Mrs. J. K. Ottley presided.

It was decided that the beautifying of the grounds at Oglethorpe university should be one of the main objects of the board this coming year, and a resolution to that effect was passed to put the matter for consideration before the general meeting of the board next week.

Mrs. Thomas Brumby, chairman of the Marietta committee of the board, was present and spoke of the committee now being organized in Marietta, a more complete report to be made by her at the next meeting.

The general fall business meeting of the Oglethorpe board of women will be held next Friday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock.

This meeting will be the most important of the year as the meeting in January is purely a social one and the one in May is held at the university for the purpose of inspecting the university.

The members of the executive council are:

Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Mrs. J. H. High, Mrs. James R. Gray, Mrs. George Parrott, Mrs. Frank Inman, Mrs. A. A. Little, Mrs. Norman Sharpe, Mrs. E. D. Crane, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. Bertha Swift, Mrs. Cobb Caldwell, Mrs. Stuart Witham, Jr., Mrs. Clem Harris, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. Hugh Bancker, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Thomas Brumby, Mrs W. S. Elkin, Mrs. J. D. Robinson, Mrs. J. Bulow Campbell, Mrs. Samuel Inman, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Mrs. M. V. Eagan, Mrs. J. T. Stephenson, Mrs. J. D. Osborne, Mrs. George McCarty, Jr., Mrs. Gilham Morrow, Mrs. Stephen Barnett, Mrs. J. D. McCarty, Mrs. Linton Johnson, Mrs. Erwin Mueller, Mrs. James Thompson Williams, Mrs. C. B. Walker.

Atlanta Alumni LaGrange College.

A most enthusiastic meeting of a few of the Atlanta Alumni of LaGrange college was held Friday morning at the Ansley hotel.

The meeting was called by Miss Daisy Davies, the president of the college, who made a statement concerning the present status of the college and also related some of its illustrious history.

LaGrange college began sending out its graduates in 1833, though not chartered until a few years later. Thus it is among the oldest colleges for women in the world, and has, throughout its eighty-four years, contributed a strong body of women to the world's service.

Atlanta has a particularly strong group of alumni who are preparing to get behind the college with deep interest, abiding love and great enthusiasm.

The following were present at the meeting yesterday:

Mrs. Henry L. Flynt, Mrs. Lil Pennington, Mrs. James B. Ridley, Mrs. Thomas Northen, Mrs. B. A. Warlick, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. E. Rivers, Mrs. W. H. Cotter, Mrs. John Maddox, Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. E. J. West, Mrs. J. O. Norris, Mrs. J. A. Sasser, Miss Terresa Thrower, Miss Adelaide Hall, Mrs. Wallace Rogers, Mrs. Andrew E. Calhoun, Mrs. Luke Johnson.

The occasion was one of deep joy to the "old girls" thus together again in the interest of the "dear old college."

It was of special interest that Mrs. Calhoun, one of the aulmni present, was the daughter of the late Dr. J. W. Heidt, who was long the efficient and honored president of the college.

Many who could not attend sent messages of regret and asked to be counted on for the future.

An Atlanta chapter of the Alumni association was formed. Mrs. Clarence Johnson was elected president and Mrs. E. Rivers secretary and treasurer.

The next meeeing, when the formal organization will take place, will be held at the Ansley hotel Friday morning, October 26. Every graduate of the college in or near the city is expected to be present at that time.

MRS. LUKE JOHNSON.

Family Dinner Party.

Mrs. H. G. Bass entertained at an informal spend-the-day party yesterday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Cozart Bass, who celebrated her 82d birthday. Only the members of the family were present, including Mrs. M. Harrison, Mrs. Annie Cozart Smith, Mrs. Susan Cozart Fraser, and Mrs. Ella Cozart Trotti.

For Mrs. Lamar.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gumm entertained at a beautiful dinner party at their home on Ponce de Leon avenue last evening in honor of Mrs. J. C. Lamar, of Augusta, who is spending a few days in the city.

The table was artistically decorated in goldenrod and the candesticks were shaded in gold.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robin Adair, Mrs. Charles Schoen, Mr. Sidney Owen and Mr. W. C. Addison.

Debutante Club Entertained.

Miss Nellie Dodd entertained the members of the Debutante club at a buffet luncheon yesterday at her home on West Peachtree street, following the regular meeting of the club. Fall flowers decorated the house and the buffet table in the dining room had as its centerpiece a basket of handsome yellow dahlias, and other details of the pretty table reflected the color of the flowers.

The next meeting will be with Miss Elizabeth Hawkins.

AMERICAN BANKERS ISSUE STATEMENT.

New York, October 12.—More millions were added to the second Liberty Loan in the New York federal reserve district today, despite the financial inactivity usually accompanying a holiday. Total subscriptions announced tonight were $287,515,400. The largest for the day was one of $3,000,000 from the United States Mortgage and Trust company.

A statement issued by the central war loan committee of the American Bankers' association declared that "The banks now face the greatest responsibility in their existence," and that the business of the banker will be "quite unusual."

"Loans and re-discounts will need to be temporarily expanded," the statement said. "The safety of the nation depends on a proper handling of the problems of financing. Every dollar must be made to do its maximum service.

"Some bankers have faltered because of fear of disturbance to their deposits. This situation has been met by others through promotions of the sale of bonds on the partial payment plan. It is better to mortgage the future savings of the people than to have money withdrawn from banks and consequently from business. The fact that the funds arising from the sale of Liberty bonds will be spent in America and will gradually return to the banks through the channels of trade, should not be overlooked."

The significance of the war and the important part the Liberty Loan will play in ending it were carried into the densely populated east side today by twenty-six Jewish soldiers in uniform from the cantonment at Yaphank, N. Y. Aided by a score of bond salesmen, the soldiers sold about $35,000 worth of bonds. Most of those who subscribed, it was said, earned average wages of $15 a week.

CAMP SHERIDAN TAKES $1,000,000.

Montgomery, Ala., October 12.—Camp Sheridan will have subscribed $1,000,000 in the Liberty Loan campaign by Saturday night, in the opinion of officers in charge, who report that $314,000 was the total Friday. The campaign will reach its height on Wednesday, October 24, when "Rally Day" will be declared in camp and when every man will be given his liberty for the full day. Athletic contests on each of the regimental athletic fields will be conducted in the day, and at night the parade grounds in front of division headquarters will be the scene of ceremonies probably never before witnessed on an army reservation.

MEN OF ARMY BUYING BONDS.

Washington, October 12.—The men of the army have subscribed $3,716,000 to the second Liberty Loan, reports today to the adjutant general's office show. The leading camps which thus far have reported are: Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., $266,000; Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kas., $243,650; Camp Kearny, Linda Vista, Cal., $191,000; Camp Upton, Yaphank, N. Y., $98,150; Camp Meade, Admiral, Md., $80,550, and Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas, $70,450. The Eighth Illinois infantry, of Chicago, has a regimental subscription of $54,100. Several organizations have reported every man as a subscriber.

COALITION GOVERNMENT FORMED FOR CANADA

Liberals Agree to Take Office Under Premier Borden.

Ottawa, Ontario, October 12.—With the swearing in of nine new cabinet ministers early today the members of the liberal party who see in compulsory military service the only solution for bringing forth the full strength of the dominion in the prosecution of the war have joined hands with Sir Robert Borden and completed the rupture between themselves and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which started with the introduction of the compulsory military service bill in the house of commons.

The new coalition cabinet will have equal representation of conscription liberals and conservatives, and while two of the liberal selections, F. B. Carvell, New Brunswick, slated for minister of marine and fisheries, and George Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, who is intended for the labor portfolio, have not yet consented to join the government, it is expected to be only a question of hours before they do so.

This lines up the leaders for the two parties for the coming election as straight supporters of compulsory military service or straight opponents of this method of reinforcing Canada's fighting forces overseas, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier chief of the latter, and having as his lieutenants Frank Oliver and William Pughsley, who were members of his last cabinet.

There is some doubt as to where the new arrangement leaves George H. Graham, minister of railways under the Laurier administration, and F. F. Pardee, chief liberal whip, both of whom voted for the military service bill at its third reading, although declaring themselves in favor of conscription of wealth as well. As matters stand at present, it is a little difficult to predict who will be found in opposition to the government and who will be supporting it when it goes to the country in the elections, but it is a pretty safe guess that sentiment in favor of compulsory military service will be found lined up solidly behind it.

Formation of a union government in Canada will not eliminate opposition in parliament. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's liberal followers in parliament and in the country have so firmly objected to accepting the resignation of leadership offered by Sir Wilfrid that he has decided not to press its acceptance.

Sir Wilfrid will lead his party in the coming election, and will take the position that conscription for a hundred thousand Canadian reinforcements having been enacted, the law must be carried out, but there must be referendum before further men are taken by conscription.

Then there are the dog show, fostered by the Atlanta Kennel club; the women's department, which is under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin and her co-workers, is a great feature; the mercantile and manufactured exhibits in the Fine Arts building, and a score of other departments to keep the visitor interested and marveling for a week.

SHERIFF LOWRY OFFERS SERVICES AT THE FAIR

Sheriff J. I. Lowry has offered to the Southeastern Fair association his services and those of his men in maintaining order on the Lakewood grounds during the fair.

Sheriff Lowry offers the service of his force without any compensation whatever, and a number of deputies will be assigned to duty on the fair grounds to assist the ctiy and county police who will be on duty.

FOOD PLEDGE WEEK POSTPONED BY HOOVER

In Interest of Liberty Loan. Wilson Asked Postponement.

Washington, October 12.—Food Pledge week, set for October 21 to 27, has been postponed to the week of October 28 to November 4 by Food Administrator Hoover, at the request of President Wilson, so that it will not conflict with the final week of the second Liberty Loan drive.

The president, in his letter to the food administrator, said that it seemed to him undesirable in "the interest of both these capital matters" that they should be in motion at the same time, and he laid emphasis upon the importance of the work of enrolling the people of the nation in food conservation.

Plans had been laid by the food administration to have its corps of 500,000 workers in the food pledge campaign assist in the flotation of the Liberty Loan while enrolling families under the food administration, and these will be carried out. The president, in his letter, said he wished particularly to express his great appreciation of the service which this additional tax on their time will impose upon the volunteer workers.

President to Hoover.

The president's letter to Mr. Hoover follows:

"The exigencies of the treasury have required setting the final week of the Liberty Loan campaign during the period of October 21 to October 28. This, I understand, brings it into the same week as the food conservation pledge campaign. It seems to me undesirable in the interest of both these capital matters that this should occur. In all the circumstances, therefore, I would be glad if the pledge campaign could be deferred one week, that is, until October 28 to November 4.

"In asking this alteration of the plans of yourself and your associates I should like to take this occasion to impress upon them that I in no way underrate the importance of their effort. If we are to supply our allies with the necessary food and are to reduce our own prices of foodstuffs during the coming winter, it can only be accomplished by the utmost self-denial and service on the part of all our people through the elimination of waste and by rigid economy in the use of food. Therefore, I would be glad if you would convey to all of your staff throughout the country my feeling of the prime importance of their plans and their work.

"I wish particularly to express my great appreciation of the service which this additional tax on their time will impose upon the many thousand volunteers who have already deferred their own concerns to public interest in this important work. I ask them not to allow this alteration in program to dampen their fine enthusiasm, but, rather to redouble their energies in their very great branch of national service."

Hoover to President.

In replying Mr. Hoover wrote:

"I am obliged for your favor of October 10. We, of course, have taken the necessary steps to comply with your wish as to deferring the final week of our food conservation pledge campaign until the week of October 28 to November 4. You will, of course, realize that we may be unable to reach some of the more remote districts. I have no doubt that the five hundred thousand workers who have enlisted in this service will loyally respond to your request for a greater and longer-continued exertion. Your emphasis on the national importance of the conservation campaign should stimulate our large body of devoted workers to the utmost effort during the new week."

RAILROADS TO SEEK GOVERNMENT HELP

Operating Expenses Out of Proportion to Increase in Gross Receipts.

Washington, October 12.—Reports that the railroads are considering informally asking the government to help them, in some way, to obtain money with which to maintain and enlarge their present plants and equipment to enable them to cope with the high tide of traffic, are regarded, by officials here as forecasting a concerted move soon toward that end.

What form this move will assume apparently has not yet been decided by the roads themselves. It is reported that they have under consideration several courses.

One possible method is a renewed petition for a general increase in freight rates. Another is to request the government to lend the railroads money on railroad securities. For this, however, special legislation would be necessary.

Other plans, details of which have not been revealed, are said to be under consideration.

Railroads are earning very nearly as much as last year, which marked the high tide, but within the last two months operating expenses have shown an increase, said to be out of all proportion to the increase in gross receipts.

Railroad executives say that as the government has a practical monopoly through Liberty bond issues, of the investment funds of the country, they have found it almost impossible to obtain funds.

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS CALL 49TH CONVENTION

Washington Meeting Place in Order to Put Pressure on Congress.

Washington, October 12.—The official call was issued for the forty-ninth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, to be held here December 12 to 15. Washington was selected as the meeting place so that pressure might be brought to bear upon congress in favor of the pending federal women suffrage amendment. The delegates who are expected to number more than 1,000, represent some 2,000,000 women in every state in the Union.

"For the forty-ninth time in its history," the call says, "the National Women Suffrage association issues a call to its state auxiliaries to send their elected delegates to meet with their officers, committees and life members in annual convention. The place selected is Washington, D. C., December 12 to 15, 1917.

"Since last we met, the all-engulfing world-war has drawn our own country into its maelstrom and ominous clouds rest over the earth, obscuring the vision and oppressing the souls of mankind. Yet out of the confusion and chaos of strife, there has developed a stronger promise of the triumph of democracy than the world has ever known.

"Every allied nation has announced that it is fighting for democracy, and our own president has declared that 'we are fighting for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own government.' Now Russia has answered the call; Great Britain has approved full suffrage for women and the measure has already passed the house of commons by the enormous majority of seven to one. Canada, too, has responded with five newly-enfranchised provinces. France is waiting only to drive the foe from her soil to give her women political liberty.

"Such an array of victories gives us faith to believe that our own government will soon follow the example of other allied nations and will also pledge votes to its women citizens as an earnest of its sincerity that in truth we do fight for democracy.

"This is our first national convention since our country entered the war. We are faced with new problems and new issues, and the nation is realizing its dependence upon women as never before. It must be made to realize also that, willingly as women are now serving, they can serve still more efficiently when they shall have received the full measure of citizenship. These facts must be urged upon congress, and our government must be convinced that the time has come for the enfranchisement of women, by means of an amendment to the federal constitution.

"Men and women who believe that the great question of world democracy includes government of the people, by the people and for the people in our country are invited to attend our convention and counsel with us on ways and means to attain this object at the earliest possible moment."

The call is signed by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president, and the following members of the national board: Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Missouri, Mrs. Stanley McCormick of New York, Miss Esther G. Ogden of New Jersey, Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers of Connecticut, Mrs. Frank J. Shuler of New York, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith of Kentucky, Mrs. Pattie Ruffner Jacobs of Alabama, Mrs. Maud Wood Park of Massachusetts, Mrs. Henrietta W. Livermore and Miss Rose Young of New York.

GOOD FRIEND TO WOMEN

That's What Mount Pleasant Lady Says Cardui Is, and Tells What It Did for Her.

Mt. Pleasant, Tenn.—"As a girl I was always well and hearty," says Mrs. M. E. Rail, of this place. "I have always been accounted healthy. I never felt any trouble like . . . weakness until I came to the change of life. I was about forty-five when that began. I think I would have died had I not found out what a good friend to women Cardui is.

I suffered a great deal. I had a number of fainting spells, and . . . would be obliged to lie in bed a week or two at a time. I never liked to lie in bed because it interfered so with my work. The swimming in my head was nearly continuous. I could not stoop down it would make me so dizzy. I think I used Cardui off and on for two or three years, using in that time about 8 or 10 bottles. I began to feel the improvement in health before I had taken one bottle, but kept on taking it until I got in perfect health.

Had it not been for Cardui I know I would have been dead. . . . Now I am 62 years old, and weigh about 175, and am in the most perfect health."

Give Cardui a trial for your troubles. It should do for you what it has done for thousands of others.—(adv.)

A Woman's Duty

Since the beginning of time, it has been woman's sphere in life to rear the future generation. Three generations of expectant mothers have aided nature by the regular use of the time-honored external application, "Mother's Friend".

This safe and reliable emollient softens the skin of the abdomen; the muscles expand easily and more naturally when baby is born, and this liniment is the greatest contribution of science to a happy motherhood.

"Mother's Friend" is the prescription of a famous physician who prescribed it in his obstetrical practice for over forty years, and is of such a helpful and natural nature as to be in every way necessary to the expectant mother. All reliable druggists supply "Mother's Friend". Apply it yourself to the abdomen and breasts night and morning. Write the Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. L, 46 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., and they will send you a little book brimful of scientifically prepared information, without charge. Write for it by all means, and do not fail to aid nature by the use of "Mother's Friend". Ask for a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at your druggist's today.

Mitzi Doing Her "Bit" for U. S. By Buying Liberty Loan Bonds

"I'm the Youngest and the Littlest in the Bunch, But They All Come to Me With Their Troubles," Says Magnetic Musical Comedy Star.

By Nell Freeman.

They call Mitzi Hajos a prima donna, but it's a positive sacrilege. She's just a girl, and a regular girl, too—even if she can sing wonderfully. Prima donnas are usually fat and temperamental and artistic and everything. But Mitzi is none of these things. She's little and cute and sunshiny—this wonderful little singer from Hungary, and when you get a glimpse of her you just naturally don't want to go away.

And so when I went out to the Georgian Terrace to "interview" the pickpocket of "Pom-Pom," once I had entered the presence, I wanted to stick around as long as possible, and invented various schemes to prolong my stay.

"Won't you have some coffee and a sandwich?" asked Mitzi, when I had begun to make myself at home. I told her yes, that I was always ready for a sandwich, and all the time I was figuring out just how long I could make a club sandwich last. Mitzi ordered a sandwich for me and some coffee for herself, and the waiter brought up a tray and set it on one of Mitzi's many trunks, and we got busy.

Does Not Talk Shop.

Mitzi doesn't talk shop, and so we naturally drifted into the war. And then little Mitzi's big blue eyes showed signs of suppressed tears, for she has two brothers in the Hungarian army, and she has not heard from any of her people for more than a year.

"I am an American, though," explained Mitzi, "and I am investing virtually all of my ready money in Liberty bonds. The war is a big thing, and there are many things about it which will be known to the world in later years but cannot be explained now. Hungary is in the war because of economic necessity, nothing more. It was either that or —"

Here Mitzi broke off for a minute, and then added:

"I want to tell you this: That Hungary absolutely adores anything that is American. Her ideals are yours—or ours. Some day you will understand."

Thinking perhaps that war talk was not sufficiently cheerful for Mitzi, a little saucy some kind of a Mexican dog came up and nipped the interviewer's fingers, and so the conversation traveled to lighter things.

Mitzi is the very nicest little person to interview imaginable, and lets the reporter prowl around in her room, examining everything and looking at the clothes, which, by the way, are some clothes, and plenty of 'em. She even said I could stick around until she was ready to go to the theater, and she told me what to use to make my hair nice and fluffy like hers, and she said she would bring me back to town in her automobile, and—she gave me a hat. It isn't every actress who will give the reporter a hat, either.

75 Hats—Count 'Em.

Mitzi has seventy-five of them, great big ones, and middle-sized ones, and little wee ones—of every kind and color, and when I said I thought seventy-five hats was too many for such a little person and that reporters never had more than one, why she just asked me to help myself. It's a dear little black velvet affair, with kind of purple roses around, and the name on the inside is something to be proud of. I put the new hat on, and haven't taken it off till yet, for it was Mitzi's.

Pretty soon it was time to go to the theater. Mitzi had to be early, she said, because Carl Judd, one of her "boys," had received a telegram last night to report in New Jersey at once to begin training in the signal corps service, in which he enlisted some time ago. And Mitzi said she had to go down early and break in a new one.

"Why, you're not big enough to break in anybody," I gasped.

"I'm little," said Mitzi, "but I can do things, and I'm the mother of the company. I'm the youngest and the littlest in the bunch (yes, she uses a little slang), but they all come to me with their troubles; in fact, I'm a real boss. It took me a long time to convince folks—especially managers—that little folks can do things, but I finally did it."

Mitzi brought me back to town in her automobile, and that's about all, except that she has a diamond ring which weighs eighteen karats, and looks like more, and she paid for it with some of her "Pom-Pom" money, and you call her name "Hy-yos."

STEVEDORE COMPANIES FROM CAMP SELECTMEN

Five Companies to Be Organized and Attached to Quartermaster's Department.

In pursuit of a general policy in regard to negro selectmen at Camp Gordon, which is to deplete the number of negro troops at the camp in such a way as to keep on hand only the First Provisional regiment of negroes, the plan for the first outflow of negro selectmen was made public yesterday when it was announced that five companies of negro stevedores to be attached to the quartermaster's department will be immediately organized at the camp and sent to ports of embarkation and debarkation for the purpose of shipping and receiving supplies for the American forces in Euroe.

The five stevedore companies will be officered by unassigned officers of the quartermaster's department now attached to the Eighty-second division.

This will require some twenty officers, captains and lieutenants, and authorities of the camp quartermaster's department have already made recommendation for their appointment. A list of names of officers has been forwarded to Washington for ratification and as soon as the government takes action in the matter operations will be begun in earnest.

Whether the companies are to be used at American shipping ports or foreign receiving ports is not made public.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF GENERAL WEST TO BE HELD TODAY

The funeral services of General A. J. West, who died Thursday morning at his home, 789 Peachtree street, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the residence.

The "Old Guard" of the Gate City Guard, will have full charge of the services. The members will assemble at 10 o'clock this morning at the Georgian Terrace and march to the West home, led by Wedemeyer's band. From the home the "guard" will escort the body to the grave in Oakland cemetery, where they will fire a salute and the bugler will sound taps.

Dr. James E. Dickey, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate, assisted by Dr. Charles Lane, of Macon, a boyhood friend of General West.

The pallbearers will be Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, William S. Ansley, Dr. J. H. Powell, Shepard Bryan, Arnold Broyles and Walter P. Andrews.

The following gentlemen will form the military escort with the members of the Old Guard and Camp No. 159, U. C. V.: Colonel S. W. Wilkes, Colonel J. Colton Lynes, Forrest Adair, Walter P. Brown, T. J. Avery, Frank Inman, T. J. Peeples, Charles E. Currier, Colonel William Lawson Peel, George R. Donovan, Captain J. W. English, Wilmer L. Moore, Colonel A. J. McBride, Major J. L. McCollum, ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown, Judge W. T. Newman and Judge George L. Bell.

General West is survived by his wife, a son, H. F., with whom he was associated in the real estate business; also two daughters, Mrs. W. L. Henry, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Ira C. Jones, of Los Angeles.

Wage Dispute Adjusted.

Washington, October 12.—The longshoremen's wage dispute at Norfolk, Newport News, Hampton Roads and vicinity has been adjusted by labor department conciliators, with new contracts effective for one year. About 2,500 workmen were directly affected and the same number indirectly by the settlement, which was a compromise.

How Uncle Sam Will Dig Into Your Pocketbook

From the cradle to the grave most of man's activities will now be taxed under the new Revenue Bill, points out an Associated Press correspondent, since "baby's first dash of talcum powder under the 2% tax on cosmetics will help the Government carry on the war, and after death, the Federal Collectors will be on hand to get the Inheritance Tax at advances on the present rate of from 1% on $50,000.00 to 10% on $1,000,000.00."

While Congressman Kitchin and Senator Simmons, respectively responsible for the Tax Revenue legislation in the House and Senate, express much satisfaction with it, the newspaper press in various sections of the country is commenting upon what it deems, to use the words of the New York Evening Sun, the law's serious "inequities," "obscurities," "incomprehensibilities," and "unworkabilities."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 13th, a clear exposition of what the new taxation will cost individuals and corporations is given and the drift of public opinion upon it is shown. Other striking phases of the world's news are presented under these headings:

ANOTHER PASHA EXPOSURE.

Revelations of German intrigue, perfidy and surreptitious plotting have been issuing from the state department from day to day, and coming so thick and fast as to be really astounding. They show conclusively that since long before the severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany this country has been fairly honeycombed with sedition directed from Berlin through the German embassy in Washington. History affords no parallel to it in point of international knavery and dishonor.

First there were the Von Igel exposures, showing how the whole Von Bernstorff regime before this country's departure from a course of strict neutrality was nothing less than a base for treacherous and perfidious machinations to undermine this country while ostensibly striking at Canada. Next came the Von Papen exposures, together with the Boy-Ed affair, all of the same character.

But most astounding of all the exposures of this nature was that of the Bolo Pasha intrigues, in which it is shown that the German government authorized the draft of nearly $2,000,000 to subsidize American influences, and notably to "reach" congress and the American as well as the French press.

There are a great many features about the Bolo Pasha revelations that are a stench in the nostrils of the people; but perhaps the most noteworthy one is that the very men with which the name of that arch-conspirator was associated in this country are men who were notoriously pro-German in their attitude with relation to the war prior to America's entry into it, who have been so since.

Now comes the exposure of the sabotage plots telegrams, interchanged between Ambassador von Bernstorff and Berlin during January, 1916—months before our declaration of belligerency—and which is only confirmatory of the evidence that preceded it.

The state department is doing the wise thing in bringing about these exposures and letting the light shine upon the dark deeds and conspiracies with which not alien Germans alone, but certain American citizens as well, had to do. And the manner in which the work of uncovering and unraveling has been done denotes a commendable degree of alertness, thoroughness and efficiency on the part of the American secret service.

This work has been of inestimable service to the country, because it has clipped the claws of those pro-German enemies of America—both alien and otherwise. It shows that their cunning has come to naught; that they have made a miserable failure.

Their worst is done; and now that they are exposed, and the world knows who they are, their power to do harm is gone.

THE FARMS FEED THE MILLS.

The prosperity of one county where diversified farming has been given a fair trial is naturally an incentive to others to make the home-supply plan the basis of future farming operations.

Confronted with the facts of ready cash compensation for all the various home products; with flour mills and canning plants that "spring up" in response to the demand of progressive farming, the regret of many has been that they did not enlist earlier in the diversified agricultural campaign.

In calling attention to the work which is going forward on the farms of Tift and adjacent counties, The Tifton (Ga.) Gazette says that "diversified agriculture is getting under full headway in Berrien county," and—

> The Nashville (Ga.) Herald says that in part with determination of farmers of that county to raise their own supplies, nearly every one has a patch of rice, from a quarter of an acre to an acre. Also, that the big canning factory at Sirmans is buying sweet potatoes in carload lots and devoting the winter months to canning them.

And if all the farmers of that section have made good their slogan of "A potato patch on every farm," more than one canning factory will be working overtime this winter.

"That's the way," says our Tifton contemporary, "that we like to see the boll weevil swatted, and it is the best way we know of to do the job!"

It is also noted that properly constructed sweet potato curing houses are going up in that territory under the direction of L. G. Proctor, district agricultural and field agent of the United States department of agriculture.

And the establishment of roller mills is cited as "another chapter in the development of diversified agriculture."

One of these mills was recently installed at Ashburn, and the Tifton paper says that—> gradually mills for converting wheat into flour are springing up all over this section of the state, and with them will come increased interest in wheat growing. Once here we expect them to become permanent institutions, and that the day will soon be past when this section will depend on another part of the country for its bread.

And it is up to the farmers to make them permanent institutions; and nothing but the live-at-home plan will do it.

The mills will come to the farms if the farms will feed the mills.

TIMELY COUNSEL!

If the prosperous men and women of the nation generally would respond to such sentiments as were expressed the other day by the grand jury of Carroll county, at Carrollton, there would need be little anxiety on the government's part as to the success of the second Liberty Loan. The bonds would be subscribed and over-subscribed long before the end of the campaign—and the public would be ready for another issue!

This body of men takes the right and altogether reasonable view of the Liberty Loan question, when it incorporated in its report of recommendations the following:

> "We in Carroll county have been wonderfully blessed by divine providence with abundant crops and the greatest material prosperity. Our country is calling us, and we must respond like men. We who do not, or cannot, go to the front are asked to invest our money in bonds of the government, and the grand jury earnestly recommends that all our citizens subscribe for these bonds, thus showing our patriotism and help win the war."

What is true of Carroll county, as here expressed, applies with equal aptness to every other rural community of the nation—and especially every community of the south, which this year has been especially favored by good fortune.

It is also true, furthermore, as this grand jury goes on to say, that—

> "no safer investment can be found than in bonds of the United States government. All the resources of all the banks, of all the farms, of all the factories and of all the other property of this, the richest nation in the world, stand pledged for the repayment of your money with interest."

And when these Carroll county patriots close their appeal by expressing trust that—

> "our people will show the world that we are standing shoulder to shoulder with our government in the defense of our country and its institutions against the enemies of civilization, who have thrust this war upon us"— they voice an appeal that should find response in the heart of every loyal citizen of the south and the nation.

NO TIME FOR SLACKING.

British statesmen warn the people of America against placing too much credence in reports of mutiny in the German navy. They are fearful that we may become overconfident in our associates' strength; and, feeling that the beginning of the end of Germany's effectiveness has set in, slacken our own preparations for war.

Undoubtedly, too, that is precisely the effect that Germany would like the reports to have upon us. Indeed, it has been broadly hinted that the reports of mutiny and disaffection, both in the army and in the navy of the kaiser, probably are either baseless or else greatly magnified by the German authorities themselves as a means of creating just that sort of pseudo sanguinity in America.

But the American people are not going to be deceived by that sort of camouflage; we are not so dense as to be caught in any such trap.

And the Prussian war lords may rest assured that our preparations are going to continue until peace comes to the world; and that our armies are going to be put into the field as fast as they become trained and fit, to fight until Prussian autocracy is obliterated from the earth—until there will be left in the world no man who will dare claim "divine right" to rule and oppress his fellowmen.

The American people are only just now becoming fully aroused in this war—fully sensible to the imperative duty to the world that devolves upon them: The duty to win this war and crush autocracy!

Our nation's temperament in matters of this kind is aptly expressed by Shakespeare:

> "In peace there is nothing so becomes a man
> As modest stillness and humility;
> But when the blast of war blows in our ears,
> Then imitate the action of the tiger,
> Stiffen the sinews, summon up the blood,
> Disguise fair nature with hard-favored rage."

Our people have heard "the blast of war." Our wonted "modest stillness and humility" is giving way to "hard favored rage" against the cruel inhumanities of the black Prussian regime of tyranny and oppression.

Our blood is up; and the only assurance that can come out of Berlin to cause us to halt in our belligerent activities will be assurance—positive and uncontrovertible—that the kaiser has surrendered and that Prussian despotism is dead!

For, until it is dead the world will not be safe for democracy.

A Pennsylvania man was fined $26.50 for "making fun of a soldier." It takes just that sort of reminder to make that class of "humorist" realize that war is anything but fun.

"Wait a little longer," says Hindenburg, to the German people; and after ringing the dinner bell, he makes a strategic retreat from an empty table.

WHITE PEOPLE OF DIXIE BEST FRIENDS OF NEGRO, SAYS PROF. B. R. HOLMES

The friendliest relations exist between the white and colored people, and the two races are working together to make the south the garden spot of the United States, according to Professor B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes institute, and one of the leaders of his race, who has just returned from a trip through southwest Georgia, Florida and Alabama, where he delivered the lecture, "Make Friends With Your Neighbors," to the negroes in villages and the rural districts.

Professor Holmes says the colored farmers are more prosperous this year than ever before in the history of the south, and adds that the southern white people have always manifested great interest in the development of the negro race and have given them the opportunity to buy property, educate their children, build churches and make good citizens.

He says that the greatest blessing that ever came to the colored people of the state was the appropriation made by the Georgia legislature to build an industrial and agricultural institution for the training of the negro youth.

The Rebel Yell.

(To be used on the battlefields of France as outlined in news story in The Constitution of 12th inst.)

I.

The "Rebel Yell" shall ring again,
The "Rebel Yell" of old;
The cry that thrilled the tragic days,
Whose stories still are told.
On Flanders' poppy plains, where sleep
Brave men for Freedom dead,
Shall ring the old-time "Rebel Yell,"
Where none but heroes tread!

II.

And fields of France, with countless mounds,
Shall catch the vibrant strain;
And winds shall whisper thrilling notes
To those for Freedom slain.
The "Rebel Yell" shall glory give,
When men of nations clash;
And shall revive the old-time thrill,

III.

United now in common cause,
The Sons of Freedom fight;
The world for Brotherhood shall win
Through struggle for the Right.
Then, speed the "Rebel Yell" afar,
The world's fierce battle cry;
And teach the nations by this call
Shall Freedom live or die.

Prayer Meetings Held in 300 Homes To Pave the Way for Sunday Revival

Three hundred Atlanta homes were thrown open Friday night where three hundred prayer meetings were held in a great concerted movement to prepare Atlanta for the coming of Billy Sunday in November. Dr. W. H. LaPrade, chairman of the prayer meetings committee, is working to increase the number of these meetings, which will be held twice a week, to seven or eight hundred.

George M. Sunday, son of Billy Sunday, and business manager of the campaign, will arrive next week, coming from Los Angeles, Cal., where he has been directing the campaign during the Sunday meetings there. When he arrives Dr. James A. Walker, Mr. Sunday's advance man, who has directed the work here, will leave for Washington, D. C., to begin preparations for the meeting which will be held in that city in January.

Dr. Walker states that a tabernacle will be erected on government property directly opposite the Union Terminal station. A permit for the use of the property and the erection of the building has already been signed by Vice President Marshall and Speaker Champ Clark. It was stated by Dr. Walker that the government would probably take over the building at the close of the meetings to use as a barracks and rest room for soldiers arriving and departing by way of the union station.

The following are the places where the different speakers of the Sunday organization will speak Sunday:

11:00 A. M.—First Congregational church, Dr. James E. Walker, Mr. Sunday's advance man. Subject, "What the Sunday Campaign Will Mean for Atlanta."

3:00 P. M.—Mass meeting, First Methodist Episcopal church, south, Decatur, Ga.; union meeting of all the churches. Subject, "How Billy Sunday Does Things."

7:30 P. M.—South Side Baptist church. Subject, "The Man and the Message."

Rev. George G. Dowey, director of men's Bible classes for Sunday campaign, will speak at 9:45 a. m., English Lutheran church; 11 a. m., Inman Park Baptist; 3 p. m., Hapeville Methodist, men's mass meeting, and at 7:30 p. m. at St. Luke's Methodist.

Al Saunders will speak at Calvary Methodist church at 7:30 p. m.

James B. Morton will speak at 11 a. m. at Oakland City Baptist.

HOWARD SPEAKS AT DEKALB FAIR TODAY ON ISSUES BEFORE NATION

Congressman William Schley Howard will make the address of welcome on the DeKalb County fair grounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon to old DeKalbites visiting Decatur. Much interest has been aroused in this speech as Mr. Howard is expected to devote a large part of it to a discussion of national issues, and to a defense of measures adopted by the majority of congress and the national administration for the successful prosecution of the great war. Mr. Howard has taken a large part in these measures, and it is probable that no man is better informed as to the actual work of congress or the present needs of the nation than Congressman Howard.

Those who know Mr. Howard's style of oratory are looking forward also to his handling without gloves those in and out of congress who have opposed the administration's war measures.

Public Officials to Be Present.

The Decatur Board of Trade is in charge of the exercises at the fair grounds, and President Charles D. McKinney will introduce Mr. Howard. Mayors and council members and all other public officials of Lithonia, Stone Mountain, Clarkston, East Lake, Kirkwood and Decatur, and all public officials of DeKalb county, together with a large delegation of business men from Atlanta, and many of the leading farmers of DeKalb county have been invited to give official sanction to DeKalb county's annual Home-Coming day by their presence on the speakers' stand. It is understood that there will also be present large delegations of former citizens of DeKalb from all the counties surrounding DeKalb.

Many soldiers from Camp Gordon will be present, a very special invitation having been extended to those men now enlisted in the country's service.

Open Friday and Saturday Nights.

Each day the attendance at the fair has grown larger, and crowds from Atlanta to the suburban sections have thronged the grounds each night.

The fair management announces that all of the free attractions, including the balloon ascension and the high-dive acts, together with many other interesting exhibitions, will be continued through Friday and Saturday.

Competent judges have pronounced the exhibits in the various departments of agriculture, woman's work, live stock and poultry well up to the highest standard, but by common consent the most striking exhibits are those installed by the Decatur public schools, the Canning club girls and the food conservation exhibit, under the charge of Mrs. L. S. Bottenfield.

Practically all premiums in the various departments of the fair have been awarded, and a complete list of the awards will be announced today or tomorrow.

At 3:30 p. m. on "The Coming Age, and What It Will Be Like." Wednesday, at 3:30 o'clock, a message on "Freedom, Fellowship and Fullness."

FROST IS PROBABLE TONIGHT, ACCORDING TO WEATHER SHARKS

Cold weather of such intensity as to necessitate fires in Atlanta homes was the prediction of weather bureau authorities Friday for this section today, with the probability of frost for Saturday night.

The mercury began to drop during the afternoon Friday and by night a chilling sting had crept into the air. Indications yesterday were that fair skies also would prevail. Over eastern South Dakota, all of North Dakota and western Minnesota the temperature yesterday morning was below 20 degrees, and the line of freezing extended as far south in the west as Dodge City, Kan. Fair weather still remains the order of the day in that section, with heavy to killing frosts at a number of places. Heavy frost has been reported from St. Louis with a current temperature of 34 degrees.

Clear weather still prevails over the cotton belt states, with temperatures normal in the eastern portion, but considerably colder in the west.

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD

WINTER COUGH AND COAL BILLS.

The United States public health service reported last year that the most common type of illness in Manila, P. I., was—what would you think?—it was the same old delusion which we peddle around promiscuously all winter long right here in this country, to wit, the common "cold." Climate makes no difference at all, you see; it is rather a matter of habit.

The other day we said that so far as actual evidence shows, such factors as room temperature, clothing, weather and climate have no more and no less to do with respiratory disease than with digestive or kidney or nervous disorders. These factors influence metabolism, the oxidation process which distinguishes a live man from a dead one, and metabolism influences disease of the respiratory organs just as much or as little as it does disease of the other parts of the body. In short, there is as much evidence that foul air and unhygienic clothing predispose an individual to Bright's disease or neurasthenia as there is that such conditions predispose him to pneumonia or bronchitis. We speak now of facts and not of theories. Diphtheria is quite as likely to develop when the hygienic conditions are bad as is pneumonia or a so-called simple "cold in the head." It is just a question of the kind of germ that happens along.

In the house that is kept nice and warm all over all winter long, there we find the easiest picking for the pneumonia germ—which germ, as everybody knows, is a versatile pest as capable in the role of bronchitis or quinsy or "head cold" as in pneumonia itself. Whether the pneumococcus shall set up quinsy or pneumonia or bronchitis or pleurisy or even appendicitis in a given infection is a matter of acquired affinity. And the fresh "starter" of pneumococcus culture presented by your kissing friend with a recent sore throat may find conditions favorable for acquiring an affinity for serous membrane in your case, and so you come down with pleurisy or "acute rheumatism" of the joints, or a serious involvement of your heart valves. All from the versatile germ handed round by an unconscious carrier.

We just imagine, though we can't prove it, that foul air especially weakens the resistance of the breathing tube lining all the way down from the nose to the ultimate air cell of the lung. Foul air—still, warm air. Such air as serves to get the best result out of a steam heating plant. Air heated much above 65 degrees Fahrenheit is foul, or so nearly foul that we have no test to prove it fresh. Air need never be heated above 65 degrees F. for comfort. Anything above that point represents waste and extravagance. It simply runs up a big coal bill and opens various doors to the coming of the doctor. The onset of cough in winter is almost a sure sign of such extravagance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Restoring Stiffened Fingers.

I have been thinking a great deal about one of your articles in which you discussed "rheumatoid arthritis." You spoke of surgical treatment for restoring the function of joints of the hands rendered stiff by such disease. Now, would or could you perform such an operation, and where would I be obliged to go for treatment? My hands were left in that state by rheumatoid arthritis, and if there is any possibility of using them again at my work I should be willing to go to any trouble or expense. (E. B. M.)

ANSWER—Any good general surgeon could do whatever is to be done for you. If the joints are distorted by thickenings or knobs, these must be shaved and reamed to restore them to something like the normal contour. If the joints are quite rigid, they must be separated, rounded and smoothed, and new lubricating tissue (fatty tissue transplant) inserted. Then there is a painful after-treatment consisting of passive manipulations. A good deal may be accomplished by heroic and persevering effort, in suitable cases. Such treatment has put more than one invalid back on the job. Glad to suggest competent surgeons in your city, if desired. Of course nothing could be attempted while the original arthritis or inflammatry process is still active. This treatment is only for the deforming results after the fire has burned out.

The Uncertain Symptoms of Heart Trouble.

Kindly tell me if these are symptoms of heart trouble: Rapid beating and shortness of breath on going up hill, pain around heart, in left shoulder and down left arm, cold hands and feet, stomach trouble, and headache. What is meant by high blood pressure? (A. R. L.)

ANSWER—Such symptoms may be due to anemia, or possibly even to heart disease. The shortness of breath on exertion and the "stomach trouble" rather suggest heart disease; the other symptoms rather suggest anemia or possibly autointoxication from other causes. Better not speculate; have a thorough examination made. High blood pressure means that the blood is under more force than is normally produced by the heart beat and the resistance of the arteries; it is present with various diseases.

Asthma From Egg Albumin.

I am thirty-three, have had asthma always. Of late it has been growing much worse. The mucous membrane seems very sensitive, causing me to feel choked up. Of course I take cold easily. I am poisoned by eating egg in any form, even the smallest trace of it in food. The fumes arising from cooking eggs, or from hot water poured over a dish that has contained egg, will cause a severe attack. It makes it necessary to seek open air at once and fight hard for breath. Would the vaccine treatment be advisable for such a case? (Mrs. J. M. C.)

ANSWER—Rather serial hypodermic injections of gradually increasing doses of egg albumin. Send for monograph on asthma.

True Grit.

A. W. Bovey, farmer, of Kimball, S. D., had been "doing his bit"—and a pretty big one it was—for greater food supplies, in response to the national need, and this is the story of what happened to him, as told in the Dayton (Ohio) News:

> While he was mowing, the other day, friction in certain parts of his machine caused the development of a spark.
>
> The spark set fire to the dry grass.
>
> Bovey, being a humane man, had put light blankets upon his horses, to protect them from flies.
>
> The burning grass set fire to the blankets upon the horses.
>
> The horses ran, setting fire to a hundred-acre wheat field, and the grain was destroyed.
>
> Having no other terminal facilities in view, the horses turned into Bovey's barn, and it caught fire.
>
> While the barn was burning sparks from it were blown into several stacks of grain, which were destroyed.
>
> When about everything that could burn had been burned Bovey looked over the scene, hitched up his trousers and said:
>
> "I'm a lucky guy. I wasn't hurt at all!"

Wherever the story is known Bovey is being hailed as "The Champion World-Optimist."

But he doesn't see why, for his philosophy is:

"What would be the use in sitting down in the ashes and grieving over it? The fire didn't lick the land up, and there's life in the old man still!"

There speaks the true American spirit—the "get-there grit" that knows no obstacles.

No "Job's comforters" for him. He's still on "working ground," and "the world is his!"

SECOND DRAFT CALL BEING CONSIDERED

Likely Date Will Be Fixed for Some Time in December or January--Big Shortage in First Draft.

Washington, October 12.—Discussion of the advisability of expediting the call for the second increment of the draft army now is in progress at the war department, and it appears likely that the date may be fixed for some time in December or January.

Mobilization of the first increment of 687,000 men is now far enough advanced to show clearly that there will be a big deficiency for the seventeen national army divisions. More than 250,000 of the first increment are still to be assembled, but it is already evident that there will be available at the sixteen cantonments quarters for an additional regiment at each post and at some for a full brigade of two regiments.

Means Big Shortage.

The strength of the new regimental organization is 3,600 men. With a regiment lacking at each cantonment, this alone would mean a shortage of nearly 50,000 men. In addition, there has been authorized a separate division of negro troops, which means nearly 30,000 men withdrawn from the original number assigned to the sixteen cantonments.

The shortage is due partially to the necessity of taking out of the national army men will fill up national guard divisions.

Two complete national army divisions of southern boys have been absorbed in this way. The remnants of three other southern national army divisions will be consolidated to form a single divisional unit, and the surplus men from other camps will be sent south to make up the missing divisions.

Drafts on the national army forces also must be made to fill up the enlisted personnel of the aviation service, the medical corps and the service battalions needed behind the fighting lines abroad. Eventually there will be 250,000 men in the last-named service alone, and aviation and the medical service will take nearly as many more, though not all of them will be taken from the national army.

Several Factors Cause Delay.

Operating to delay the calling out of the second increment to make good these shortages are several factors. Clothing and equipment is coming forward only at a rate that can meet the demands of the forces already called, and the railways of the country have been overburdened with the job of moving the army and its necessities without hindering freight shipments vital to the allies.

Fixing the date of the call for the second increment probably hinges also upon the careful study being made by Provost Marshal General Crowder and his assistants of the results of the plan followed in assembling the men called first.

Many questions have arisen which it may be desired to avoid hereafter and substitute regulations to guide both local and district boards, prepared in the light of what actual experience taught, may be issued to govern the second call.

LYCEUM SEASON OPENS.

Ralph Bingham Pleases Big Audience at Auditorium.

Ralph Bingham, prince of entertainers and monologist of renown, was easily the feature of the program rendered at the Auditorium Friday night by the Alkahest Lyceum course, the opening attraction of the season.

Hailed throughout the country as America's foremost humorist, Mr. Bingham fully looks the part on his every appearance before Atlanta audiences. His witticisms kept the audience in high glee throughout the greater part of his act. As a proof of his versatility he suddenly switched from the humorous to the serious, declaiming one of Kipling's poems to the accompaniment of the piano.

Madame Marie Rappold, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, rendering "Ave Maria" and selections from "Aida," elicited applause on her every appearance. To the accompaniment of a diamond-disc record of the new Edison Re-creation and violin selections by Elias Breeskin, the Russian artist, Mme. Rappold sang the "Misere" from "Il Trovatore," which was especially well received by the audience. Mr. Breeskin proved himself a master of musical symphonies with the violin.

The Neapolitan band brought the evening's entertainment to a close with selections rendered with great skill. A high burlesque on the renditions of the great Signor Creatore and his band was the chief feature of the Neapolitans' performance.

GEN. ALVARO OBREGON AT TOMB OF LINCOLN

Springfield, Ill., October 12.—General Alvaro Obregon, former minister of war in the Mexican cabinet under President Carranza, paid a visit to the Tomb of Lincoln and was received by Governor Lowden here today.

In an address tonight Baldomero A. Amado, in the United States to foster trade between the two countries, declared "America had never found Mexico a fruitful field for export trade because the merchants and manufacturers of the United States would not study Mexican character and Mexican needs."

The party of Mexicans, which also included Alejandro Inigo and Major Harvey W. Miller, U. S. A., will leave for St. Louis tomorrow. Thence they will go to New York.

Wilson Is Styled An Opportunist Beyond Compare

President's War Policies Denounced by Rev. D. F. Bradley at the National Council of Congregational Churches.

Columbus, Ohio, October 12.—Denouncing government war policies and calling President Wilson "our incomparable opportunist," the Rev. Dan F. Bradley, pastor of the Pilgrim church, Cleveland, Ohio, created a furore at today's session of the National Council of Congregational churches and drew opposition from among his audience.

"With our incomparable opportunity in the white house, bolstered by the free-labor loving Samuel Gompers on the one hand," said the Rev. Bradley, "and the patriotic controllers of all the oil and the gold and the lumber and the wheat and copper and aluminum on the other, all safe and sane men, getting valuable government contracts, with the farmers happy with a double price for their wheat and all the dangerous socialists either in the workhouse or traveling thither, democracy is safe, especially when such tireless traitors as La Follette should be taken and shot."

Waves of resentment interrupted the speaker at this point and in anger he invited those who did not wish to hear him to leave the hall. Several men did so.

Decrying the fact that the people are not allowed to vote directly and that the representatives of the people, sure of their position for three or four years, could nullify their wishes and "make democracy safe in Petrograd no matter what happened in Kalamazoo or Memphis," Rev. Mr. Bradley concluded his scathing oration by saying:

"The kaiser and his autocracy must be crushed, but when it is crushed shall we have democracy here? Will big business let go of our throats then?"

Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale School of Religion, in an address before the council tonight defended America's entry into the war and explained the cause of such action. "America," he said, "entered the war, not for selfish conquest, not for material gain, but because we could not allow other nations to be bled white by international lawlessness and crime."

The council adjourned tonight over Sunday but will hold important conferences Monday.

CHECKMATE IS GIVEN METHODIST LAYMEN

Pulaski, Va., October 12.—Leaders of the layman's forward movement to bring about greater democracy in the affairs of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, were checkmated at today's session of the Holston conference when a resolution was presented and passed appointing a committee to take charge of the subject and report at the next general conference.

The special committee appointed to consider the resolution offered at the first session of the conference attacking propaganda of the lay delegates made a report deploring the sensation which the resolution had provoked and recommending that the matter he dropped, which was done.

Routine business engaged the attention of the conference today. Bishop W. A. Candler closed the session with a sermon on the "Transfiguration."

RUSSIA DEMOBILIZING SUPERFLUOUS TROOPS

Petrograd, October 12.—The mobilization of superfluous troops attached to the Russian army has begun. The classes called for the years 1895-96, which include the men 43 and 44 years old, are the first to be relieved from duty. The men are being sent to their home villages in special trains, committees at the various towns on the way assisting in their return.

WHITE MEN CONVICTED FOR RACE RIOT MURDER

Wood and Keane Arrested in East St. Louis While Dragging Negro.

Belleville, Ill., October 12.—Herbert Wood and Leo Keane were found guilty this afternoon of the murder of Scott Clark, a negro, who died as a result of injuries received in the recent race riots in East St. Louis, and the penalty was fixed at fourteen years' imprisonment. Wood and Keane were the first white men to be tried on charges growing out of the race riot.

The jury was out two hours. Ten negroes were found guilty last Monday and five were given indeterminate sentences of fourteen years.

Witnesses for the state testified that Wood and Keane were arrested as they were dragging Clark along the street by a rope, which had been fastened about his neck. Keane is only 17 years old.

Next Monday three more white men will be placed on trial on charges growing out of the riots.

Assistant Attorney General Middlekauf, of Illinois, closing the arguments in the trial of Wood and Keane, had asked the death penalty for Wood and a severe prison sentence for Keane.

"The reason the attorney general's office is taking part in this prosecution," he said, "is that it has gone beyond the bounds of this county and even of this state in its importance. If negro hunts are permissible, we will have to keep soldiers in every city in the state, and we can't send them to Europe."

The number of known dead in the race riots at East St. Louis on July 2 is 47. The outbreak was due to the killing of a detective and wounding of two policemen in an attempt to disperse a mob of negroes. The grand jury reported that, in reality, the riots were due to agitators among whites and negroes over importation of the latter from southern states for industrial purposes.

Letter "S" Playing Part In the Trial of Piersol For Stealing Baby Keet

Marshfield, Mo., October 12.—Interest in the trial of Claude J. Piersol, charged with kidnaping Baby Lloyd Keet, centered today about the formation of the small letter "s" appearing in two sets of letters. One set of the missives was written by the defendant to a friend; the other was the set written to the father of the child demanding ransom.

John M. Trendley, a handwriting expert, testifying for the defense, swore that the small "s" as well as the letter "f" discussed yesterday by handwriting experts for the state was a feature of the letters written by Piersol, and that the peculiar formation of these letters did not appear in the so-called ransom letters. Trendley added that the writing in Piersol's letters was uniform and natural, while that of the other letters was different. In his belief, he said, the two sets of letters were not written by the same person.

The wife of Juror James Hurst was reported critically ill tonight, and after a conference with the attorney the judge permitted the juror to go to his home under care of a court official.

By agreement of the attorneys the case could go on without Juror Hurst. Possibility of such an arrangement is under consideration.

The stoicism of Piersol during the trial relaxed tonight and after his return to jail from the court room he gave way to his emotions. The defense expects to close its case tomorrow.

OFFICERS NOMINATED BY THE HOME GUARDS

A meeting for the nomination of officers for the West End home guards was held at the Lucile Avenue school Friday night following the usual weekly drill of the company. R. M. Barton was nominated for captain, while F. J. Rives and F. G. Perry were nominated for the offices of first and second lieutenants, respectively.

These nominations will be formally voted on by members of the home guards at the next meeting, which will be held next Friday night, October 19.

The West End home guards is the only unit of this kind in Atlanta that has actually engaged in military duties, other than drilling. This company served the city last July by guarding the waterworks. At the meeting Friday night plans were discussed for having the West End organization attain as high degree of military efficiency as possible. There are now between 90 and 100 men in the company.

EDISON DEALERS MEET.

Attend Concert by Madame Raffold in Afternoon.

The second annual convention of Edison dealers from the southeastern territory began yesterday morning at the Edison headquarters, 182 Peachtree street. Mayor Asa G. Candler in an address welcomed the dealers to Atlanta.

Harrison Jones, vice president of the Atlanta Edison company, also made an address. He appealed to the dealers to support the administration's food conservation campaign. He pictured the dire need of the allies and told how relief could be sent them by saving what in normal times is usually wasted. He also asked the dealers to invest as much money as possible in Liberty bonds.

William Maxwell Speaks.

The final address of the morning session was made by William Maxwell, vice president of the Thomas A. Edison company, incorporated. Following his address the convention held a business session, which was featured by an exchange of ideas among the dealers.

At noon the dealers were guests of the Atlanta store at a luncheon at the Piedmont hotel. After luncheon the dealers went to the Atlanta theater to hear the musical concert by Madame Marie Rappold and Guido Ciccolini.

Last night a luncheon was tendered the visitors at the Capital City club.

At today's session there will be a number of speeches by dealers from different sections of the southeast dealing with local conditions in their respective territories. The convention will close this afternoon.

Pleases Big Audience.

Singing in concert with a number of phonographic reproductions of her voice, Madame Marie Rappold, great soprano, captivated a capacity audience in attendance at the New Edison Re-creation recital at the Atlanta theater, Friday afternoon.

The degree of perfection attained in the new Edison production is startling in its accuracy in reproducing the human voice, as was demonstrated Friday afternoon when, with the lights out, the audience was unable to distinguish between the voice of Madame Rappold and the phonograph's rendition of her songs.

Together with Signor Guido Ciccolini, tenor of European operatic fame, and Mr. Elias Breeskin, violinist, Madame Rappold completed a trio of talent such as appeals to the hearts of Atlanta patrons; and the marked similarity between the actual voice and the phonographic reproduction was immensely pleasing.

The program was made up of familiar operatic music that proved most delightful. Only once during the course of the recital did the trio appear together, with the accompaniment of the phonograph. The numbers rendered on this occasion were excellent.

MAYO AND HIS STAFF CONFER WITH ALLIES

Commander of Atlantic Fleet Back From Visit to England.

Washington, October 12.—Admiral Mayo, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and his staff have returned from England, where they participated in a naval conference with the allies. This announcement was authorized today by the navy department.

The statement authorized by Secretary Daniels, follows:

"Admiral H. T. Mayo, United States navy, and his staff have returned from England. The purpose of the visit of Admiral Mayo to England was to permit him to confer with officials of the allied navies to become intimate in every detail with the situation as it is at present, what had been done before, and to discuss the plans for the future.

"The British admiralty extended every courtesy and every facility to promote the success of the mission

"Admiral Mayo will proceed immediately to Washington, and will there make a full report to the secretary of the navy.

"Admiral Mayo visited the English fleet and our own forces in British and French waters in order that he might familiarize himself with the conditions under which the allied forces are operating."

The fact that Admiral Mayo had been sent to England for a conference with Admiral Sims and the British and French was disclosed to the press at the time of his departure with the request of the government not to mention the trip in published statements until an authorized statement was issued. Except in one or two instances, the request was generally carried out by the American newspapers.

No details of Admiral Mayo's conference have been made public nor is the nature of his instructions known.

SHIPS TO BE SEIZED BY THE GOVERNMENT

General Method to Be Followed Announced by the Shipping Board.

Washington, October 12.—Announcement of the general method by which the American merchant marine is to be requisitioned October 15 by the government was made tonight by Bainbridge Colby, of the shipping board, in a notice sent to shipowners.

The requisiton will include at first only cargo ships of more than 2,500 tons dead weight capacity and passenger vessels of more than 2,500 gross tons register. The limit probably will be lowered soon to include craft of more than 1,500 tons.

The notification sent to the shipowners reads:

"The United States shipping board hereby gives notice to all owners of ships registered and enrolled under the laws of the United States, that the requisition of all American steamers described below and of which previous announcement has been made, will become operative and effective on October 15, 1917, at noon.

"1—The ships affected by said requisition and included therein are (a) all cargo ships able to carry not less than 2,500 tons total dead weight, including bunker, water and stores; (b) all passenger steamers of not less than 2,500 tons gross register.

"2—(a) As to all steamers in or bound to American ports on October 15, 1917, a requisition becomes effective after discharge of inward cargo and shp put in ordinary condition.

"(b) As to steamers which have started to load their outward cargo, requisition becomes effective at noon on October 15, 1917, and accounts as to hire and expenses will be adjusted from time steamer began to load.

"3. Steamers trading to and from American ports that have sailed on their voyage prior to October 15, 1917, at noon, are to complete that voyage as quickly as possible and report for requisitioning.

"4. Steamers that are occupied in trade between foreign ports shall be requisitioned as of October 15, 1917, at noon, and accounts adjusted accordingly.

"(a) Owners whose steamers are operating in their regular trades are to continue the operation of their steamers for account of the government, as they have been doing for themselves, until they receive further instructions.

"(b) Owners whose steamers are chartered to others will apply to the shipping board for instructions regarding the future employment of said steamers."

HORRIBLE CONDITIONS ABOUT KENTUCKY CAMP

Disorderly Houses in Full Blast and Liquor Sold Soldiers.

Washington, October 12.—The war department commission on training camp activities today made public correspondence between Chairman Fosdick and Mayor Rogers, of Lexington, Ky., in which the mayor acknowledges that the committee's investigation of moral conditions around Camp Stanley discloses a situation "simply horrible" and pledges his personal and official word that he will use every means in his power "to correct awful conditions that now exist."

When the situation was brought to the attention of Mayor Rogers by Chirman Fosdick on September 12 the mayor replied that Lexington's public officials were unaware of a single disorderly house in the city. The training camps' commission then sent agents who made an investigation that disclosed twenty-six disorderly houses in Lexington, "all running in full bloom" and selling of liquor to soldiers in direct violation of the federal laws.

Details identifying the houses were sent to Mayor Rogers, who replied that although he at first firmly believed there was not a single disorderly house in Lexington, the evidence conveyed to him by the commission convinced him beyond doubt that the situation in Lexington "is simply horrible."

Lead is said to act like steel at ordinary temperatures in liquid air. It will serve as a helical spring, for example.

AERO CLUB VOTES $10,000 FOR AMERICAN AVIATORS

New York,, October 12.—The executive committee of the Aero Club of America today voted $10,000 "to promote the efficiency and personal welfare of the American aviators in France," through the club's foreign service commission, of which Ambassador William G. Sharpe is chairman. Some of the more important phases of the work planned were outlined in a letter sent to President Wilson today.

A "medal of merit and honorable distinction," in gold, silver and bronze, will be created, which will be awarded to American and allied aviators "for acts of heroism and for meritorious achievements in the field of aeronautics." It will be awarded to every man recommended by the commanders of the American forces in Europe.

There also will be established in Paris a "service and information office," for American aviators sent to France, designed particularly to guide them to hotels throughout France, whose rates are within their means.

The Duke of Talleyrand and the duchess, who was anna Gould, have extended the hospitality of their chateau to a number of convalescent American aviators, it was said.

DUTCH ARE ANGERED BY THE UNITED STATES

Leading Editor Asserts Wilson's Course Is Distinctly Unfriendly.

Amsterdam, October 12.—After accusing Great Britain of attempting to bully Holland by stopping all commercial cable communication with Holland until The Netherlands government places an absolute restriction on the transit of sand, gravel and scrap metal through Holland from Germany to Belgium, the influential liberal organ, The Handelsblad, bitterly terms the refusal of the United States to give bunker coal to Dutch ships as an unfriendly act and an act of bad faith.

The newspaper remarks that a refusal by Holland in like circumstances would be regarded as a hostile act. It contends further that the seizure of Dutch ships by the United States would be an act which, according to the law of right, might lead to a declaration of war.

This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in November next, else leave will then be granted said applicants as applied for.
THOMAS H. JEFFRIES, Ordinary.

GEORGIA, Fulton County—
Court of Ordinary, at Chambers, October 13, 1917.—The appraisers on the application of Cora Kinard, widow of Ezekiel Kinard, deceased, for a twelve months' support for herself and minor children, having duly filed their return, all persons are hereby cited to show cause, if any they have, at the next November term of this court, why said application should not be granted.
THOMAS H. JEFFRIES, Ordinary.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—After four weeks' advertisement and notice, given in accordance with the provisions of section 3065 of the Code of Georgia, a petition, of which the subjoined is a true and correct copy, will be presented to Hon. George L. Bell, one of the judges of the superior court of the Atlanta circuit, at the courthouse in said county, on the 24th day of October, 1917.
WILLIAM M. BEARDEN,
Guardian Property Mary E. Bearden.

STATE OF GEORGIA, Fulton County—
To the Judges of the Superior Court of Said County. The Petition of William M. Bearden shows as follows:

1. That he is guardian of the property of Mrs. Mary E. Bearden, having been duly appointed as such by the court of ordinary of said county of Fulton.

2. That he desires to sell for the purpose of reinvestment at private sale the property herein described, the same being part of the estate of his said ward, to-wit:

All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, being part of land lot forty-eight (48) of the fourteenth district of originally Henry, now Fulton, county, Georgia, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning on the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue at a point two hundred and one (201) feet eastwardly from the northeast corner of Ponce de Leon avenue and Bedford place (formerly Fort street) and extending thence north parallel with Bedford place two hundred (200) feet; thence northwestwardly fifty (50) feet to Mrs. Carrie H. L'Engle's northeast corner; thence south along said L'Engle's line eighty-three (83) feet and seven (7) inches; thence in a southwesterly direction eight (8) feet and four (4) inches to a point which is one hundred and seventeen (117) feet and nine (9) inches from Ponce de Leon avenue; thence south one hundred and seventeen (117) feet and nine (9) inches to Ponce de Leon avenue; thence eastwardly along the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue fifty-five (55) feet, more or less, to point of beginning; subject to a space for an alley nine (9) feet and five (5) inches in width extending from Ponce de Leon avenue north one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet along the west side of said property for the use of the premises adjoining said property on the west side; together with easement in favor of said adjoining property to maintain connection with sewer upon above described property.

3. Said property is encumbered by a first lien for the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, and the annual interest thereon is $350.00; there are also outstanding taxes against said property aggregating approximately $150.00, and the annual tax liens against said property for the city of Atlanta and the state and county approximates $100.00. The property has a frame dwelling on same and it is old and has to be insured at a very high rate of premium, and when repairs are taken into consideration, the income from the said property, which is the rent at the rate of $40.00 per month, is insufficient to pay the expenses and interest, to say nothing of the principal of said loan of $5,000. There is no likelihood of said property increasing in income without the expenditure of large sums of money in improvements, and neither your petitioner nor the estate of his said ward has any such sum or is able to procure any such sum.

4. Petitioner desires to pay off the liens against the said property, including the first lien, and then to reinvest the proceeds of said sale either in income-bearing cer- [illegible] other financial institution to be approved of by the court, or in such government bonds as may be approved of by the court, so that a net income for the support of his ward can be realized from her property.

5. Petitioner shows that notice of his intention to make this application has been published once a week for four weeks in the newspaper in said county of Fulton in which the legal advertisements of said county are published.

Wherefore petitioner prays that the court will inquire into this matter and will pass an order authorizing him to sell at private sale for a sum which he will submit for the approval of the court, the property described herein.

SHERIFF'S SALES FOR NOVEMBER, 1917.

Will be sold before the courthouse door in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, on the first Tuesday in November, 1917, at public outcry, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder or bidders, for cash, the whole, part or parts of the following described property, to-wit:

GEORGIA—Fulton County.
All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in land lot one hundred and eighty-three (183) of the Seventeenth (17th) district of originally Henry, now Fulton county, Georgia, being lot No. 2 of the subdivision of the property of the estate of Lena A. Wilson in said land lot, containing ten and five-tenths (10.5) acres, as shown by plat of F. L. Guess, surveyor, dated August 18, 1898, and attached to partition proceedings in Fulton court of ordinary, marked "Case Number 375, July term, 1898," more fully described as follows: Beginning at a point on the western side of Atlanta and Marietta wagon road (also known as Howell Mill road) three hundred ten (310) feet southwardly from the southwest corner of Howell Mill road and Moore's Mill road, and running thence westwardly parallel with Moore's Mill road and along the southern line of the land belonging to the estate of Harriett M. Cox, one hundred seventy-five (175) feet; thence southerly along the line of the land of formerly Virgil H. Wilson, eleven hundred ninety (1,190) feet to the property formerly belonging to Tolbert; thence easterly along the north line of said Tolbert's land six hundred fifty (650) feet, more or less, to the center of the Atlanta and Marietta road (also known as Howell Mill road), as located August 8, 1898; thence northward along the center line of said road twelve hundred (1,200) feet to the point of beginning. Together with a strip of land 30 feet in width leading from the northeast corner of the above described land to the present location of Howell Mill road, said strip being the same reserved in deed from Harriett M. Cox to Mary E. Rary in deed dated March 26, 1904, recorded in deed book 183, page 740 of Fulton county records. Being the same property described in bond for title from William J. Wilson to T. H. Simmons, dated December 23, 1913, and recorded in deed book 397, page 91, Fulton county records. Levied on as the property of Mrs. Sadie Parks Bergstrom to satisfy a fi. fa. issued from the city court of Atlanta in favor of the Central Bank and Trust Corporation vs. the said Mrs. Sadie Parks Bergstrom, et al. A deed for the purpose of levy and sale having been executed, filed and recorded as required by law. Tenant in possession notified.

Also, at the same time and place, the following described property, to wit: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, and in land lot 78, of the 14th district of now Fulton county, Georgia, commencing at a point 110 feet north from West Baker street, and 142 feet west from West Peachtree street. Said beginning point being on the west side of a 10-foot alley, and thence running north, along the west side of said alley 50 feet; thence west 58 feet, thence south 50 feet; thence east 58 feet to the beginning point. Being the same property purchased at Sheriff's sale as of the property of Mrs. A. E. Gramling by Aldine Chambers. On the said lot there is an old wooden building, or stable, vacant, and the deed to the said property, as above described from Chambers to Hardin, recorded on the 25th day of June, 1917, in deed book 334, folios 138-139, Fulton county records. Levied on as the property of Mrs. Kate G. Harding to satisfy a fi. fa. issued from the municipal court of Atlanta, being fi. fa. No. 8845, in favor of John S. Owens, transferee. Notice of levy served on the defendant in fi. fa. as provided by law. Tenant in possession notified. Property pointed out by plaintiff attorney.
J. I. LOWRY, Sheriff.

CLEAR, CRISP DAY IS FORECAST FOR FIFTH OF SERIES

Temperature Around Freezing Friday Night, But Will Moderate Some by Game-Time, Says Weather Man. Cold May Affect Choice of Managers on Hurling Hill Today.

SALLEE OR PERRITT, CICOTTE OR RUSSELL

New Yorkers Believe McGraw Will Try to "Southpaw" Sox Out of Series. Giants Confident of Winning Series—Sox Say They Fear Only "Rube" Benton—Cannot Understand Schupp's Victory.

Chicago, October 12.—The world series warfare between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox enters into the closing stage here tomorrow, when the two teams meet in the fifth contest of the series at Comiskey park. Each club has two victories notched in their bat handles, and the club that wins two of the remaining three games to be played will bear off the honors of the series.

The Giants came to town late today chipper and confident. They had bowled over the American league champions twice on the Polo grounds, and the New York pitchers had not allowed a run. The Giants were confident that they had the edge on their opponents and would decide the baseball supremacy by trimming the White Sox on their own grounds and then put over the fourth victory in New York next Monday. The Giants have faced the best of the Sox hurlers, and say they do not fear them.

"We have beaten Cicotte," Charley Herzog, the Giant second baseman and captain, said tonight, "and we can beat him and that shine ball any time he goes against us."

M'GRAW TO "SOUTHPAW" SOX OUT OF THE SERIES.

The New York moundsmen are in fine shape and have had plenty of rest. Sallee is regarded as McGraw's choice for box work tomorrow, but if the weather continues cold—it was hovering around freezing tonight—it is probable that "Poll" Perritt may be chosen. McGraw has found, though, that the Sox do not take kindly to left-handers, and some of the Giants believe that the play is to "southpaw" the Sox out of the series.

The White Sox came home on a special train tonight no whit discouraged by the upset in New York. They gave full credit to "Rube" Benton for his work in Wednesday's game, but could not understand why they did not make any progress against Schupp's fast curves. The Sox seemed to think that Benton always will be a hard proposition any time he starts, but believe either Sallee or Schupp will find themselves running to cover if they go against them again.

Eddie Cicotte said tonight that he was ready to work tomorrow if called upon and Reb Russell is farily begging Manager Rowland for a chance to face the Giants. Russell told everybody on the train that all through the National league season the New York club had its troubles whenever a good left-hander showed any speed and curves.

The Sox agreed that the Giants looked like a smart and fast ball club on Tuesday and that it was a team that would take a lot of beating once it was in its winning mood.

Manager Rowland said tonight that he had not made up his mind as to the pitcher for tomorrow's game.

SOX BATTING SLUMP IS ONLY TEMPORARY

Joe Jackson insisted that the Sox batting slump was only of two days' duration and that the Sox back fences would come in for a bombardment once the club was under way.

It snowed here today and then rained and there was a constant threat of a storm tonight, though the weather man gave a cheering forecast of fair and cold. There was a winter-nip to the air. The members of the national commission sent word ahead that the game would be played unless it rained or snowed or an unusual cold wave prevented.

Seats for Saturday's game sold tonight at a high premium. Fifteen dollars was paid for a box seat and $10 was the figure set by the speculators for a grandstand seat. Late tonight a shivering line of fans gathered at the gates of the unreserved stands. Fires were lit and men wrapped themselves in great coats and blankets.

Trains from all points brought hundreds to town to witness the struggle.

GONG WILL TELL HITS AND NUMBER OF BASES

Dick Jemison Adds Big Feature to His Detail—Today's Game at 2 O'Clock.

A big gong will be used by Dick Jemison today at his detail of the world's series games, at 7 South Broad street, to designate each hit made during the game. The number of times the gong sounds will designate the number of bases on each hit.

"Ring the gong, Dick," used to be the shout of the fans at Dick's details in former seasons, and he is installing the gong for the remaining games of the series as an added feature.

The detail will be conducted just as completely as it has been conducted thus far. There will be nothing eliminated. The gong will just be added.

Reserved seats for the game this afternoon will go on sale this morning at the baseball matinee hall. Plenty of comfortable seats for the fans to sit down, a close-up view of the scoreboard and a caller who makes it a business of calling baseball games. Why stand up under these conditions?

The general admission is 35 cents. The reserved seats sell for 15 cents extra. The woman's auxiliary of the Red Cross is receiving a percentage of the proceeds from the series. Here's the chance to hear the games detailed by one who knows how, and at the same time do your bit.

Come up today and hear the gong ring. The game starts at 2 o'clock, Atlanta time.

DAVIDSON WILL GIVE JACKETS HARD FIGHT

Tar Heels Always Furnish Stiff Opposition—Tickets at Jacobs' Pharmacy.

By Hal Reynolds.

Davidson will line up against Tech in their annual game this afternoon at Grant field, the contest starting promptly at 3 o'clock. Both teams are in good shape, and the game promises to be another one of the hard-fought caliber that the two schools have engaged in during the past.

In Coach Felzer, Davidson has one of the smartest coaches in the south. His teams have always been noted for their dash and their fast and clean-cut manner of tackling. Coach Felzer doubtless exhibited the best brand of tackling seen on Grant field last season.

The Davidson team returned but four veterans this fall, but nevertheless their team is up to the standard of the past, as their games with the Navy and North Carolina A. & M. will bear witness.

Si Bell has been out running signals for the past three days and will get into the game today. His presence will give Tech another veteran and should strengthen the team considerably.

The officials for the game are as follows: Captain Elcock, former coach of Washington and Lee, referee; Coach Wood, of Boys' High, umpire, and Coach Pitts, of Tech High, head linesman.

The Davidson alumni of the city will give the team a banquet tonight at the Ansley hotel. Howard M. Askew, Main 9820, has charge of the affair, and all Davidson men who have not yet notified him of their intention to attend are urged to do so.

The probable line-up follows:

DICK PICKS SALLEE TO TRIM THE SOX

Provided Russell Is Opponent—Toss-Up if Cicotte Pitches—Series to Run Seven Games.

By Dick Jemison.

If McGraw selects Slim Sallee to pitch today's game against the White Sox, we venture our third prediction of the series—

The Giants will win today's game—

Provided Reb Russell is Manager Rowland's choice as a pitcher. If Rowland elects to send Cicotte back, then we are doubtful of the outcome.

We figure Sallee to win his game, mainly because he lost the opening game of the sries. And, from the treatment the Giants gave Danforth, we do not believe a southpaw can stop McGraw's men.

We are privileged to gloat now. We may not be privileged tonight. Then, again, we may. Who knows?

Seven Games Now.

One other prediction and we're through for the time being—the series is going the full seven games.

As to the ultimate winner, that is a proposition that we pass to some of the more nervy dopesters. It's too close for comfort.

But even the White Sox fans must admit that the Giants, by evening the series after the Sox had won the first two games, have a little shade. The most ardent of the Sox rooters cannot truthfully say that the Giants haven't got at least an even chance.

Our dope was that the Giants would win Wednesday, also that Schupp would win his next start. Both of these have panned out.

We'll see what we shall see tonight on our latest prediction.

$1,274 DIFFERENCE IN PLAYERS' SHARES

Remaining Games Will Determine Split—Sure to Cause Fierce Contesting.

The players will not share in any more of the gate receipts of the world's series. According to the rules, their share ends with the first four games, and therefore Thursday's game was their last sharing opportunity.

The players will divide $152,888.68, of which $91,733.15, or 60 per cent, will go to the winning team and $61,155.43 to the losing team, or 40 per cent.

On this basis, then, there will be a difference of $1,274.07 to each player to be decided when one team wins two or more games, $3,822.21 to go to each of the players of the victorious team and $2,548.14 to each player of the vanquished team.

With this state of affairs existing, the contesting for the remaining games of the series is certain to be of the fiercest kind.

THREE-FINGERED BROWN SUES FOR BIG SALARY

Chicago, October 12.—Seeking to recover $8,000 alleged to be due him in salary, Mordecai Brown, famous three-fingered pitcher, has filed suit in the federal district court here for the appointment of a receiver for the defunct Federal league.

Louis J. Behan, counsel for Brown, said tonight that when the Federal league signed a peace agreement with organized baseball the league's assets were distributed among the clubs of the National and American leagues. Brown wants these assets collected and a receiver appointed for them. President Weeghman, of the Chicago Nationals, who owned the Chicago franchise of the Federal league, and President Ball, of the St. Louis Americans, are among the 29 persons named as defendants. Ball was president of the St. Louis Federals. Officials of all Federal league clubs also are named as defendants.

Brown deserted organized baseball and signed a three-year contract at a salary of $7,500 a year to manage the St. Louis Federals. He subsequently was released and the league, it is claimed, agreed to meet the obligations of his contract.

The suit was filed in Chicago at this time so summons could be served on a majority of the defendants who are attending the world's series.

Brown pitched for the Columbia American association club last season.

Brown 27, Holy Cross 6.
Boston College 20, Tufts 0.
Alabama 13, Marion 0.

Alabama 13, Marion 0.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., October 12.—(Special.)—Alabama defeated the team of Marion institute here this afternoon by a score of 13 to 0, after a strongly contested game. The Cadets fought strongly throughout the game and at times gained consistently on Alabama by line bucks and off tackle plays. The Alabama goal was at no time during the game endangered. Blair was the star for Alabama, playing left halfback, while Houston Drennen and Argo did the bright work for Marion. Spangler punted for Alabama and King for Marion, Spangler getting the better of the kicking. The punting fell short of the expected mark, the punts being too low to allow the players time to get down the field. Alabama fumbled often and was penalized several times for being off sides. With the aid of penalties Marion gained ground steadily during the first quarter when they brought the ball from within 15 yards of their goal to the center of the field, where Alabama finally held and Marion punted. Marion held Alabama scoreless during the first and fourth quarters.

RALPH MULFORD FAVORITE FOR THE GRAND PRIX TODAY

Chicago, October 12.—Ralph Mulford was regarded tonight as the favorite to win the Grand Prix cup races of twenty, fifty and one hundred miles at the speedway course tomorrow. In the qualifying test today Mulford drove his car at the race of nearly 118 miles an hour. Nine other drivers, including Gaston Chevrolet, will compete.

FULLERTON PICKS SALLEE VS. CICOTTE

Hand-Shaking Ends—Real Fights in the Remaining Games—Hugh Dopes Cicotte to Beat the Giants.

By Hugh S. Fullerton.

Chicago, October 12.—(Special.)—We have had shine balls, high balls, spit balls and today the world's series ran into snowballs. Whether the snowballs will decide the question of superiority between the two embattled teams remains to be seen, but from late prospects the final game of the series will be played on Thanksgiving day.

Another postponement on account of snow or cold which now is the best bet, would help the chances of the White Sox just as the day of rain in New York helped the Giants to rally when they seemed to be all gone.

These were not all gone today. There was a marked difference between the atmosphere on the two trains that raced westward and reached Chicago after dinner-time tonight.

Cicotte vs. Sallee.

In place of the glee that marked the Sox special on their eastern drive there was a subdued air and much reticence. Manager Rowland admitted that he did not know who would pitch, which any one who knows can construe into the fact that Cicotte again will be on the slab.

McGraw was equally reticent, and his reticence means that it is a practical cinch that Sallee will pitch. The fact that Sal is known as a hot weather pitcher is being largely used in rebuttal against this, but the truth is that the cold weather gag goes only during the early spring before he is in shape. Once in condition Sallee doesn't care much whether it is fifty or ninety.

There is no doubt but that McGraw now holds a slight technical advantage, offset by the fact that the White Sox stage the next game whenever played on their home grounds. McGraw is in better tactical position than Rowland is in in regard to the pitching, or at least thinks he is.

There is a strange sense of security among the Giants and they think they can beat the White Sox; nor is there any diminution of the spirit of the White Sox.

Hard Sledding Now.

The first nervous fear of each other has worn off and the teams are now ready to battle each other. The Giants have started the fight. They were roughing and riding the White Sox in the final game, jumping at them, and the hand-shaking stage passed quickly. It will be hard sliding and hard sledding from now on.

The Sox are confident that they can beat the Giants on the south side grounds, and not quite so certain they can whip them on the Polo grounds. There are dark hints that McGraw has sprung something new in the line of camouflage on them and blinded them so that they cannot see to hit well on those grounds. Whether that is true or whether the lights dazzled them is not certain.

Benton's brand of pitching would have beaten them on any grounds, but the chances are they would have whipped Schupp on their home field had he pitched there as he did on the Polo grounds.

The chances are that Cicotte and Sallee will face each other in the next battle. I believe that Cicotte will be as strong and almost as effective as in either of his other games, and what I think of Sallee is that he will not last out the game.

The White Sox have looked him over, they know how he pitches, and then they have looked upon fast left-handed curve pitchers until Sallee's slants will seem like fungo pitching by comparison.

Gives Sallee Three Innings.

I have made a bet he will not last three innings if he starts today.

McGraw's admirers are mourning over the fact that McCarty probably will not be able to catch again in the series. They mourn his loss as a hitting asset, and neglect to note the fact that Rariden has caught much better ball since he got in, that the pitchers have been much more effective, and that they have pitched with much better judgment against the White Sox.

Don't get discouraged. If the weather permits, the White Sox will be back on top at the end of the next game and McGraw will be on the defensive again. I have not seen anything that indicates that the Giants are quite as good a ball club as Rowland's.

Gotch Seriously Ill.

Chicago, October 12.—Frank Gotch, for years world's champion wrestler, is seriously ill in this city.

Gotch, accompanied by Mrs. Gotch, arrived yesterday from their home at Humboldt, Iowa, on their way to Hot Springs, Ark. He became suddenly ill and went to a Chicago hospital for treatment. A few hours later hospital physicians said that, on the surface, Gotch was suffering from a kidney complaint. A more thorough diagnosis will be made.

Migratory Bird Rules.

Washington, October 12.—The department of agriculture today announced amended migratory bird regulations effective October 15. One change permits hunting from half an hour before sunrise to sunset during the open season, subject to state laws. The department announces that the regulations do not permit hunting of migratory birds where it is unlawful under state laws.

SERIES COULD NOT DOPE OUT EVENER

Teams Tied in Games Won, in Hits and in Errors. Dope on Series Is Very Interesting.

By Dick Jemison.

The dope compiled from the first four games of the world's series could not dope out any evener, had someone taken a piece of paper and written down instructions for the teams in advance.

Each team has won two games, each team has made 33 hits and each team has made 5 errors. Nothing could be evener. Only in runs scored is there an edge, and in this department the Giants have tallied 10 runs to 9 for the White Sox.

The Giants have not been shut out in a single game, while the White Sox have been blanked in their last two starts. Since the fourth inning of the game in Chicago on Sunday, the White Sox have not been able to cross the platter—22 scoreless innings in all.

In only one of the four games has either team played an errorless game, the White Sox having an errorless game to their credit in Thursday's 5-to-0 defeat.

Robertson Leads Batters.

Dave Robertson leads the batsmen for the series, with an average of .500, compiled from 7 hits in 14 times up. He has made the most hits of any players in the series, and has also tallied the most runs—3.

First Baseman Holke, of the Giants, is next to Robertson, with an average of .417. Buck Weaver and John Collins top the White Sox, with a .385 average each.

Another interesting piece of dope is that each game of the series has been won in the fourth inning, the White Sox scoring the winning run in the fourth inning of the first game, 5 runs in the fourth inning of the second game. The Giants tallied 2 runs in the fourth inning of the third game, and Benny Kauff's homer came in the fourth inning of the fourth game.

Following this same line of dope for the remainder of the series, the contests, with such contesting, should go the full seven games.

1 KILLED AND 6 WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH NEGRO

Negro Himself Was Killed After Fire Drove Him From Barricaded Home.

Danville, Va., October 12.—Policeman W. H. McGray and Walter Clark, a negro, are dead, and six others wounded tonight as the result of a gun battle here today in which Clark barricaded himself in his house and held a crowd of nearly three thousand at bay for two hours. The negro was killed by a volley as he tried to escape after the house had been fired.

McGray was killed when he attempted to arrest the negro, who had wounded his wife, Nannie Clark. Clark then shot and probably fatally wounded Deputy City Sergeant Boisseau, who sought to recover the policeman's body.

A crowd soon collected armed with all manners of weapons and the Danville home guard, unarmed, was handicapped in its efforts to restore order. Mayor Wooding and the judge of the corporation court went to the scene and an attempt was made to dynamite the house. In the meantime the negro kept up an incessant fusillade and three policemen, A. J. Perkinson, J. C. Lewis and Sergeant Martin, and J. L. Wells, a contractor, were slightly wounded.

When the dynamite failed the house was set afire and Clark broke from the front door. More than fifty bullets pierced his body and the infuriated crowd dragged the corpse by the heels through the streets for a block or more before the officers got possession of it.

The city was quiet tonight and the authorities said no more trouble was expected. Deputy Sergeant Boisseau was shot through the lung, and physicians hold little hope for his recovery.

KAISER PAYING VISIT TO KING OF BULGARIA

Amsterdam, October 12.—The German emperor arrived at Sofia yesterday, according to advices reaching here. He was accompanied by Prince August Wilhelm and Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann. The emperor was received by the King of Bulgaria and with him rode through decorated streets to a triumphal arch erected in honor of the imperial visitor.

The burgomaster of Sofia, according to custom, offered William bread and salt.

EFFORTS TO DISPARAGE WORK OF RED CROSS

Nation-Wide Campaign Ordered to Trace Movement to Source.

Washington, October 12.—Declaring that efforts to disparage the work of the American Red Cross are being made in various sections of the country as part of an anti-patriotic propaganda, General Manager Harvey D. Wilson today telegraphed all Red Cross division managers to begin a nation-wide campaign to trace the movement to its source and combat it.

"It is evident that rumors and innuendoes, critical of and calculated to embarrass the Red Cross, are being industriously circulated as part of an anti-patriotic propaganda," the telegram reads. "Insofar as such statements or questions are merely efforts to obtain information they should be earnestly and sincerely met, but many of the stories, utterly unwarranted in fact, emanate simultaneously from too many different parts of the country to be merely accidental.

"Suggest to advise all chapters to tell all workers officially and advise local press and every one with whom they come in contact of the character of the movement which is on foot, and ask members and public generally to proceed on the theory that nothing against Red Cross should be believed until investigation. Ask each chapter to send to division headquarters account of all such rumors and criticisms being circulated as well as statements of source from which they come.

"Every criticism should be carefully investigated and if found to be justified the cause for criticism should be removed, either in the chapter, at division headquarters or at national headquarters. In all cases the Red Cross will bring facts to attention of interested persons. Very important that division headquarters and such local chapter be made to understand that the reputation and standing of the Red Cross locally is in hands of local officers, and interested workers and members, and that every criticism or innuendo against Red Cross should be immediately challenged and followed up. The Red Cross is being run as an open book, it has no secrets, it is making a sincere effort to serve mankind, and is doing it as carefully and economically as it knows how. Its accounts are to be audited by the war department, and utmost effort is being made to give publicity to all its activities."

GEORGIA AND ALABAMA MEN IN 325TH INFANTRY GO FIRST TO WHEELER

Initial Movement From Camp Gordon Deferred Until Sunday Morning. Captain Patton to Command.

Following the official postponement of the initial movement of troops of the national army from Camp Gordon until Sunday, it was yesterday unofficially stated that the first body of men to leave the camp will in all probablity be mainly composed of troops of the 325th infantry, supplemented by troops from several other units of the Eighty-second division.

This movement is scheduled to occur early Sunday morning, and during Sunday it is stated that 2,000 men from Georgia and Alabama will be transferred to Macon to join the national guard dvision at Camp Wheeler.

Captain Milton H. Patton, adjutant of the 325th infantry, will be the commanding officer in charge of the first body of troops leaving the camp and he will be aided in the transfer by one officer to every 100 men.

Several companies of the 325th regiment were Friday afternoon aligned and paid off for their frst month's service in the national army, and officials of the camp mustering office state that this regiment has been almost entirely prepared for transfer so far as official records are concerned.

These facts are sufficient to warrant the conclusion that the first contingent of troops to leave the camp will be in a large way made up of Georgia and Alabama men of the 325th. Other organizations of the camp whch are also nearly completed so far as records are concerned and which will in all probability be next in line for transportation are the 321st Field artillery, the 319th Field artillery, the 319th Machine Gun company and the 326th, 327th and 328th regiments of infantry.

The movement of troops is scheduled to continue after Sunday at the rate of 2,000 per day. The first troops to be moved will be 8,000 men from Georgia and Alabama to Camp Wheeler, at Macon, and after this movement has been completed approximately 3,700 men from Tennessee will be moved from Camp Gordon to Camp Sevier, at Greenville, S. C., the remaining Tennessee troops to go later to Camp Jackson, at Columbia, S. C. Officials state that there is a probability that a number of Alabama troops will also be sent to Camp Beauregard, at Alexandria, La.

TO FILL TO CAPACITY CAMPS IN THE SOUTH

On Account of North Weather Southern Training Plants to Be Crowded in Winter.

By P. H. McGowan.

Washington, October 12.—(Special.)—There are unconfirmed rumors here that because of the fast approaching winter and cold weather in many of the northern and western sections of the country, where military cantonments are located, that the war department is preparing to shift large bodies of troops to southern camps.

The coal situation has a strong bearing on this matter, aside from the fact that all indications would tend to carry out statements heretofore made that a large part of the winter training must be done in the south. With a coal shortage in sight, and the government using the full power of its various agencies to alleviate the situation before cold weather begins, it is said here that department leaders have reached the conclusion that the best way to handle the training problem would be to crowd all southern camps, especially Camp Gordon, Camp Jackson and others, including as many of the division camps as possible, and train all available men at them.

From present indications cantonments will be in use for a long time to come, and it is said that what the war department desires to do now more than anything else is to train the men regardless of the expense feature of the matter. This does not mean that northern camps will be entirely emptied, but that as many men as the southern camps can hold, after they are completed, will be sent to them. In turn, the northern camps will be utilized to the fullest extent during the coming summer and fall, unless peace should be declared and the men sooner mustered out of the service.

It is difficult to get authorities here to say what is really to be done, but it would not be at all surprising should a move of this kind be determined upon almost immediately. The northern cantonments are not fitted for blizzards and snow, while on the contrary, those in the south are entirely suited for both winter and summer weather, and winter maneuvers may be carried on there at all times. It looks like the bulk of the training will be done at Atlanta, Columbia and elsewhere in the south, if present rumors are correct.

TRENCH TALES

By Lieutenant C. L. Jordan, U. S. R.
(Somewhere in France)

("Shot and Shell" writers are great jokes among the active soldiers. What they send home as "First hand" stuff could only be gotten at the Front, where it is practically impossible for these correspondents to go unless they enlist, which none of them ever do. "Avenues of bullets" and "Boulevards of shells" are gin creations.)

MY HERO

A. Slinger, war correspondent of The Crabville County Gazette,
Was my ideal of a hero—the favored of gods, and our pet.
When "bugles in agony sounded" and "strife was arife in the air"
He "girt up his undaunted loins" and Slinger of Crabville dashed there.

How anxious we read in the papers of all that he braved at the front:
Of how he stood by at St. Quentin: and helped General Joffre pull his stunt.
We ate up his "highways of bullets:" his "boulevards bristling with shells:"
His days were "nightmares of blood carnage:" his nights were "unspeakable hells."

We read of his month in the trenches and paled at the pitiful sight
Of "blood running wild like a torrent" and "men going crazy at night."
We froze with him thru the drear winter, where "fingers and noses dropped off:"
We shuddered at hardships he'd weathered; turned white at the dangers he'd scoff.

But I was unhappily drafted and rushed over quickly to France,
And I went one fine day into Paris, "en repos" before taking my chance.
Somehow chanced I into a barroom—and sudden stood stiff on the floor:
Entrenched behind bulwarks of cocktails was Slinger—my hero of yore!

He wrote as I tremblingly stood there—his brow all a-beady with sweat,
And the hurried words that he scribbled I think I shall never forget:
"Last night the carnage was horrid—I, myself, was thick in the fight,
And the bombing of big guns keep rhythm with the keys of my type as I write."

I wondered what guns he heard pounding, when a soldier observed with a grin,
"He's one of those War Correspondents who sees all the Front thru his gin."
Three others were there writing wildly, when sudden it dawned upon me
That Slinger—brave war correspondent—had never been out of Paree.

THE CONSTITUTION'S SWING AROUND THE BIG WAR CITY

Sixty-eight white selectmen and 29 negroes, making a total of 97, arrived at Camp Gordon and reported to national receiving station during the day Friday. The white selectmen were scattered fairly evenly over the three states represented in the camp. The negroes were all residents of Georgia.

* * *

The number of negroes who have already been given their physical examinations and formally accepted for service in the national army was yesterday announced at 3,900.

* * *

Friday was a bit more "coolish" than any other day the camp has spent, and during the entire day the selectmen showed more "pep" than has yet been seen about the camp.

* * *

The question as to whether division headquarters troops will be moved with the other men constituting the division still remains unanswered. Officials at division headquarters, however, are confident that the troop will be allowed to stay at Camp Gordon.

* * *

It is rumored about camp that there is an effort on foot to retain the military police, but as yet nothing definite has developed along this line.

* * *

Captain Horace V. Cory, of the quartermaster's officers' reserve corps, has been assigned to the command of Motor Truck company No. 56, to take the place of Captain Bernard A. Purcell, also of the quartermaster's officers' reserve corps, who has recently resigned from the service.

* * *

The renumbering of the ambulance companies stationed at the camp to comply with the numbering system of the Eighty-second division was announced yesterday, when it was learned that Ambulance company No. 20, commanded by Captain Leo P. Daley, will henceforth be known as company No. 325 of the national army; Ambulance company No. 29, commanded by Captain Walpole Brewer, as company No. 327, and Ambulance company No. 23, made up of regulars, as company No. 326.

* * *

Camp Gordon's subscription in the second Liberty Loan issue was yesterday increased to a total of $219,300, a gain of approximately $50,000 since Thursday. The standing of the five leading regiments in regard to the bond campaign is as follows: 319th heavy artillery, $59,150; first provisional regiment (colored), $26,900; 328th infantry, $22,150; 320th infantry, $20,550; 327th infantry, $19,450.

* * *

The first provisional regiment, composed entirely of negro selectmen, is the most-talked-of organization in camp today. The colored troops yesterday forged into second place from fifth place in the Camp Gordon Liberty Loan campaign, and they bid fair to give the leaders in the campaign a hot race for first place. The regiment of negro troops is greatly enthused over the campaign, and its members are displaying a fine spirit when it comes to helping the government. They are making America's fight their fight with a will.

* * *

As it stands now there is only 31,250 difference between the 319th, Heavy artillery, which is leading the race, and the First Provisional regiment colored. The negroes were in about tenth place three days ago and they have certainly been forging ahead.

* * *

As the captain was drilling his company of soldiers the major of the battalion approached and asked permission to drill the company a short while in order to show the captain the correct way to execute a company movement. Walking to the head of the column he commanded "Right dress." All the negroes acted accordingly, except one black fellow who stepped out of ranks and stated: "Now, look here boss, this man here, pointing to the captain, is our boss, and we certainly don't 'preciate you buttin' in dis way."

* * *

A number of selectmen; in fact, some in practically every company at Camp Gordon, have been advanced to acting non-commissioned officers, and it is a daily occurrence now to see squads of new men being schooled by drill masters who were themselves being taught the first rudiments of squad drilling only a few weeks ago.

* * *

Captain Hall, of the base hospital, heartily approves the work of the Army Y. M. C. A., and remarked that the boys would be at a loss were it not for the many deeds of kindness shown them at the "Y." Captain Hall was a great lover of the work in New Jersey, and is ready to help carry out the needy field at Camp Gordon. A private walked to the desk and with a cheering face remarked: "You see this smile on my face? That's what I've caught by coming to Y. M. C. A."

* * *

One of the popular songs the soldiers are now singing as they hike to and from Camp Gordon goes something like this:

We're the men in khaki,
Grim and determined we,
To cross the mighty ocean
And march to victory.
(Look out! look out, there, you Germany.)
We will surely get your goat
Soon to end the fray;
So it's HIP—HOORAY for the army of the U. S. A.

Sung to the tune of that ever popular band march, "Our Director," this song thrills the hearts of those that watch the men stride by, especially when the hip—hooray is shouted by the lusty-lunged patriots.

FAMOUS EDUCATOR JOINS GORDON STAFF

Dr. Phillips, of Univ. of Michigan and Columbia Univ., at Work Among Soldiers.

Dr. U. B. Phillips, LL.D., professor of American history in the University of Michigan, has joined the educational staff of Camp Gordon, and is associate director with Professor Max Souby.

Dr. Phillips is on leave of absence from his university, and at Camp Gordon will give especial attention to educational work among the negro soldiers, he being considered one of America's best authorities on the history and traditions of the negro race, having made ante-bellum conditions in the slave states a special study. He has written one or two books on the subject. He is a biographer of note as well, and his "Life of Robert Toombs" is a standard work in the libraries of this country.

Dr. Phillips is a native of LaGrange, Ga. He is a southerner to the manor born, liberal, big-hearted, jovial. He came south, with his family, in his automobile, on a brief respite from university work in order to do research work, and, reaching Atlanta a week ago, he went to Camp Gordon purely as a matter of curiosity. While there he became impressed with the wonderful opportunities for educational work among the soldiers, especially among the colored, and he volunteered his services, which were quickly accepted by the war work council. He then secured an indefinite leave from his university, drove out to the camp and entered enthusiastically into this new educational work.

Dr. Phillips is a Columbia college man, and is a member of the summer faculty of that famous university, which is vacation work when his Michigan classroom is closed.

3,300 OHIO MEN JOIN THE SHERIDAN FORCES

11,000 Selectmen From Camp Sherman Will Also Go to Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., October 12.—(Special.)—There were 1,400 officers and men in the Third Ohio infantry of Dayton, and 1,900 in the First regiment of Cincinnati, which have just arrived at Camp Sheridan, making a total of more than twenty thousand Ohio soldiers now in the camp.

There now remains to come only the Seventh infantry, one battalion of artillery, one company of engineers and three companies of the Ninth separate battalion, the latter being negro troops.

But, aside from these remaining contingents, the war department will send about eleven thousand drafted men from Chillicothe to Camp Sheridan for the purpose of filling the ranks of the Ohio 37th division [illegible] full war strength. There were taken [illegible] the division something like eight thousand men to make up Ohio's regiment in the Rainbow division, and others have been taken away for various duties elsewhere since then, so that it will really require about eleven thousand drafted men from Camp Sherman to complete the Ohio division. It is understood that several thousand of the required number will leave Camp Sherman for Camp Sheridan as soon as transportation can be arranged.

The Third infantry of Dayton has itself been at Camp Sherman and came here from Chillicothe. Colonel Hubler, commander, is highly satisfied with the condition of his men. They received excellent training at Camp Sherman, and all are in fine condition. The boys like the change to Camp Sheridan, and are delighted with their reception here, both in respect to the hospitality of the people and the pleasant character of the weather, which continues warmly agreeable.

CAMP GORDON SPORTS

Look up your physical director—"Get to know him"—they are experts in all lines of athletic training and will gladly be at your service for suggestions relative to training, etc. Look him up. He is only one—you are many, so it is up to you.

Our Camp Gordon football team, under the leadership of General Erwin and coach, Captain Elcock, is practicing daily from 5 to 5:30 p. m. in General Erwin's front yard. Some team is the way onlookers size them up.

Manager Cubbon of the Y was called in by Dr. Crenshaw of Georgia Tech to sign a contract for October 27th, but on arriving at the proper place on time, was informed that the coaches had changed their minds because of the heavy schedule booked by Tech, but in case of a postponement we will be taken on.

We are wiring, telephoning, and writing camp teams and college teams for games. Camp Hancock, at Augusta, has a star team with a crack backfield made up from last year's famous Pittsburg eleven, and it looks at this writing as though they are the logical team with which to try conclusions for the southern camp championship. The University of Alabama and Camp Jackson, at Columbia, are other prospects.

Oglethorpe University, through Coach Anderson, is going to give our team a scrimmage practice on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Money secured from the big matches is to be given over to the purchase of camp athletic equipment. Here's hoping someone will have the audacity to accept our far-flung challenge for the southern championship.

The daily activities reports turned in by the Y physical directors indicate that the soldier boys are beginning to feel at home and are looking about for athletic contests. Last week the total number participating was 14,360. This week, 23,568, a gain of 45 per cent. Watch it grow.

Our aim is to co-operate with General Swift and his athletic council in an endeavor to get everybody interested and actually participating in an athletics hobby. If you fail to find your favorite pastime on our athletic menu look up your Y physical director and tell him all about his shortcomings in not being far-sighted enough to include it.

One of the camp regiments has taken up the athletic council's suggestion that the soldier boys indulge in a prescribed military-athletic pentathalon. It is evident from their shouts and laughter that this form of athletics is a source of pleasure and, incidentally, it will produce greater military efficiency. Events being contemplated by the camp athletic council for the pentathalon are as follows: 50-yard dash, bomb throwing, hurdles, running broad jump, 440-yard run.

All athletic programs considered by the general must be safe and sane, must be conducive to increased military efficiency, must be open to the mass rather than limited to the few, and must be of the type requiring medium time in operating.

The 319th field artillery has organized a baseball team composed of the following men: Long, leftfield; Ruck, second base; Bell, centerfield; Wilson, rightfield; Toppen, third base; Sater, shortstop; Robinson, first base; Murrill, catcher; Chandler, pitcher; Scott, centerfield; Southerland, utility; Kennington, pitcher.

The 319th boasts of a fine team and desires match games with any other organization in camp. They are also organizing a volley ball team.

The field hospital has several organized teams and will no doubt accept some of these challenges. Various other organizations are growing in the artillery, the depot brigades and machine gun companies. Many fast legs will undoubtedly be established soon throughout the camp.

The 23d Ambulance company played a double-header with the 326th Field Artillery, the first game going to the artillery 10 to 8, the second to the ambulance company 10 to 3, the following men participating in the two games: Ambulance company, Batcholder, picher; McDonald, centerfield; Markwick, rightfield; Roberts, shortstop; Vinson, second base; Gray, catcher; Walsh, leftfield; Burke, third base; Lukaszewicz, first base; Leavenworth, centerfield. Artillery, Howard, pitcher; Swah, shortstop and pitcher; Harden, first base; Slatton, third base; Christian, rightfield; Pirkins, catcher; Scott, centerfield; Viall, leftfield; Grant, second base; Belles, Willhite, Day and Delozier.

The 23d Ambulance company, under the able leadership of Lieutenant Speer, a former Penn star, is organizing a football and basketball team. Lieutenant Speer is an able coach, having had wide experience in all branches of athletics.

The 20th Ambulance company boasts of one of the strongest basketball teams in Camp Gordon and challenges all comers. The following is the line-up of the ambulance company team: Gilbert Govan, guard; Roy Govan, center; John Graves, guard; Harry Villard, forward; Wallace Rhodes, forward; Lewis Dugger, guard; Morris O. Sullivan, forward.

The 29th Ambulance company has organized a basketball team composed of the following men: V. Pease, McDuffie, Cooley, Elder, F. Pease, Golden, Freeman, Cole.

Coaches Alexander and Clay, former Ga. Tech stars, are whipping baseball and football teams into shape and they will soon be ready for match games.

3,704 TENNESSEE MEN GO TO CAMP SEVIER

Greenville, S. C., October 12.—Drafted Tennessee men to the number of 3,704 from Camp Gordon, at Atlanta, drafted North Carolinians to the number of 8,000 and drafted South Carolinians to the number of 2,592, from Camp Jackson at Columbia, are to be sent to Camp Sevier to fill the ranks of the Thirtieth division, headquarters has been advised. It is understood that an active recruiting campaign will be put on to secure the 3,000 or 4,000 necessary to bring the division to full strength. The numbers to be sent from each state were determined upon a basis of congressional representation.

MANY OFFICERS ADDED TO MUSTERING FORCE TO EXPEDITE TRANSFER

Assignment of Various Officers to Different Details in Order to Get Quick Results.

In the big rush to prepare Camp Gordon's thousands for immediate transportation easily the most essential part of operations is the preparation of men for muster when they will arrive at the national guard camps to which they are to be dispatched in lots of two thousand each, and realizing that the big transfer is practically dependent on the work of getting ready the service, identification, beneficiary, physical and other records of the soldiers, camp authorities have redoubled the working force of the mustering office and beginning last night a force of men will be at work day and night until the men are entrained.

The men who will serve on the force which is to prepare records for every individual in camp are without doubt facing the biggest task they have ever tackled, but Captain William A. Patton, who is directing operations, is confident that his men will be able to rise to the emergency.

The work of preparing the selectmen of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee for immediate transfer from camp is being carried on under the supervision of Colonel Frederick S. L. Price, and it is extremely probable that even after the new troops from eastern camps arrive the mustering office will be one of the busiest spots in the camp.

The working force of the mustering office, as increased by those in charge, is as follows: Captains G. B. Ryman and M. C. Balkcon, in charge of matching mustering papers; Lieutenant S. R. Evans, returns; Lieutenant Henry West, receiving; Lieutenant G. W. Campbell, delivery; Lieutenants John Anderson, Brown, W. E. Whaley, J. C. Cothran, Spotswood and Carter, initial check; Captains Milton Smith, P. M. Cleveland, R. E. Fleming, Lieutenants D. C. Enochs, J. W. Mangham, Jr., E. Morganstern, A. P. Stewart, J. R. Cook, J. C. Crittenden, Brown, Ponnell and Lippett, final entries in all papers pertaining to transfer of selectmen.

Captain R. L. McWhorter relieves Captain P. M. Cleveland in the shift of officers; Lieutenant Davenport Guerry relieves Captain Milton Smith; Lieutenant Lawrence Akin relieves Lieutenant W. E. Whaley, and Lieutenant W. F. McIntosh relieves Lieutenant Joe Cook.

MIKADO OPERA OPENS GORDON CHAUTAUQUA

Course Begins Monday Evening With America's Greatest Talent Booked for Winter.

One of the greatest chautauqua courses ever programmed in America will begin its course at Camp Gordon next Monday evening.

The opening bill will be the Mikado Opera company—twenty-five artists in the company—and this will be followed every week by individual and organization entertainments that are topliners in the leading chautauqua circuits of America.

This chautauqua course is one provided to all the United States army camps by the War Work Council of New York. The bookings are for the big chautauqua auditoriums created at all of the training camps, and Dr. Pearson, who has been charged with the responsibility of gathering only nationally famous attractions, has drawn upon all of the chautauqua organizations in the United States in order to make the program as the war work council desired, the most celebrated talent that the country produces.

This chautauqua course is provided at an enormous expense to the council, but the admission fees are nominal, just enough to help pay the local auditorium expense only. Just what the admission at the opening bill, the Mikado Opera, will be is to be decided at a conference with the military authorities today. The maximum cost of a reserved seat will probably not exceed twenty-five cents.

Edward Franklin Reimer, of Easton, Pa., arrived at Camp Gordon Friday afternoon to take the superintendency of the audtorium—now used by General Swift as a receiving station—for the Red Triangle chautauqua.

Number of Selectmen To Be Discharged Today; Some Entered by Error

A number of discharges of selectmen will be made today both for physical unfitness and by reason of having been inducted into the service by errors.

The following were exempted subsequent to their arrival at Camp Gordon, and will be discharged: Edward W. Beaver, Ringgold, Ga.; James W. N. Bryan, Florona, Ga.; John Byers, Kingsport, Tenn.; John Coats, Kingsport, Tenn.; Right Dixon, Kingsport, Tenn.; Eldridge D. Evans, Jacksonville, Ala.; Robert McClendon, Fort Mitchell, Ala.; Sam H. Heters, Emmett, Tenn.; Haddock H. Pierce, Halls, Tenn.; Robert L. Rader, Bristol, Tenn.; James O. Stroutt, Bristol, Tenn.; John G. Veatch, Summerville, Ga.; Wade Vestal, Bristol, Tenn.; Jacob M. Woodard, Dyers, Ala.; Arthur L. Handcock, Sylvester, Ga.; E. T. Bowen, Savannah, Ga.

Phycically Disqualified.

The following have been physically disqualified and will be discharged at 8 o'clock Saturday morning: George R. Scarlet, B. A. Smith, Jay Hosey, Arthur D. Henson, Paul Glen, Charles S. Generly, Leon Silver, Allie F. Rhoden, Lem D. Payne, Irby O. Bates, Trem T. Stephenson, Arthur Horton, Newman Crick, D. R. Brady, Clyd Watson, Besil E. Cosby, Andy Cole, Robert Pearson, Louis Mullen, Alexander F. Carter, John W. Halsam, Walter Q. Norris, Malcom H. Snell, James R. Moore, Robert Billings, Edgar Jackson, Fred Nickens, Bonnie W. Heard, Smith P. Johnson, Ernest Clackum, Charlie O. Horton, Marion A. Duncan, Porter B. Childs, Willie Stickland, Lewis C. Davis, Otto Lutz, Fred D. Davis, Greyton R. Quillian, Narcisus Hatfield.

Board Will Pass Upon The Reports of Unfitness Of Some Junior Officers

An official order appointing the members of a board of officers to determine the correctness of reports of unfitness for duty of members of the officers' reserve corps has been issued by authorities of the 82d division, and its members have already taken steps to assume the duties of membership on the board.

Its members will consist of Brigadier General M. D. Cronin, Lieutenant Colonel John W. Wright, of the 328th infantry, and Lieutenant Colonel J. L. Schley, of the 307th engineers.

The Constitution's Markets

COTTON GOODS ADVANCE; MARKET MORE ACTIVE

Most Operators Are Confining Themselves to Purchases for Actual Needs.

New York, October 12.—Cotton goods markets became stronger and more active during the week. Advances taking place in several instances that brought prices to the highest levels of the year. There is nothing like a boom in buying, and very little speculation, most operators confining purchases to actual needs that are well defined and that have been deferred because of the uncertainty in the raw cotton outlook.

It now seems settled that high cotton is inevitable. Mills are so badly supplied that many of them have declined to quote on cloths, and at different times during the week many goods were withdrawn from sale. Fine bleached cottons have advanced 1 cent a yard. Print cloths were quieter at the end of the week, while sheetings and drills were more active. Colored cottons are very firm. Orders for wash fabrics and white goods from the retail trade for spring delivery in southern and western markets have been coming in freely and in larger volume than a year ago.

Mills are unable to secure a full production in consequence of labor conditions, while in eastern manufacturing centers another wage advance of 10 per cent goes into effect in some places Monday. Quotations are as follows:

Print cloths, 28-inch 64x64's, 8c; 64x60's, 7⅝c; 38½-inch, 64x64's, 11c; brown sheetings, Southern standards, 16c; denims, 2.20's indigo, 28c, nominal; tickings, 8-ounce, 35c; prints, 12½c; staple ginghams, 15½c; dress ginghams, 16½c and 17½c.

RISING COMMODITIES ARE INDICATED BY DUN

Recovering all and more of the previous month's moderate recession, Dun's Index Number of wholesale commodity quotations on October 1 stood at $219,679 and established another new high level. This figure compares with $215,010 on September 1 and $152,355 on October 1, 1916, when a slight advance was witnessed. Going back to the outbreak of the war, or to August 1, 1914, it is seen that prices have risen more than 80 per cent during the interval, and from the bottom point on record, $72,455 on July 1, 1897, the gain exceeds 200 per cent. With two exceptions, July 1 and September 1, this year, each month of the last fourteen has shown a continuous upturn.

Even a cursory examination of the October 1 figures discloses the fact that where the markets have not been subject to official regulation the trend has been distinctly toward higher levels, though the net rise last month was but 2.2 per cent. Yet of the seven groups into which the Index Number is separated, only two—meats and metals—show declines from September 1, and all foodstuffs together advanced 3.7 per cent. The readjustments in the metals through official action lowered the total of this class about 4.5 per cent, but a further downward revision is foreshadowed, as the government's announcement of steel and iron prices embraced only a few products and other changes are still being worked out. In clothing, another new high record was attained, because of dearer raw cotton, wool, silk and woolen goods, which more than offset recessions in raw silk, cotton goods and hides, and miscellaneous articles, as a whole, gained 3.7 per cent, lumber being among the commodities which became more costly.

The following table gives Dun's Index Number for October 1, with comparisons for earlier dates:

	Oct. 1, 1917	Sept. 1, 1917	Oct. 1, 1916.
Breadstuffs	$ 55,518	$ 54,688	$ 31,821
Meat	19,127	19,355	13,691
Dairy and Garden	25,802	22,751	20,702
Other food	16,086	15,552	12,616
Clothing	39,436	38,615	26,826
Metals	31,159	32,657	21,326
Miscellaneous	32,551	31,392	25,373
Total	$219,679	$215,010	$152,355

FAIR PATRONS TO GET DAILY MARKET REPORTS

Announcement was made yesterday by the local branch of the government bureau located in the Connally building that patrons of the Southeastern Fair association would be furnished daily reports by telegraph on the movement and marketing of fruits and vegetables. These reports will be posted on three bulletin boards placed at advantageous points in the Agricultural building on the fair grounds.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, October 12.—Cotton spot, quiet; prices higher; good middling, 20.57; middling, 20.07; low middling, 19.57; good ordinary, 18.82; ordinary, 18.12; sales, 3,000 bales, including 2,500 American. Receipts, 16,000 bales, including 11,500 American. Futures higher; old contracts (fixed prices): October, 19.17; December-January, 18.20; January-February, 18.10; March-April, 17.92; May, 17.76.

TWO MARKETS OPEN TODAY.

Owing to the fact that yesterday was Columbus day and a legal holiday in many states, all the leading markets in the country were closed.

The New York stock exchange and the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges will also be closed today, by vote of their directors. The New York produce exchange and the Chicago board of trade will be open for the regular Saturday hours.

Building Outlook Shows Slight Improvement, According to Bradstreet

While it is still too early to generalize, it may be stated tas an encouraging feature in the building trade that the September total of value is a shade larger than that of August, and when all returns are in it is probable that the grand total for the month may show a gain over July as well. The point to this observation is that heretofore every month since March had shown a progressive decrease in the aggregate value from that of the preceding month. Compared with September a year ago, however, a very considerable decrease is shown, and while the falling off is not so great as in either July or August, the volume of decrease is such as would ordinarily make the month notable. That the decreasing tendency is not checked may be gathered from the fact that the number of permits in September has fallen off in a greater degree than have values, and this is all the more notable because, as readers of Bradstreet's know, there is general complaint of scarcity of accommodation for renters noted at a number of cities. The following table shows the number of permits and value of building in the various groups of cities, with percentage of decrease given, as compared with a year ago:

	No. of cities.	No. of permits 1917.	Values 1917.	Compared with last year Per's.	Val.
Middle	23	4,189	16,204,834	*22.3	*12.4
Western	20	4,273	10,490,413	*34.4	*27.5
Northwest	19	2,047	8,827,028	*32.6	*38.8
Southwest	13	1,149	1,992,250	*17.9	*37.7
Southern	25	1,964	3,495,884	*38.8	*20.0
Far western	17	2,728	3,453,627	*28.5	*40.8
Total U.S.	139	17,858	$51,039,761	*29.3	*23.7
Canada	10	1,070	2,006,434	†12.0	*8.1

Of 139 cities above recorded, ninety-four show decreases and only forty-five, or about one-third, show gains in value over September a year ago. Every group of cities shows a decline from September a year ago in permits, while only one group shows a gain in value, and the permits as a whole fall 29.3 per cent behind a year ago as against a decrease in values of 23.7 per cent. The generally larger percentages of decrease in permits as compared with values point to the character of the building being of the more expensive kind, herein fortifying the statement frequently met with in detailed trade reports that what expansion there is in manufacturing and commercial structures rather than in the residence and renting classes.

Cooking fats continue their upward price movement. Snowdrift list being $13.25; Cottolene $13.50. Wesson Oil has advanced forty-five cents per case for the small sizes. It seems as though nothing will stop the advances in price of fats except governmental control.

The flour market is strong with seeming no chance for lower prices, but with strong possibilities of a higher market.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

When a downtown parcel sold Friday at the highest front foot price ever set in Atlanta's history, the pessimists were put to rout, and a new era dawned in the Atlanta real estate market.

Details of the sale are found elsewhere in these columns, and the facts in the story are sufficient argument to banish forever all fears held by those who have been afraid to put their money into Atlanta real estate because of war times.

West Peachtree Street Sale.

L. O. Turner, of the M. L. Thrower agency, sold for Mrs. Nancy B. Napier to Mrs. Edith Westmoreland a dwelling at No. 883 West Peachtree street, near the corner of Seventeenth street. The price was $8,250.

The parcel consists of a two-story, nine-room house, on a lot 42x240 feet.

East Lake Sale.

H. M. Ashe has sold for B. V. Tilson, who has moved his residence to New York city, to F. G. Berryman, Jr., assistant superintendent of public buildings for the federal government, the handsome Tilson bungalow on East Lake drive, East Lake.

The consideration was $6,500. The lot is 85½ by 260 feet.

SAVE FOOD AND WIN WAR, MACON SLOGAN

Prominent Speakers Heard at State-Wide Conservation Meeting—Resolution to Exempt Farmers From Draft Is Defeated.

Macon, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—A crowd that all but filled the Macon City auditorium attended the state-wide food conservation meeting here today to awaken Georgia to the necessity of conserving food in order that America's allies in the war need not go hungry. The point was made clear that within the next thirty days it will be determined just how long the war is to last.

"Save the food and win the war" was the slogan of the meeting, which was described in the beginning as an inspirational one. That the United States and her allies cannot hope to win the war without the assistance of the housekeeper was the burden of virtually every speech; that to render this assistance to the government is not only a duty, but should be a patriotic pleasure, was stressed, and that the government is not attempting to force compliance with the conservation plans, but is simply asking it, was made plain.

Wood's Message.

The address of John Wood, who came direct from Washington city to bring to Georgia the president's message, proved to be one of the real features of the occasion.

"In Kansas and in Connecticut, in Maine and in Texas, in Michigan and in South Carolina," said Mr. Wood, "the forces of the nation are gathering today to sweep the menace of the Huns from off the earth. Part of these forces are gathering at mobilization camps, but a no less important part is gathering at meetings such as this for the purpose of finding out just how those who stay at home may do their full share in bearing the war's burdens.

"We know that, with the present high prices of food, it seems almost an insult to the average housewife to ask her to practice more rigid economy. We wish to make it plain, therefore, that it is not the intention of the government to ask further sacrifices of the average household. The government wants the people well fed—expects to see that they are well fed, for that matter. I come, therefore, with no message of undue sacrifice.

"I come to impress upon you that the great problem of our country today is how we may conserve the surplus of food in the country today, how we may concentrate it and ship it where it will do the most good to our allies in Europe, who must have it if we are to win the war. We come asking only that you substitute one food for another on occasions and that you use your influence to have your neighbor do likewise. Further than this, we ask nothing save that you conserve food as much as possible."

"Remember," he said in closing, "when you are inclined to consider the 'personal privilege' phase of this food conservation campaign, that there is no such thing as personal privilege when a nation is at war. Forget Mr. Hoover and your prejudices, if you have any. Remember that no one is trying to force you to do anything. It is the voice of this nation and those of our allies who are fighting our battles for us that are asking for your assistance.

"Fail to save food if you will, stay aloof from this movement if you will, but know that by so doing you are stabbing your own soldier boys in the back."

C. Murphy Candler, chairman of the state executive committee, who presided at the meeting, made a stirring appeal for the campaign in his outline of the objects of the campaign.

Dr. Andrew M. Soule, federal food administrator for Georgia, pictured the horrors of the war and the extremities to which the country's allies have been forced in the matter of foods. He said the newspaper reports of the weakening of Germany are misleading and that many of them were the direct result of German propaganda.

The speaker said that there are 50,000,000 men in the world out of productive industries on account of the war, and said that the per capita consumption of food in the United States figures on an average of twice that of the German people.

He referred to the substitution of corn instead of wheat, and said that, after ground, corn could not be transported across the water satisfactorily. He recommended nine wheatless meals per week; one wheatless day and one wheatless meal each day thereafter for each week. He showed that the people in France are suffering for sugar. "We eat five ounces of sugar per day," he said, "and we are only asked to save one ounce per day."

He said that fats are of greater importance than other foods on account of the shortage in France and England, and the fact that they are essential in munition work. He declared that there are 56,000,000 less sheep, 33,000,000 less cattle and 28,000,000 less hogs in the allied countries than before the war.

Women's Work in the War.

Miss Lois P. Dowdle, of the home economics department of the State College of Agriculture, reviewed the work and sacrifices of women in other wars and said that the work of saving is after all dependent upon the women. "Men must go to the front and buy Liberty bonds," she declared, "but the women must save the food."

"Of the 465,000 families of Georgia, give the women the opportunity to do their bit and they will respond," she said. "It is the woman who will save the wheat by making the nut loaf and adapting other grains to use in the making of bread. The men will clamor for sugar and for meats, but the women will adapt other things, make them palatable, and the men will hardly realize that they are doing without."

Just before the close of the meeting a committee composed of J. J. Flynt, of Griffin; W. T. Anderson, of Macon, and B. H. Hardy, of Barnesville, presented a resolution asking the president wherever possible to exempt farmers from military service so that the agricultural industry of the nation will not be disrupted. General Peter Meldrim, of Savannah, made a speech against the resolution, declaring the meeting was not called to consider the selective draft and that it was not within the province of a handful of people so assembled to tell the president of the United States what should be done in a matter of that kind. Mr. Meldrim moved to table the resolution. Supporters of the measure attempted to debate the matter, but the point was raised that a motion to table is not debatable. The resolution was defeated overwhelmingly.

Eczema On Boy's Face and Arms

Broke Out in Pimples. Badly Disfigured. Itching and Burning So Could not Sleep. Cuticura Healed At a Cost of Only 75c.

"My boy had eczema which first began to break out in pimples, his arms and face being mostly affected. The skin was sore and red, and the pimples burst and ran, and afterwards turned into sore eruptions. The surface of the skin was almost one solid eruption so that his face was badly disfigured. It caused itching and burning so that he could not sleep night or day.

"Then I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Huneycutt, R. 1, Oakboro, N. C., Feb. 3, 1917.

"Pom-Pom."

(Atlanta Theater.)

Last performances of "Pom-Pom" will be given at the Atlanta theater today, matinee and night. This is without question one of the best attractions brought to Atlanta in some time, and anyone who fails to see or hear the sprightly Mitzi in this latest and probably best of Savage productions will miss one of the distinct treats of the season. "Pom-Pom" is a wonderful show and too much praise cannot be accorded both company and production. The capacity of the Atlanta theater should be tested to the limit at the two remaining performances today.

"Fair and Warmer."

(Atlanta Theater.)

Within six weeks after the spectacular first night of "Fair and Warmer" at the Eltinge theater, New York, Avery Hopwood's newest piece was hailed as a record-breaking success, with illimitable power to make all kinds of people laugh. Its reappearance here at the Atlanta theater on Monday for an engagement of two nights and only matinee Tuesday, promises to be a noteworthy one. The New York reviewers, and later on in Chicago, where it remained eight months, exhausted their adjectives in praise of its hilarity. Later they marshalled their vocabularies to say that "Fair and Warmer" had become a classic of farce, as "Within the Law" had been of melodrama. Its success did actually and literally make a record. It will be presented here by an excellent cast of farceurs. Seats are now on sale.

Musical Show Coming.

(Atlanta Theater.)

Warmly indorsed by theatergoers of New York, Boston and Chicago and favorably remembered for its excellent presentation here last season, "Very Good Eddie" is announced to appear at the Atlanta theater for four nights, commencing Wednesday, October 17, with matinees Thursday and Saturday. The whole production is said to be way above the ordinary and a credit to any theater. The company is a very large one and the music is of a superior order. Coming with such glowing indorsements, it is believed that the coming engagement will be a repetition of last season's success. The seat sale opens this morning.

Four Performances Today.

(At Loew's Grand Theater.)

There will be four performances of the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater Saturday. The bill is one of cleverness and many laughs. At the top of the program is Will and dainty Mary Rogers, a comedy pair, in songs, dances and stories. Other acts on the bill are "Pop" Ward and Arthur Curran, veterans of the varieties, in a comedy offering; Alexandria, the xylophone virtuoso, in ragtime and operatic selections; Leonard and Ward, character comedians, with a new line of jokes, and the Del Gardo Four, startling and daring aerialistic performers. The big photo-play is "Bondage," a thrilling story of today, starring the beautiful screen actress, Dorothy Phillips.

Jonia, the Dancer.

(Coming to B. F. Keith's Lyric.)

Jonia, the celebrated native Hawaiian dancer who is one of the few genuine exponents of the Hula on the American stage, is announced by Manager George H. Hickman as headliner at B. F. Keith's Lyric the first three days of next week. With her will be a quartet of native musicians. Three exceptional shows of today will feature Harry Beresford, noted comedian, in a comedy sketch that critics have proclaimed a pace-setter. Grace De Mar appears in her new song cycle. Other acts are James McCormack and Eleanor Irving in their diverting comedy, "Between Decks;" Carson Brothers in feats of physical prowess; Corbett, Shepherd and Donovan, comedy singing entertainers.

Negress for Atlanta Pen.

Nashville, Tenn., October 12.—Callie House, a negress, secretary of the National Mutual ex-Slave Pension Benefit and Bounty association, was convicted today of using the mails to defraud and given a sentence of a year and a day in the Atlanta prison.

LA FOLLETTE IS CALLED BY PROBING COMMITTEE

Senator Will Be Questioned About Statements in St. Paul Speech.

Washington, October 12.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin was today invited by the senate committee investigating his alleged disloyal speech at St. Paul to appear next Tuesday before the committee for a hearing regarding assertions in his address.

The hearings probably will be public and will be confined to the statement of facts in the speech, particularly regarding Mr. La Follette's statement that former Secretary Bryan appealed to President Wilson to keep passengers off the Lusitania because of ammunition alleged to be in her cargo.

The committee advised the senator that its investigating authority does not extend to his right to make the Non-Partisan League speech, nor into the motives of his critics.

To the letter sent to the committee yesterday by Senator La Follette asking a hearing and suggesting extension of the investigation, Chairman Pomerene today replied:

"Referring to the request contained in your letter the sub-committee begs to advise you that it does not concede that its powers extend to an inquiry into your right to make the speech delivered by you in St. Paul—that question being reserved by the full committee for its consideration; nor does it believe itself authorized to inquire into the motives or animus of those making attacks on you.

"The sub-committee desires, however, to afford you an opportunity to be heard and to inform the committee with reference to the accuracy of various statements contained in the speech referred to, and to that end, you are invited to attend at the ensuing session of the committee in the capitol next Tuesday."

Senator La Follette is expected to be the first witness on Tuesday and to submit much data towards substantiating his statements. Other witnesses may be called later, but the first and most important question which the committee plans to investigate is the authority of Senator La Follette for his statements regarding the Lusitania. The committee is awaiting the statement from Mr. Bryan regarding the incident. It has not been determined whether Mr. Bryan will be asked to appear.

Rivers, of Atlanta, and three sons, B. D., J. S. and H. B. McElroy, of Selina. The body was removed to the chapel of A. C. Hemperley at East Point.

WAR RISK RATES CUT ON CREWS OF VESSELS

Washington, October 12.—Reduction of approximately 25 per cent recently by the government in war risk insurance rates on vessels traversing the war zone was followed today by a reduction of one-third in premiums on the insurances of officers and crews on such vessels.

As in the case of previous reduction, "decrease of risk" was assigned by the government as the impelling cause. The new rate, which is effective immediately, is 50 cents per $100; the old rate was 75 cents. The reduction applies to crews of all American vessels sailing between American ports and all European ports and African ports on the Mediterranean.

"Announcement also is made," reads a statement issued by the treasury department, "of a ruling now making mandatory seaman's insurance on all vessels trading to the Azores, the Canary Islands and the ports of Morocco. Heretofore this insurance was mandatory only on American vessels trading to and from European ports on the Metiderranean sea.

"On account of its being impracticable to have the necessary forms ready in the hands of those interested, this insurance will not become mandatory until November 1 for all vessels sailing from the United States and November 15 for all vessels sailing from the foreign ports involved."

NEGRO ODD FELLOWS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Negro Odd Fellows will hold a meeting Sunday afternoon at Morgan Williams hall at Parsons and Chestnut streets to make plans for the preservation of the order in Georgia. Plans will be discussed to combat a proposed amendment to the charter which it is claimed will destroy the force and power of the subcommittee of management which has heretofore directed the affairs of the district grand lodge in Georgia.

It is claimed certain members of the order are making an attempt to amend the charter of the grand lodge so that a Georgia corporation will take the place of the Georgia Odd Fellows and thus destroy the order in Georgia.

700 COLUMBIA STUDENTS FIGHT FOR PROF. BEARD

They Urge His Retention in Interest of University's Good Name.

New York, October 13.—Trustees and faculty of Columbia university were petitioned to effect a readjustment of differences which would result in Professor Charles A. Beard resuming his services as member of the faculty at a meeting of 700 under class men of the college Friday.

In tendering his resignation last Monday Professor Beard said it was because the university "is really under the control of a small and active group of trustees who have no standing in the world of education, who are reactionary and visionless in politics, narrow and mediaeval in religion."

The resolutions adopted today express regret that the professor "felt it necessary to resign," and that "in the interest of the good name and scholastic reputation of Columbia, we confidently expect the trustees and faculty to adopt whatever measures may be necessary to bring about a desirable spirit of co-operation among trustees, faculty and students.

Speakers declared Professor Beard's resignation was not influenced by the action of the trustees last week in declaring vacant the professorships held by James McKeen Cattell and Henry W. L. Dana because of their pacifist activities. They asserted "free thought" on the part of the faculty members and students was hampered by the board of trustees as now constituted.

C. Perry Ivins, the student who presided over the meeting, said that "Professor Beard's resignation has brought home to us that we are in danger of losing some of our most respected, most highly gifted and most Columbia-spirited professors."

President Nicholas Murray Butler, of the university, announced that he had sent a letter to Professor Beard acknowledging his resignation, but containing, he said, no intimation of his probable action. The board of trustees also held a meeting today, but gave out no statement as to their deliberations.

PROF. EGGERT DISMISSED FOR "UNPATRIOTIC" TALK.

Ann Arbor, Mich., October 12.—The position of Dr. Carl Eggert, assistant professor of German at the University of Michigan, was declared vacant by the board of regents this afternoon, at the conclusion of an investigation into charges that he had made unpatriotic utterances.

The charges were made by students. Dr. Eggert has been connected with the university since 1901.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

A great community revival will begin at Little Friendship Baptist church, corner of East Merritts avenue and Bedford place, Sunday night, October 14, and will continue every night for ten nights. Rev. J. W. Williams, pastor of the Iconium Baptist church, of this city, will preach every night. The pastor, Rev. M. P. McCrarey, cordially invites the Christians of the community to attend.

Three divorce decrees were awarded in superior court Friday. George E. Wood obtained a first verdict against Mrs. George E. Wood, on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Zoe Yarbrough received a first verdict from W. T. Yarbrough, and a first decree was also rendered in favor of Mrs. Lizzie Sims against Millard Sims.

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed in superior court Friday by J. L. Daly against Ladd Lime and Stone company, for injuries alleged to have been received in July, while working in the company's plant near Cartersville, Ga.

POLITICAL GATHERINGS IN ARMY CANTONMENTS

Washington, October 12.—Citizen soldiers in the national army training cantonments will not have to forego the privilege of attending political meetings this fall. Secretary Baker announced tonight that he had approved an order by Major General J. Franklin Bell, commanding at Camp Upton, N. J., permitting political gatherings in camp under proper regulations and that the ruling would apply to all the camps.

The conditions are that there shall be no interference with the serious work of training of the troops and full equality opportunities shall be given all political parties. It is understood also that General Bell's prohibition of disloyal utterances will apply generally.

Where the state laws provide for taking the ballots of soldiers absent from their lawful voting places by state commissions or otherwise, such polling of the troops will be facilitated by the military commanders during the municipal and state elections.

GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL SUNDAY IN AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., October 12.—(Special.)—Americus Sunday schools will celebrate Go-to-Sunday-School day this year on the first Sunday in November, and already preparations are under way to make the occasion a great success.

Heretofore the occasion has been celebrated on the first Sunday in February, having been instituted three years ago as a state-wide movement, which at once attained unusual popularity in this section. Last February the attendance at First Methodist school, the largest in the city, was considered more than a thousand, with approximately 900 attending First Baptist, and other schools having proportionate attendance.

VETERAN OF BOER WAR TO VISIT CAMP GORDON

Ben Scovell, Nephew of Sir Henry Irving, Comes Fresh From the Battlefields.

Benjamin Scovell, a nephew of Sir Henry Irving, and himself a veteran of the Boer war, will arrive at Camp Gordon Sunday fresh from the trenches and hospitals of Belgium. It is said that he knows the philosophy of the boys who 'go over the top" into "No Man's Land" as no other man does except the veteran of the trenches who has survived the campaigns through blood-soaked Belgium and France down to the present hour. He is the man who put the double "E" in cheer for the sick and wounded and crippled soldiers of the allies, and for months has devoted his whole time to entertaining the soldiers of the European armies.

He comes to Camp Gordon to mingle with the boys, to talk to them, to entertain them with dramatic readings and humorous and pathetic stories from the firing lines in the great struggle.

Soldiers will not pay a penny to hear Ben Scovell—and it is safe to say he will see and get intimately in touch with thousands of them during his visit to the camp next week.

INVENTORIES OF STOCK IN TRADE

It is commonly expected that the accountant should be able to prove this class of assets as he does the cash. He can where complete systems of account are kept. It is difficult to ascertain values other than by taking the inventory. The accountant is rarely associated with the force in doing this. The best way is to have him take the inventory.

No. 126 South Forsyth Street
Lot 69x210---Price $200 a Foot

This land is just 100 feet from Trinity avenue; it runs back to an alley half way between Whitehall street and Forsyth street. The rear part of the lot is 81 feet wide, giving a total area of 15,690 square feet.

The price we quote is about 88 cents a square foot—a price out of all proportion for area so close to the center.

Is this lot cheap at $13,800? We think the back end of it, in rear of Kauffman's factory, is worth more than that.

Medical Advice on Blood Troubles Given Free by Expert Authority.

Costs Nothing for Opinion of Your Own Case.

Everyone recognizes the value of expert opinion. This is the age of specialism, and when we have work of importance to be done, we go to an expert in his line.

Years ago it was realized that medicine covered too broad a field for any one man to master its every branch. Hence, the doctor who specialized in some particular branch became the most proficient and the most successful.

The wonderful success of the great blood remedy, S. S. S., is due largely to the fact that it has not been recommended as a cure-all, but strictly for those diseases having their origin in a disordered condition of the blood. For more than half a century it has been used with highly satisfactory results for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, Tetter and other blood diseases.

Our medical director, who is an expert on blood and skin diseases, offers his services without cost to all who wish his aid. You are invited to write him fully about your own individual case, and he will gladly give you such directions for treatment as your case requires.

You can obtain S. S. S. at any drug store. Don't be persuaded to take a substitute. If you wish medical advice, address Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., 40-B Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)
